SAN BERNARDINO SITES IN MIND

Lyman M. King Tells Status of Institution Plans

City and County Locations Under Consideration

Early Decision on Placing Hospital and Prison

REDLANDS, July 14.—The sites offered by San Bernardino county for the new State hospital for mental cases and for the new prison for first offenses are still being considered, according to Lyman M. King of this city, State director of finance. He says the two institutions will be started before the end of the year.

There are still five sites under consideration for the new State reformatory and the one proposed by San Bernardino city and county, near Victorville, is one of the number. He stated that choice of the site, purchase of the land and start of construction of the initial buildings of the new penal institution are assured for the later summer or early fall.

RESEARCH COMPLETED

Surveys and research relative to the advantages of the five proposed State prison sites are completed, according to King, who states he is in close contact with the work of selection and purchase of the new property. All that remains to pave the way for actual purchase of the land and start of construction is a final meeting of the special commission created by the Legislature to handle these matters, states King.

This county's proposed site is in the old Fairfield tract, five miles southeast of Victorville, on the east side of the Mojave River. The chambers of commerce of this city and county have indorsed the site and it has been inspected and favorably commented upon by the commission authorized to start the prison project, as well as by the special committee named by the State Legislature to work with the commission and aid in selection of a suitable site.

HOSPITAL SOUGHT

Besides proffering a site for the junior felon prison, San Bernardino city and county are advancing their claim for recognition of a tract in Muscoy, northwest of San Bernardino, for establishment of the new State hospital that would supplement the facilities of Patton State Hospital and similar institutions. The Muscoy Farm Company has offered the site at the mouth of Cajon Canyon for location of the hospital, according to King.

Preliminary plans and specifications for the two new State institutions have been drafted and submitted to the respective committees in charge of the projects, King said.

He added that both projects will have their initial buildings well under construction when the year closes. Purchase by the State of a Kern county site for erection of a women's reformatory does not affect either the prison or hospital project sought for this county, King states.

Bill Atwood in Glider Flight Has Close Call

RIVERSIDE, July 14.—Bill Atwood, youthful resident who has won numerous trophies for his skill in building and sailing model airplanes, had a narrow escape from death at Lake Norconian yesterday afternoon, when his glider, the Flying Phantom, dived off a hillside onto the ground. He escaped, however, with only bruises and a shaking up.

The young flyer said today that it will be impossible to repair the ship, which fell nearly 100 feet when a down-draft sucked the right wing toward the ground after a side current had carried the plane completely around the hill from which the second trial flight was being made.

"It was just one of those things that can't be helped," young Atwood said this morning. "I never have noted liked conditions at that spot."

About 150 spectators witnessed the crash and were amazed when the pilot emerged unhurt except for a few minor bruises. The airplane was caught by the side wind as soon as it had been drawn into the air by the men pulling it forward from the take-off point. The sailing speed of the craft was not as great as the speed of the air currents circling the hill, and the glider was carried sidewise like a feather until the fatal down-draft was encountered.

The local glider builder is not discouraged, in spite of the destruction of the craft on which he had labored for several months. He hopes soon to construct another sailplane, which he will take to a more favorable location in the Owens Valley to conduct experimental flying.

Woman Routs Burglar; Calls Police on Phone

GLENDALE, July 14.—Disregarding a threat of death when confronted a burglar attempting to force his way into the home of Dr. R. C. Leggett, 2004 Wilson Terrace, Miss Lucille Leggett, a sister of Dr. Leggett, calmly reached for the telephone and summoned police headquarters. The burglar fled.

Miss Leggett was left alone in her brother's home when the latter went out on a late call last night and a few minutes after he had gone a faint rap fell on the door. Miss Leggett did not answer the knock, and she next heard the person at the outside attempting to open a window. She ran to the window and confronted a young man, well dressed, who told her that he had watched Dr. Leggett leave the house and who then threatened to shoot if she moved.

The robber is believed to have been seeking narcotics.

County Ranches Laid Waste and Other Sections Hit

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15. (Exclusive)—California's forest fire season, closed because of late heavy rains, roared into sudden activity today, chiefly laying Middletown, Lake county, in ashes, sweeping nine Lake county ranches and timbering to the extent of 5000 acres in Siskiyou, and laying waste 1500 acres in San Benito county and 3000 acres in the Bakersfield section.

Residences, fired by a grass and brush fire driven down upon it by a wind and by reinforcements of the blaze by scores of vacationists from neighboring summer resorts.

OIL TANKS PERILED

The successfully fought back the flames from the Standard Company's storage tanks near the west end of the town, but the $10,000 Presbyterian church and seven homes were destroyed at an estimated damage of $40,000. Among the rendered homeless are the families of James Reese, James Mahan, William Tocher and J. J. Hall.

The entire town dropped everything to fight the fire and the volunteer fire department threw itself into the breach.

Middletown was freed from the terror of the exhausted fire when it was impressed into service and, with flames sweeping pasture and brush lands two miles north of town, helped the Amador county fire, destroying the home of James Smith, forest ranger. It has been incendiary, the trial of Superior Judge Vicini of Napa, now sitting here in Judge Lewis' court, was among those present. Other ranches in the path of the fire were the Alpie and Hall ranches and the ranches belonging to Mrs. Elizabeth Kirkwood, Lyman pioneer; V. S. Garbarino, Rich, Mrs. Gertrude and Mrs. Forest and John Kinn.

The Hall Bros. lay had a $100,000 fire, considerably perilous by the explosion of thousands of rounds of rifle and pistol ammunition in the Hall Bros. Bay Company, owned by John Miramontes.

DYNAMITE REMOVED

Hundred pounds of dynamite were rushed from the store by fire fighters before the flames could reach it.

Amidst the fusillade of the exploding ammunition peppered the surrounding buildings, but none was hit.

Volunteers, using a four-mile fire line, conquered the 1500-acre blaze in southern San Benito county after fighting it all night.

Will Rogers Remarks:

SANTA MONICA, July 15. [To the Editor of The Times:] Been having a lot of trouble here lately getting some alfalfa to grow on my little patch of ground. One span of gray mules don't look as well as they ought to, according to what they are eating. I never missed a polo ball as much in my life as I did last Sunday. Seen a couple of mighty poor movies here lately. But soon as the market picks up you watch these mules go and this grass grow and pictures improve. I tell you it's the stock-market crash last fall that did it.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Record Attendance Hears Senator's Defense of Treaty

Robinson in Attack Says Agreement Repudiates American Navy

WASHINGTON, July 15. (AP)—Advocates of the London naval treaty closed their case before the Senate today with an exposition of the agreement by Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, one of the delegates, and tonight leaders are looking forward confidently to a final vote on the pact.

Next Tuesday has been tentatively suggested for a date to vote, but there were no understandings last night and the determined band of opponents was cracking away at the treaty with considerable ammunition in store. Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana, led the attack today in a speech of three hours.

The Reed speech was heard by the largest attendance during the special session. The opening roll call showed sixty members present. Others arrived later, virtually eliminating fears of treaty advocates that lack of a quorum might break up the session.

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, leader of the opposition, at the conclusion of Reed's address, demanded the text of the first American proposal submitted

"Young Pioneers" Movement Linked Directly to Soviet Chiefs

Communist Doctrines Spread in Sixty-three Cities by Organization

NEW YORK, July 15. (AP)—Evidence tending to show Communists have been seeking for several years to lay the groundwork for the overthrow of the American government by propagandizing school children in New York City and elsewhere in the country was laid today before a special House investigating committee.

A hearing developed that "Young Pioneers of America," encouraged by Moscow representatives, are operating in twenty-one States and sixty-three cities to spread the doctrine of modern Russia.

BEGUN IN 1928

All twelve witnesses are officials in New York public schools, and included Dr. William J. O'Shea, superintendent of schools. They testified an intensive campaign to inculcate into the minds of young pupils the teachings of Communism was instituted in the spring of 1928.

It was brought out activities are centered largely in three of the 810 public schools situated in Russian, Slav and Polish districts.

Edward R. Maguire, principal of Junior High School No. 61, in the Bronx, declared the "Young Pioneers of America" are receiving strong financial support, are taught Communist theories in secret schools and are intriguing boys and girls barely in their teens to join the organization.

FOES OF BOY SCOUTS

The group, he said, is seeking in every way to counteract the influence of the Boy Scouts of America.

Maguire said the Communist movement is "dangerous" because of its potentialities. With intelligent adults secretly directing the propagandising in teaching based on emotionalism, he said, the possibilities of spreading the doctrines are favorable.

Asserting the Communists urged pupils to refuse to attend school on May 1 in order to witness Red demonstrations, Alfred Rado, principal of School No. 89 in the Bronx, said adult Communists had interfered with pupils who did attend school on that date. Several were assaulted and their books taken from them, he said.

PAMPHLETS DISTRIBUTED

Rado added pamphlets and circulars advocating overthrow of the government, criticising the school system and making Socialistic demands, were distributed among pupils.

Aaron I. Dotey, in charge of discipline at the De Witt Clinton School, said the "Young Pioneers of America" are directly connected through other organizations with the Third International at Moscow. He said in a nation-wide survey he found the young Communists operating in twenty-one States and sixty-three cities.

The witness charged wealthy women are contributing to the "cause" and named a Mrs. Glendower Evans of Massachusetts and a Mrs. K. C. Gratz of California as two of them.

AIR FUELING HOP BEGUN

"K" Plane Off to Buenos Aires

Trip from New York by Way of Peru Will Cover 9000 Miles

(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

VALLEY STREAM (N. Y.) July 15. (Exclusive)—Contacting successfully with her nurse ship for the fourth time in three hours, the "K" of New Haven, Wasp-motored Stinson monoplane, shortly after 8 o'clock tonight began the greatest adventure in refueled flight the world has yet seen—a nonstop flight of 9000 miles from New York to Buenos Aires.

The Robin and the Stinson made four successful fuel contacts, a total of more than 400 gallons of gasoline being transferred to the endurance ship in the process. As the "K" carried about 250 gallons of fuel at the take-off the backers of the flight said that she would be able to continue to Panama after only one or two contacts over Havana—the next refueling point—if weather conditions there are not ideal for this ticklish aerial operation.

LITTLE GAS LOST

Only a small amount of fuel was lost in the transfer, which was considered remarkable in view of the fact that the "K" had made not a single practice refueling contact before starting her flight.

Peed, Enslow and Garrigan started their venture as thoroughly prepared as possible for whatever might befall them. The plane's radio set was expected to keep her in constant touch with some ground station if all went well so that her position will be known at all times.

Against the possibility of being forced down the three flyers carried fishing tackle and bait for both salt and fresh-water fish, revolvers and machetes for use if they should come down in a jungle, quinine to ward off malaria, potassium permanganate for use in the event of snake bite, fifty feet of braided silk Alpine climber's rope and extra radio tubes and other similar equipment.

In addition they had three vacuum bottles of water, two of coffee and one of orange juice, as well as a dozen sandwiches and three army emergency ration outfits good for two weeks. Fresh food supplies are to be taken aboard at each of the refueling stops, which include Havana, France Field, Panama; Lima, Peru, and Mendoza on the Brazilian side of the Andes, which the "K" expects to cross from Santiago after following down the west coast of South America.

NEXT POINT HAVANA

The next fueling point will be over Havana. The "K" will be refueled subsequently over Panama, Lima and Mendoza. The three flyers confidently expected to reach Havana within twenty hours. The whole flight is expected to take four days or as near to 120 hours as possible.

Friends and relatives flocked around to bid the young men goodby as the motors roared in the tuning-up process at Roosevelt Field. Enslow's wife, Dorothy, who had come from their home in Hempstead, Long Island, with her husband's father, kissed the young pilot good-by at the side of the plane and his father shook hands. In a minute or two the plane was racing along the ground and then glided into the air.

Philadelphia Falls Short of 2,000,000 Mark With Population for 1930 of 1,961,458

PHILADELPHIA, July 15. (Exclusive)—Philadelphia, last of the large cities to complete its census, reported its 1930 population today as 1,961,458. This is an increase over 1920 of only 137,679, or 7.54 per cent. Philadelphians had been confident the city would surpass the 2,000,000 mark. The Federal Census Bureau had estimated the city's population at 2,064,200.

It was pointed out that if no greater growth is shown in the next decade, Philadelphia will find itself passed by both Los Angeles and Detroit, assuming the latter cities continue to grow at anything near the rate they have established in the last two decades.

Growth of suburbs at the expense of Philadelphia proper is the most readily available explanation vouchsafed by civic leaders.

POPULATION LEAD HELD BY NEW YORK STATE

ALBANY, July 15. (AP)—New York State maintains its position as numerically the largest of the States in the United States, with a population of 12,809,585, according to a compilation by the Associated Press of the county totals announced by the various district supervisors of the 1930 Federal census. This is an increase of 2,224,328, or 21.4 per cent over the 1920 total of 10,385,227.

New York City, with a population of 6,958,792, has more than half the inhabitants of the State. The population of the State outside New York City is 5,650,763, an increase of 885,584 over the 1920 total of 4,765,179, or a gain of 18.6 per cent.

MISSOURI'S POPULATION TALLIED AT 3,619,176

ST. LOUIS, July 15. (AP)—The 1930 population of Missouri is 3,619,176, an increase of 215,121, or 6.3 per cent, since 1920, tabulation by the Associated Press showed today. This is the largest gain in three decades.

For the first time in the State's history more than half of the population is urban rather than rural, with 1,849,168, or 51.1 per cent in seventy-one cities and towns of more than 2500.

SEARCHERS FOR GRAHAM FIND TRAIL

Articles Picked Up Seem to Have Been Dropped by Flyer After Crash

CEDAR CITY (Utah) July 15. (AP) Maj. R. N. McDonald and Sheriff Leigh of Iron county, leaders in the search for Maurice Graham, missing air-mail pilot, announced tonight they believe they have discovered definite clews as to the directory taken by the Western Air Express pilot after his plane crashed in the Kanarra Mountains, south of here.

Maj. McDonald and Sheriff Leigh joined the party of searchers today and while scouring the country south of the scene of the wreck came upon numerous articles believed to have been left by the pilot while he was traveling through the deep snow after the crash last January.

They found the remains of a camp fire, a tomato can which they believe contained a variety of tomatoes carried by the pilot and three revolver cartridges of a caliber believed to have been used in Graham's weapon.

During the day a rumor developed that Maj. McDonald had sent a plane to the Colorado River near the Boulder Dam site to check upon a report that an unidentified man who had lost his memory and was unable to remember his name had been living in a shack for the last four months.

This proved to be unfounded.

FLINT QUIZ GOES DEEP

Motives Traced in Killing

Keaton Quickly Indicted and Allowed Till Tomorrow for Entry of Plea

Evidence Declared Found to Show Premeditation of Financier's Slaying

The wheels of justice moved swiftly yesterday in the case of Frank D. Keaton, who, Monday morning, shot to death Motley H. Flint in Superior Judge Collier's courtroom.

Highlights of the day were:

(1.) The grand jury returned a murder indictment against Keaton after hearing only three witnesses.

(2.) The slayer was arraigned before Superior Judge McComb on the murder charge and was allowed until tomorrow to enter his plea.

(3.) A Coroner's jury that heard the testimony of eye-witnesses to the shooting returned a verdict that Keaton shot Flint with homicidal intent. Keaton refused to testify at the inquest.

(4.) The police continued to gather further evidence against the slayer. They obtained a statement from one man that they assert will go far toward destroying Keaton's assertions that he did not premeditate the murder.

(5.) Relatives of the deceased financier arranged for his burial this afternoon in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

GRAND JURY ACTS

The grand jury wasted but little time in returning its indictment. The investigation was conducted at the same time that the Coroner's inquest was in progress and three witnesses were hurried from the inquest rooms to the grand jury rooms. The indictment was returned before Superior Judge McComb shortly before noon.

Keaton was arraigned shortly before 4 p.m. before Judge McComb. At his request the court ordered that he be represented by the public defender as he had no other counsel. The accused man told the court that he was not ready to enter his plea until he had talked to an attorney and Judge McComb then set the matter over until tomorrow.

SEEN AT TRIALS

While the grand jury and the Coroner were busy, Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart, who took personal charge of the case, announced he had been informed that an attorney of high standing, who represented one of the defendants in the recent Julian usury trials, had recognized Keaton as a man he had often seen in Superior Judge Aggeler's court while the usury cases were in progress there.

The chief deputy District Attorney regarded the information of considerable value and at once dispatched investigators to take a statement from the attorney. The prosecutor declared that such testimony will go far to establish a theory that Keaton was motivated by hatred engendered by reading inflammatory literature directed against defendants in the Julian cases, such as Flint.

HAUNTED COURTROOM

Further corroboration of this theory came from another source also. Keaton haunted the long-drawn-out trial of the Julian stockholders' $12,000,000 recovery action against the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and a group of local brokers, it was declared yesterday by Superior Judge Tappaan, before whom the civil case is still pending.

"I am sure it was the same man," said Judge Tappaan. "He was here nine-tenths of the time during the trial of the civil suit of Loeb versus Berman, which was in my court four months. He showed great interest in the case and spoke frequently to S. C. Lewis. At one time he offered a batch of Julian literature, including a map, to the court clerk, George Monroe.

TALKED TO JUDGE

"The man talked to everyone in the courtroom, including me. I could not help noticing him, and at the time I was not impressed that he was a mental case.'

It was learned yesterday that

WASHINGTON, July 15. (AP)—Maj.-Gen. Smedley Butler was strongly indorsed to President Hoover today for appointment as commandant of the Marine Corps succeeding Gen. Neville, who died last week.

Senators Reed of Pennsylvania and Hatfield of West Virginia, both Republicans, urged that Gen. Butler be selected. They were seconded by Judge McDevitt of Philadelphia and Lemuel B. Schofield, Director of Public Safety of Philadelphia.

Gen. Butler is a Pennsylvanian by birth and had a spectacular career as Director of Public Safety in Philadelphia while on leave from the Marine Corps.

YOUNG FLYER NEAR DEATH

Frank Goldsborough Rescued After Lying All Night in Plane Wreckage With Fractured Skull

BENNINGTON (Vt.) July 15. (AP)—The aviation jinx which hurled his father to death in the barren wastes of the North Atlantic hovered tonight over the unconscious form of Frank Goldsborough, 19-year-old aviator, whose plane crashed into the wild mountainside east of here yesterday.

The youthful aviator, holder of the junior transcontinental flying record, is in a critical condition at Putnam Memorial Hospital suffering from a fractured skull. An all-night search was conducted for him and his plane, which now lies in shreds at the side of Woodford Mountain.

CRASHES IN FOG

The ill fortune which pursued his father, Brice Goldsborough, one of the parties in Mrs. Frances Grayson's The Dawn, lost in 1927 on an attempted trans-Atlantic flight, trailed young Frank yesterday from Buffalo, N. Y. The plane, which was en route to Keene, N. H., with Donald Mockler, lecturer, as a passenger, hurled itself to destruction in a fog-bound forest.

Young Goldsborough lay unconscious amid the wreckage until 6 o'clock this morning, when searching parties, after a fruitless all-night combing of the wilderness, came upon the wrecked plane and its victim. Mockler, who was thrown clear of the wreckage, brought news of the accident to a farm house near here. He had struggled in vain to pull his companion from the plane and then wandered through thick underbrush for hours before he found help.

HOPE SLIGHT

Leonard Lawrence and a party of five men found Goldsborough lying beside his plane.

Two coats taken from the backs of his rescuers served as a stretcher on which the injured flyer was carried for two miles to a waiting ambulance. Then a slow, cautious trip was made to the hospital. A surgeon found the youth suffering from a fractured skull. This, with the long period of exposure and lack of treatment, make his condition most critical. As the day wore on there apparently was no improvement.

Grand Jury Hears Three Witnesses on Slaying

Defendant Declared Seen at Julian Trials

Jack Bennett, who appeared as a witness in the case, was in terror of being shot on the witness stand. Judge Tappaan reassured him by sitting leaning over the witness stand while Bennett was on it, so that any person contemplating shooting would have to risk hitting the judge as well.

The man identified by Judge Tappaan as Keaton told court officials he had lost money in the Julian stock crash, and also had lost a job with a tire factory.

Another link in the chain of evidence was provided to the police yesterday by Max Herman of 6126 Olden Alder street.

Herman volunteered the information to Detective Lieutenant Condaffer that he had met Keaton at the stock exchange at odd times during the last two years, when he visited the place to invest various small sums of money in stocks. Keaton, he said, had always stopped to speak to him cordially.

KEATON AT EXCHANGE

At about 8:45 a.m. Monday, he said, he passed Keaton at the exchange and the real estate man failed to acknowledge his nod of salutation. A few minutes later he came face to face with him and they stopped to converse briefly. Keaton, Herman stated, looked worried.

"He said he was not feeling very well," Herman declared. "Then he asked me if I was still on the jury in Sheldon's court. I told him I was through. I went on to ask him about business and so on, as we often talked at length about such things when we met, but he did not seem to hear me.

"Suddenly he seemed to decide upon something and said he was going up there to see if he could get on a jury. Then he walked away. For a moment I thought he had acted strangely, and then I forgot about the incident until I read the papers last night."

Witnesses at the inquest yesterday morning included Henry S. MacKay, Jr., relative of the deceased, who identified the body; Superior Judge Collier, eyewitness of the shooting; Louis J. Selznick, who, with his wife, sat directly in front of Keaton in the courtroom when the shooting took place; W. R. Fisher, clerk of Judge Collier's court, and Arnold E. Anderson, court reporter in the same department.

On the opening of the inquest, presided over by Coroner Nance, Keaton—a drab and colorless figure—sat beside Detective Lieutenant Romero, his head bowed and supported by his hands, apparently oblivious to the proceedings.

Coroner Nance directed Keaton to stand up. He seemed not to hear. Romero shook him lightly, and he shuffled to his feet, his head still bowed.

"Have you anything to say?" the Coroner inquired.

NOTHING TO SAY

"I have not," Keaton replied, his voice almost inaudible. Then he shut his eyes, dropped in a chair and remained immobile.

"You do not wish to incriminate yourself?" Nance asked him.

"I just haven't anything to say," he mumbled.

Mr. MacKay, Jr., went to the stand first for purposes of identification of the body. He said also that he had never known Mr. Flint to have received any threats.

Judge Collier followed him and gave a vivid word picture of the tragedy that was enacted in his courtroom.

The jurist said he was examining some exhibits in the lawsuit at trial, immediately after the excusal of Mr. Flint from the stand, and was alarmed by the first report of the gun, which he did not recognize as a shot.

ARREST ORDERED

"As I looked up I saw Mr. Flint wilting, and falling to the floor. This man—Keaton—was standing dumbly before him. A second later he fired two more shots into the body, and then threw his gun at the victim. I rushed down from the bench and seized Keaton, who had dropped into a spectator's chair and began mumbling as if in prayer. Then I ordered his arrest."

Selznick testified that he had seen Keaton sitting in the courtroom, and wondered at his intense interest in the case and his inquiries as to which man was Mr. Flint.

"Mr. Flint came down from the witness stand and had stopped to speak to me and my wife. He had only smiled and started to speak when I heard the explosion right behind us. Mr. Flint gasped and started falling backward. I leaned over to protect my wife. Then there were two more shots, and Keaton sat down and began moaning," Selznick said.

"SOMETHING" HEARD

In first questioning as to why the murder was committed and Mr. Flint chosen as the victim Keaton referred indefinitely to "something I had heard in Mr. Flint's bank" and "something" he was told in the trust department of the bank by an employee.

W. R. Hervey, trust officer in the former Flint institution, said he had never heard of Keaton until the day of the murder, and Mr. Hervey said he believes Keaton never heard anything detrimental to Mr. Flint in any of the bank's departments.

Keaton also mentioned the name of W. T. S. Hammond, a former officer in the bank, saying that Mr. Hammond had befriended him and given him good advice in financial transactions. Mr. Hammond said that he does not recall Keaton at all, and while he may have done business with him eight years ago, before retirement, he does not now recognize him.

FUNERAL RITES PRIVATE

Private funeral services for Flint will be conducted this afternoon in the chapel of Turner and Stevens Company, Marengo avenue and Holly street, Pasadena.

The services will be conducted by Dr. James Leishman, associate pastor of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church. Mrs. C. Norman Hasler will sing.

The pallbearers will be Judge William Rhodes Hervey, C. W. Stringfellow, W. H. Harrison, W. P. Jeffries, Bernal H. Dyas, H. A. Bell, Abdull Naljan and John Warner.

The burial services, which also will be private, will be conducted at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale, where the body of Mr. Flint's brother, the late Senator Frank P. Flint, is entombed.

Arrangements for the services were made today by Mr. Flint's nephew and niece, William R. Flint and Mrs. H. S. MacKay, Jr., who reside in Flintridge. Motley Flint also had lived there, but since his return from Europe a few months ago he had been living in Los Angeles.

Flint left a will disposing of his property, it was learned yesterday, and it rests with the Security-First National Bank. The bank is expected to begin an action in Probate Court within a few days looking toward its appointment as executor. Terms of the will, it was said, will not become public until it is filed for probate.

SHULER TRACT IN EVIDENCE

Prosecutor Holds "Julian Thieves" Booklet as Exhibit in Connection With Flint Slaying

"Julian Thieves," a semipolitical pamphlet, written by Rev. R. P. Shuler, was officially recognized by the District Attorney's office yesterday as evidence in the case of Frank D. Keaton, slayer of Motley Flint.

The booklet was ordered held with selection of those men whose names the other exhibits in the case by Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart late yesterday after he had taken a written statement from police officers who searched and questioned Keaton immediately after the shooting Monday morning.

"The pamphlet will be held as evidence for whatever weight it may have," stated Stewart.

The chief deputy District Attorney questioned the various officers in the case yesterday after he declared he had not been shown the pamphlet, nor been told of its existence, when he questioned Keaton himself at Central Police Station shortly after the murder.

OFFICERS QUIZZED

Among those whose written statements Stewart took yesterday were Inspector of Police Davidson and Detective Lieutenant Filkas. The latter Monday afternoon declared that the pamphlet was found on Keaton's person when he was searched in the homicide squad room at the police station shortly after the shooting.

Under questioning by Stewart yesterday Filkas said that the actual searching of the slayer was done in his presence by Detective Lieutenant Romero. As Romero took the various articles from Keaton's pockets, he said, he placed them on a nearby desk in a heap. Detective Lieutenant Kynette, who was also present during the searching, said that he examined this pile of exhibits and picked up the pamphlet from among them and later gave it to Davidson, who instructed Filkas to hold it with the other evidence in the case.

Romero, in his statement, asserted that he took many articles from Keaton's pockets, but as he was afraid that the slayer might have poison about him to take his own life, he hurried his examination and could not say definitely whether he did or did not take the booklet from Keaton's person. At the Coroner's inquest earlier in the day Romero testified that he remembered something in the nature of a booklet but did not stop to read it.

TAYLOR RECALLS IT

Chief of Detectives Taylor, who also made a statement to Stewart, said he believed he recalled a pamphlet among the other exhibits when Keaton was later being questioned, but Chief of Investigators Matthews and Investigator Wynn corroborated Stewart's opinion that the pamphlet was not among the exhibits when Keaton was questioned by the chief deputy.

The pamphlet written by Shuler contains several references to Motley Flint, painting him as a close associate of S. C. Lewis and Jacob Berman, central figures in the Julian crash.

The existence of a pamphlet in the Keaton case has been the topic of considerable comment since the fact was learned. In a radio address Monday night City Prosecutor Nix declared that "this is the time when our sympathies should turn to Mr. Shuler."

NIX STATEMENT

In commenting further, Nix said: "I think I have made it clear that there should be no hasty action or judgment upon Mr. Shuler and what Mr. Shuler represents. But I do think that every precaution should be devised for the protection of those who are exposed to such recklessness some measure should be taken that will halt further activities which tend to inflame the public mind unnecessarily. It is a well-known axiom of psychology that such incidents are contagious. When there are murders of a peculiar character others frequently follow. And some types of minds are easily stirred to blind, unconsidered action; particularly in these times of political strife and industrial depression.

"When public passions are wrought upon to such a pitch that men of weak minds go out and hunt public figures in the courtrooms to shoot them down, it is high time to call a halt."

SHULER'S REPLY

Twenty minutes of Shuler's hour broadcast last night was devoted to answering the address of Nix.

The minister defied anyone to read the pamphlet and find therein one thing that would incite anyone to take the law into his own hands, and indicated from his remarks that he was not at all disturbed that the booklet was held as evidence in the Flint slaying case.

As a postlude to his talk Shuler spoke of the investigation now under way at the District Attorney's office in reference to the booklet. "I want to say that I am not remotely interested in whether the book was there or not," he said, and followed with an exhortation that everyone get a copy of the pamphlet and read it.

The pamphlet was described by Shuler as entitled "Julian Thieves in Politics," which is not the pamphlet held as evidence.

The pamphlet held is entitled "Julian Thieves." Both are products of the minister's pen.

Another person who evinced an unusual interest in Keaton was Police Commissioner Thorpe, who took occasion to visit the slayer in the City Jail not long after the murder. Thorpe denied that he asked Keaton any questions about the Shuler pamphlet, but said his visit was motivated by an interest in criminology, and that such interviews help him make radio talks. He declared that his visit with Keaton was just a "general chat."

Keaton's statements on possession of the Shuler pamphlet proved conflicting yesterday. When interviewed in jail he said he had never owned one of the "Julian Thieves" and had never read the booklet.

Shortly after his arrest he admitted to one of the investigating officers that he had read the pamphlet, and that the one found in his pocket was his.

Refreshed from a bath at the jail Keaton admitted he had listened to Shuler talk over the radio. "I have heard Shuler talk over the radio, but I turned him off about as many times as I listened. I have been here twenty-seven years and I know something about the Shuler talks. Part of the time he is right, but the majority of the time he is wrong," he said.

"I have never read the pamphlet, never owned one. I have heard about it and seen it for sale on the news stands, but wasn't interested enough in it to buy one," Keaton said.

MICE AID MEN IN CANCER WAR

British Council Experiments With Rodents

Scarcely Suspected Causes of Disease Found

Use of Radium Urged to Cut Down Death Rate

LONDON, July 15. (AP)—The lowly mouse has become an instrument in aid of human health.

The annual report of the grand council of the British Empire Cancer Campaign published today says an experimental method by which mice may be subjected to cancer of the skin and heart has made available a mass of new material for cancer researches.

Some causes of the disease which formerly were scarcely suspected are said to have been discovered, through experiments on small rodents. Among other experiments the backs of the mice have been painted with tobacco tar to ascertain whether smoking causes malignant tumors of the mouth, but no case of malignant tumor has resulted.

The report says the death rate from the disease would be substantially reduced if people took full advantage of radium treatments.

The report revealed use of wartime mustard gas is combating the disease. It was stated "the induction of tumors is inhibited when mustard gas is applied to an area of skin which is being subjected to painting with tar."

The report also said "mustard gas seems to be the first true anticarcinaganic agent ever discovered." Action of the gas was explained as being localized to the particular area under treatment and its cure to be strictly limited in time, "but none the less on that account a remarkable cure."

REED DEFENDS NAVAL TREATY

to London. Reed promptly submitted it.

This proposal, which was made public during the London conference and discussed before the Foreign Relations Committee by Secretary Stimson, embodied the demand of the American delegation for a new warship. Stimson said this was urged as a "trading point."

Once more Johnson and Reed clashed over the papers relating to the London conference, which President Hoover has declined to give the Senate. Reed again volunteered to show them in confidence to the Californian and the latter replied he did not understand "any one who would accept such an offer or the temperamental make-up of any Senator who would make such an offer."

Johnson asked Reed if Japan did not reserve the right to abandon the 5-3 ratio after 1935. Reed replied she did and the United States, in turn, reserved the right to insist upon that ratio or even a lower one.

OTHER RESERVATIONS

Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, a foe of the treaty, is ready to submit two reservations—one insisting upon freedom of the seas in war as well as in peace. The other would call for removal by Great Britain of her naval bases near the American continent.

While treaty proponents have agreed to accept the modified reservation of Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, providing that no secret agreement of understanding shall be ratified in approval of the pact, they have laid down a ban against other reservations and no hope is held for them.

Senator Reed told the Senate that when the London parley opened the American fleet was in an "almost hopeless position of inferiority" in auxiliary ships to Great Britain and Japan. He said the British had a ratio of 4 to 1 against this country in cruisers and Japan had 2 to 1 for America.

"For the first time in history," he concluded, "all categories of ships will be limited. I believe the ratification of this treaty will work for the peace and happiness of all the peoples in the countries involved."

Reed paid tribute to the American naval officers who have disagreed over the treaty terms.

ROBINSON ATTACKS

Senator Robinson, Indiana, in his lengthy attack upon the treaty, asserted "the American Navy has been repudiated and those brave, gallant officers in it are slurred for daring to stand up for the American flag on the seven seas."

He reviewed the unsuccessful Geneva naval conference of 1927 and said, "Rather than surrender to Great Britain, jeopardize the American people and handicap the American Navy, that conference broke up with the American delegation saying 'we will not surrender just for the purpose of getting a treaty.'

"They were backed by President Coolidge and came home, not with a treaty, but, thank God, amid the plaudits of the American people," he said.

Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, finished the six hours of debate for the opposition.

SOUTHERNERS NAMED ON CHURCH COUNCIL

PHILADELPHIA, July 15. (AP)—Announcement was made today that Dr. Joseph M. Broady of Birmingham, Ala., has been appointed a member of the general council of the Presbyterian church in the United States, filling the vacancy created by the retirement of Dr. Samuel T. Wilson of Marysville, Tenn., who will be abroad a year.

RECEIVER GIVEN SAUNDERS CHAIN

Coast Concern Declared in Sound Condition

MEMPHIS, July 15. (AP)—Clarence Saunders, once a child of poverty and later a man of millions, sat smiling in a courtroom today and heard a Federal judge place the Clarence Saunders Stores, Inc., operating unit for 150 of his self-serve groceries, in the hands of a receiver after Saunders had said the company is insolvent.

The gray-haired man who, as an 11-year-old boy started as a country store clerk at 25 cents a week, said he will go to California to direct the Clarence Saunders Pacific Corporation, operating stores in Oakland and Los Angeles.

OTHER CHAINS SOUND

He declared this and another concern, the Clarence Saunders Corporation, which leases rights to operate stores under his name, still are in a sound condition.

The receivership was granted by Judge Harry B. Anderson at the request of three creditors with claims of $2963, and against insistent requests for delay by counsel for Myrtle, Rawls & Donaldson, New York bankers, who lent $500,000 to the Clarence Saunders Stores, Inc. The loans come due this month and in August, and were blamed for the present difficulty.

LOANS FOR EXPANSION

Walter Armstrong, attorney for the bankers, said his clients feared Saunders could claim he no longer was personally responsible, since someone else had caused the receivership. Armstrong said the loans were for expansion purposes, and Saunders might contend expansion no longer is possible.

The Clarence Saunders Stores, Inc., operates stores in the South, Missouri and Texas. Saunders has said it is distinct from his other chains.

FIRES SWEEP NORTH AREAS

according to press reports from Hollister.

One hundred rangers and ranchers won their fight in the Tehachapi section after 3000 acres had been laid waste, the Associated Press reported from Bakersfield.

WALLACE, IDAHO, IN PATH OF SPREADING FLAMES

KELLOGG (Idaho) July 15. (AP)—A fire that consumed a block of houses in the town of Wardner late this afternoon and spread to the forest early this evening, was heading for Wallace on a half-mile front.

Already it has gone over the top of Wardner Mountain, a mile and a half distant. State fire marshals assumed charge and gathered a large force of fire-fighters who were attempting to halt the advance of the flames before they could reach the Sunshine mine, four miles distant. They expressed confidence they could accomplish that object.

The blaze is in a heavily timbered region, now dry as tinder.

Five houses were destroyed in Wardner, including an apartment-house, at a loss estimated by fire marshals at about $15,000.

OREGON FOREST FIRES FINALLY CONTROLLED

BEND (Or.) July 15. (AP)—First definite progress was made today toward control of the fires in the Cascade and Deschutes forests west of Bend, which since Friday had burned over 5000 acres of private and government timber lands on an eighteen-mile front. Aided by improved weather conditions and a turn of the wind, the 700 weary men engaged in battling the fire were reported by the forest rangers to have halted further spread of the flames. A system of trenching and back-firing brought the fires practically under control, although in many places the flames were still burning fiercely within the areas already burned over.

The largest fire, on the Shevlin-Hixon Lumber Company holdings, was under control and fire fighters were concerned only in preventing its spread, content to let it burn itself out. Another fire covering 1000 acres near Dugout Lake and a smaller one near Davis Lake were said to have been confined largely to Alpine timber and dense underbrush.

Valuable yellow pine in the fire area is believed to have suffered less than had been feared. Forestry officials were unable today to estimate damage.

RANGER INVESTIGATES BLAZE NEAR JACKSON

STOCKTON, July 15. (AP)—A fire, believed to be of incendiary origin, has spread over an area of 5000 acres of land near Jackson and is burning furiously, according to reports here. James Smith, forest ranger, is at the scene investigating information given him by farmers to the effect that the fire started in several places.

NATIONAL FOREST AREA CLOSED TO VISITORS

OLYMPIA (Wash.) July 15. (AP)—Because of the growing fire hazard, State Supervisor of Forestry George C. Joy closed certain sections of the Olympic and Mount Baker National Forest today to entry at the request of the Federal Forest Service.

HOOVER CUTS WESTERN TRIP

President Not Expected to Visit Pacific Coast

Vacation Will be Confined to Northern Rockies

Ban on Public Appearances and Speeches Strict

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 15. (Exclusive)—President Hoover's plans for a western trip this summer have been curtailed due to the special Senate session but, according to official announcement at the White House today, he still expects to be able to spend at least two weeks in the northern Rockies late in August or early in September.

A strict ban has been placed on public appearances and speeches during the trip. Mr. Hoover does not intend to become embroiled in any local or State political campaigns. His purpose will be purely to seek rest and recreation in the out-of-doors. He wants to make the vacation trip as informal and unofficial as possible, and hopes that invitations which would interfere with such a program will not be pressed.

TEXT OF STATEMENT

The statement given out at the White House on behalf of the President follows:

"On May 9 press representatives were told that the President hoped to take a month's holiday in the western national parks beginning August 1. At that time it was anticipated that the work of Congress would be completed at a much earlier date than has now eventuated.

"The President will require some time in Washington to complete important matters after the adjournment of the present session. He expects, however, to be able to spend at least two weeks in the northern Rockies late in August or early September, solely for purposes of an outdoor holiday and rest.

"The President has received a very great number of cordial invitations to make public appearances and addresses in various cities en route. The curtailment of the period when he may be away from Washington and the very nature of taking a holiday rest will preclude acceptance of these invitations and he believes they will not be pressed."

PROBABLE ITINERARY

Although no announcement has been made, the understanding now is that President Hoover will not extend his western trip to include visits to California or either of the other two Pacific Coast States. The present plans are believed to embrace an itinerary by rail as far as Glacier National Park in Northern Montana and then a motor tour through the park and south through Yellowstone and other national parks in the inner tier of western States. There are reports the trip will wind up with participation by the President in celebration of the anniversary of the Gadsden purchase.

Mr. Hoover still has in mind a trip to the West Indies, probably to be made in October, and a visit at the same time to Mexico to return the recent friendly call of President Ortiz Rubio. He has accepted the invitations to address the annual convention of the American Legion at Boston on October 3 and to attend a patriotic celebration in Gloucester, Mass., on the same trip.

Unions Enjoined in Theater War

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15. (Exclusive)—A temporary injunction restraining the Musicians' union and allied organizations from picketing the Alhambra, Castro and Royal theaters was granted today by Superior Judge Vicini of Jackson, sitting here in extra sessions.

The defendants are also enjoined from standing in the doorways, lobbies and approaches to the theaters, or interferring with or intimidating employes until the $300,000 damage suit of Nasser Brothers against the defendants is heard.

McNARY ASKS TARIFF INQUIRY ON TIMBER

WASHINGTON, July 15. (AP)—A resolution asking a Tariff Commission investigation of the differences in cost of production here and abroad of lumber and timber of fir, spruce, pine, hemlock and larch was introduced today by Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon. A new tariff act places a duty of $1 a thousand board feet on these soft woods, but exempts Canadian and Mexican lumber if these countries permit the same to be exported to them free.

Eight Europeans Reported Among Victims

Debris Litters Square in Alexandria

ALEXANDRIA (Egypt) July 15. (AP)—At least fourteen persons were killed and probably 250 injured in riots which accompanied a general strike here today called in sympathy with victims of recent political disorders at Mansourah and Bilbeis.

Authorities tonight were attempting to clear up the casualty list. One report said eight Europeans had been killed, one of them an Italian.

Mahomet Ali Square, picturesque center of the city, tonight was walled by shops in which scarcely a window remained unbroken, while debris of various kinds indicated the violence of the day's battle.

The disorders, which grew out of a visit to Mansourah a week ago by former Premier Nahas Pasha, whose Wafd followers are campaigning against King Fuad's government, lasted many hours.

"I wish every person.. past 40 could hear this story"

...said this eminent doctor

He warns of a prevalent after 40 ailment that 6 out of 10 are afflicted with. Many unknowingly.

SIX out of ten men and women past 40 have a kidney ailment in some form. Many without knowledge, for kidney breakdown gives no warning signals.

Extensive research by medical science has brought to light the cause: 75% of poisonous waste from the system is excreted by kidneys, much in too concentrated form. Overburdened, delicate kidney cells break down. Poisons which should be eliminated are thus harbored and turned back into the system. "Self-poisoning" thus becomes the forerunner of many serious ills.

What Physicians Advise

To correct and prevent kidney breakdown, doctors now advise six glasses of Puritas mineral-free water each day. It acts to dilute poisonous waste, dissolves and washes it away, lightening the load of kidneys. Mineral-free, it leaves no deposits to add further to congestion. Thus worn kidneys have a chance to repair. Proper functioning of normal kidneys is constantly protected.

Thus Puritas becomes one of the greatest aids of medical science in combating the prevalent "After 40 ailment." Scientifically distilled and aerated, all minerals and impurities are removed. (Sufficient minerals are furnished in fruits and vegetables). Puritas is water in its purest state. You will find its taste different at first, and each drink you'll increasingly enjoy.

Order Puritas Today

Phone WEstmore 0381 and Puritas will be delivered immediately anywhere in Southern California. A Puritas iceless cooler furnished free. For health protection, before and after 40, order Puritas today.

BANDITS SHOOT UP TOWN

Robbers Wound Two Women in Machine-gun Fire and Get $50,000 from Minnesota Bank

WILLMAR (Minn.) July 15. (AP)—Five machine-gun bandits, moving swiftly in a well-planned raid, descended on the Bank of Willmar today, shot up the town in a fashion reminiscent of the James gang, wounded two women; one probably fatally, and escaped with $50,000 after exchanging shots with citizens.

Although it was estimated more than 100 shots were fired by the bandits the only casualties were the two women—mother and daughter—who were shot down in the final burst of firing as the robbers sped out of town. Windshields in several automobiles were shot out and windows shattered in buildings adjacent to the bank.

Despite the close watch kept on roads, no trace of the bandits had been found tonight. They fled southward and none of the citizenry attempted pursuit, although several aped their departure with shotgun and revolver fire. The driver of the bandit car apparently was wounded in the exchange and was dragged from behind the wheel.

Physicians held little hope for recovery of one victim, Mrs. Emil Johnson, who was shot through the arm and in the chest as she walked along the sidewalk with her daughter, Mrs. Donald Gildia. Mrs. Gildia also was shot, but the bullet wound in her leg is not considered serious.

Only eight minutes were occupied by three bandits in gathering up $37,000 in cash and $13,000 in negotiable bonds after intimidating twenty-five employees and customers in the bank while two others with machine guns held a crowd of more than 100 at bay outside.

While the three gunmen in the bank hurriedly rifled cash drawers and the vault, their companions on the outside kept the crowd cowed by an occasional burst from their weapons. Sam Evans, an oil-station employee, tried to snipe one of the machine gunners from behind a penny scale. It was believed to have been his shot which struck the driver as the robbers were preparing to depart.

In making their exit from the bank building the three used George Robbins, vice-president, and Miss Mary Walker, a customer, as shields from possible attack by the crowd which had gathered at the alarm.

MOSLEM-HINDU RIOTING GROWS

More Than 150 Square Miles of Area Affected

Troops and Police Rushed to Larger Centers

Four Killed and Two Hurt at Mymensingh

LONDON, July 15. (AP)—Calcutta dispatches to the Daily Mail today reported rioting between Moslems and Hindus in Eastern Bengal has assumed a serious aspect over an area of more than 150 square miles. Troops and police are being rushed to Mymensingh and to Kishorganj.

Four persons were killed and two wounded during rioting yesterday at Mymensingh, and frantic appeals for help have been received from Kishorganj, forty miles from the former city. Every available sold'er in the district is being sent there. A total force at Kishorganj is said to be a mere handful.

According to the Mail's Calcutta correspondent, the outbreak of rioting was premeditated and well organised.

MOB SURROUNDS HOUSE

It started last Friday at Kishorganj. A huge mob of Moslems surrounded the house of a Hindu money lender, demanding the release of a peasant's bond worth about $100 and offering about $35 in payment.

The money lender refused, and the mob then plundered and burned his house, severely beating its occupants. Two other Hindu moneylenders were treated in a similar fashion.

Other parties of Moslems hastened to adjoining villages, stirring up their coreligionists, and riot and arson became general in the district.

Mobs went pillaging from house to house, committing outrages on Hindu owners, men, women and children alike.

Krashna Chandra Roy, a wealthy Hindu landowner and money lender, and all the males of his family were murdered. His women folk were kidnaped and his house robbed and set afire.

OFFICER WOUNDED

A British administrative officer was badly injured while trying to check the Moslem mobs with his small force of a dozen men.

Although suffering seriously at the hands of the mob, the police gallantly rescued many isolated Hindu families.

At nightfall Friday many Hindus tried to escape by river, but news of their plans leaked out and hundreds of Moslems lined the banks and attacked the boats. A detachment of twenty-five Hurkhas, led by a British officer, arrived just in time to save the refugees.

In the midst of the rioting severe earth shocks were felt, adding to the terror of the people.

Mymensingh and Kishorganj are about eighty miles north of the city of Dacca, where serious rioting between Hindus and Moslems has been intermittent for months.

TURKS WILL BEGIN FINAL DRIVE TODAY

Rebel Kurds Intrenched at Base of Mt. Ararat to be Exterminated

ISTANBUL, July 15. (AP)—The general headquarters of the Turkish army campaigning against rebellious Kurdish tribesmen in Eastern Turkey tonight prepared for a general advance tomorrow from the conquered Zeylan River Valley to the foot of Mt. Ararat, where the survivors of the tribesmen still are intrenched.

Bodies of 3000 Kurds slain during the fighting in the Zeylan Valley have been buried. The Turks literally exterminated their enemies.

Turkish officials admit the rebellion was more serious than the revolt by Sheik Said in 1925 and that Turkish officers who deserted are leading the Kurds still holding out in the fastnesses of Mt. Ararat.

Extermination at the hands of the Turkish army faces not only the tribesmen on the mountain but the inhabitants of villages at the foot of Ararat, who abetted the rebels. These villages will be wiped out and not a trace left.

HUNTER HOLDS DOUBLE RECORD

Endurance Flyer Kept Wife Secret

Mr. and Mrs. John Hunter [A. P. photo]

CHICAGO, July 15. (Exclusive) While the four Hunter brothers who set a new refueling air endurance record here in their City of Chicago are still in the daily news by virtue of the suit filed against them by members of the company which backed a former flight in their plane, which then was called Chicago We Will, the average citizen is not nearly so interested in that angle as in the announced marriage of John Hunter, who, with Kenneth, handled the controls of the record setting ship.

It has just been learned that John, fourteen months ago married Miss Laura McCarey of Sparta, the boys' home town. It was remarked upon several times, during the flight, that Miss McCarey was displaying more than usual interest in the adventure. But no one dreamed that she was watching her husband.

HUNTER BROTHERS HOP FOR HOLLYWOOD TODAY

The four Hunter brothers, champion endurance flyers who kept the City of Chicago in the air for 553 hours, are scheduled to leave Chicago today with Hollywood as their destination.

This advice came in a telegram received yesterday by Sid Grauman, with whom the brothers completed negotiations whereby they will fly to Hollywood.

The telegram states that they will make their first hop to St. Louis, where they will pay a short visit. From St. Louis their schedule calls for them to fly to Kansas City, and they probably will land at other cities on the way to the Coast for receptions in their honor.

They are scheduled to arrive in Hollywood on the 22nd inst.

WIFE KILLS IN QUELLING JAIL BREAK

Mate of Texas Officer Shoots Down Prisoner Who Slugs Husband

PECOS (Tex.) July 15. (AP)—Steady aim and nerve of Mrs. John Duncan, wife of the Reeves County Jailer, last night prevented a wholesale jail delivery and probably saved the life of her husband.

A bullet from Mrs. Duncan's pistol pierced the heart of Willie Hernandez as he went down the steps after Duncan had been slugged by Hernandes when he went into the prisoner's cell. Pedro Aguilar, under death sentence for murder, got away.

After Duncan had been slugged six prisoners rushed for freedom. Duncan called a warning to his wife on the floor below and she attempted to stop the oncoming prisoners. Aguilar alone got by.

Hernandez, the dead man, known as "Willie the Hog," was given the death penalty five years ago for the murder of John Paddock.

Riley, president of the Lions, to the international convention, which opened here this morning, and made not only this city but all its many visitors sit up and applaud. It was the largest turnout of any State represented here, and the most colorful.

President Riley was given a tremendous ovation as he marched into the Civic Auditorium, followed by the Californians, who filled almost a third of its huge lower floor.

WITNESS IN WAR CLAIMS CASE FOUND

Workman Who Holds Key to Munitions Explosions in Hands of Other Side

WASHINGTON, July 15. (AP)—Theodore Wozniak, star witness in Germany's defense to the United States $40,000,000 sabotage claims for wartime disasters, finally has been located by American investigators after unsuccessful searches extending over more than a dozen years, but the witness is not coming to Washington to be examined by the Americans just yet.

Affidavits filed today with the German-American Mixed Claims Commission on behalf of the United States declare Wozniak was found at Tupper Lake, N. Y., in company of an attorney for the German representatives, but the attorney refused to allow questioning of the witness.

Wozniak is the workman at whose bench in the Kingsland (N. J.) ammunition plant of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, a mammoth fire or explosion which destroyed vast stores of munitions on the night of January 11, 1917, is asserted to have started.

This disaster and a similar one at the Black Tom terminal of the Lehigh Valley Railway in July, 1916, both of which the United States contends were originated by agents for imperial Germany, are the basis for the war claims.

They were Alton Kemp, 2 1-2 years of age, and his cousin, Douglas Hinsdale, 4.

The two were trapped in a garage which suddenly caught fire while they sat eating sandwiches in a sedan belonging to Rose.

LEGGE DEFENDS STAND OF BOARD

Grain Stabilization Position Practically Unchanged

Wheat Sold Was of Grade Not Then Available

Transaction Nothing to Get Excited About, He Says

CHICAGO, July 15. (AP)—Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, said today the position of the Grain Stabilization Corporation is "practically unchanged" from the June 16 level and will be maintained there through the present crop-moving period "unless the price advances to or above the original cost of the wheat."

Mr. Legge's statement was made in a telegram to Gov. Reed of Kansas and was made public together with other correspondence between the two in regard to the Farm Board's wheat policy. The correspondence included a letter from Mr. Legge replying to the Governor's assertion that "the uncertainty of Farm Board policy with respect to its large holdings is one of the most depressing factors in the wheat situation."

WHAT CORPORATION DID

In his letter Legge said the Grain Stabilization Corporation received inquiry for wheat in the Northwest on which millers do not have an option; that wheat is apparently not available from other sources and the corporation is filling the order and immediately buying an equal amount.

"It cannot make any possible difference in the effect on the market if demands of this kind are met according to good business practice," continued Legge, "as long as the quantity of wheat held by stabilization is kept intact."

One of Legge's letters referred to newspaper articles indicating Legge and the Governor ha quarreled, and said:

HIS SUGGESTION

"Other papers seem to have the impression that Mr. Hyde and myself were asking the farmers to quit raising wheat in Kansas. You know how far that is from the facts, the suggestion being only to raise a little less of it and give the consumer a chance to catch up with the producer.

"In view of the further facts and information that have been developed on this subject during recent months I am hoping you will see your way clear to join us in this request. In other words, we are asking a little co-operation from the grower, who is the one who will receive the benefit from any improvement in the situation."

After the meeting at Dodge City, Kan., Legge was quoted as saying said:

UNFORTUNATE SIMILE

"The biggest hog will always lie in the trough. Kansas is now in the trough."

This led to a telegraphic request for his resignation from Max M. and Louis Levand, joint publishers of the Wichita (Kan.) Beacon.

Legge's letter to Reed concluded:

GARBLED LETTER

"Still another peculiar angle is brought up by your friends, Max and Louie of Wichita, who are prone to speak for all Kansas, acting as if they thought they were the State of Kansas. They transposed the words "is Kansas" to read "Kansas is" and proceeded to get insulted about it.

"It seems quite clear that you understood what was meant, as you were sitting within a few feet of me on the platform at the time and apparently accepted the statement in the spirit in which it was made. Had you thought there was anything in the remarks disrespectful to the good State of Kansas, I am sure that you as Governor would have promptly protested rather than leave the job to Max and Louie."

CAPPER WARNS KANSAS MAY GO RADICAL

WASHINGTON, July 15. (AP)—President Hoover was told today by Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, that purchase of 100,000,000 bushels of wheat by the Grain Stabilization Corporation would be a determining factor in relieving the crisis in the West.

Capper said if the low wheat price continues into the winter efforts will be made in Congress to revive the equalization fee principle vetoed by President Coolidge. Many persons in the West still lean toward either that or the debenture plan, he said.

Capper said he could not see that curtailment of acreage, as advocated by Chairman Legge of the Farm Board, would affect the immediate situation.

Further large purchases of wheat by Farm Board agencies were held by Secretary Hyde to be impracticable.

BAKERS TO CAMPAIGN FOR BREAD CONSUMPTION

CHICAGO, July 15. (AP)—The American Bakers' Association today started a campaign to increase domestic consumption of wheat by 100,000,000 bushels a year.

"If we can restore the per-capita consumption of wheat which existed in this country prior to the war," said President Henry Stude, of Houston, "we will increase our use of it by 130,000,000 bushels a year, or more than the total yearly crop of Kansas, the largest wheat-producing State in the Union.

"Before the war, Americans consumed 5.30 bushels each per year; now the amount is 4.26 bushels. The reduction was brought about during the war when the government carried on a campaign to raise more wheat and eat less bread. Now it says raise less wheat, but it says nothing about eating more bread."

Jersey Poison Deaths Mystify

NEWTON (N. J.) July 15. (AP)—Three children of Wilbur Stanton, Lafayette farmer, died today, the father is critically ill and the mother and a foster son are ill from poisoning.

Doctors had little hope for Stanton but believed they will be able to save his wife. No explanation of the deaths was offered by the attending physician.

SCHISM SPLITS UP KUOMINTANG

Political Warfare Added to Troubles of China

Faction in Peiping Prepares to Set Up Capital

News from Front Favorable to Chiang Kai-Shek

SHANGHAI, July 15. (AP)—Political schism, perennial nemesis of State unity in China, joined war, banditry and financial worry today to complicate the Nanking government's problem of self-maintenance.

Beset by aggressive northern rebel forces in Honan and Shantung provinces and by tentatively inert but persistent Communist opposition in the south and unusually large bandit hordes in various places, the regime of President Chiang Kai-Shek also faced a rift in his own political party, the Kuomintang, and a strained financial situation.

NEWS CHEERS CHIANG

Late news from the active battle front was more cheering for Generalissimo Chiang. Although Nationalist claims exceeded independent reports, dispatches from Honan and Shantung showed government forces have drawn the teeth of the rebels in the former province for the moment and are making headway toward Tsinan, coveted capital of the latter.

With Tsinan taken, Chiang hopes to regain control of Shantung, one of China's most important territories and, considered from a military standpoint, essential to supremacy in the north.

NEW GOVERNMENT

Meanwhile a faction of the Kuomintang central committee held a rump meeting in Peiping to form a new government with that city for its capital. The conferees declared Kuomintang principles as laid down by Sun Yat-Sen and his immediate successors had not been complied with, thus denying representation to a large part of the people's party.

The northern group under the banner of Yen Hsi-shan, erstwhile "model governor" of Shansi Province, warned Chinese bankers in Shanghai against lending money to the Nationalist government, threatening to treat such future loans as criminal acts and to consider past loans on their merits.

BUSINESS IN BUTTE SUSPENDED

Strike of Teamsters Closes Stores With 1000 Persons Out of Work

BUTTE (Mont.) July 15. (AP)—Another day of almost complete suspension of business passed in Butte with no sign tonight of a break in the situation, as practically all mercantile establishments remained closed, as an outgrowth of the teamsters' strike.

Employers reiterated their declaration that they will not attempt to resume business until assured protection of workers and property.

Approximately 1000 persons are out of work as a result of the strike. The majority are clerks, who were locked out by members of the Silver Bow Employers' Association after clerks refused to handle goods delivered by nonunion teamsters.

There have been no signs of a resumption of the minor disorders of last week brought on by attempts of nonunion teamsters to take places vacated by strikers.

Automobile machinists walked out in sympathy with the teamsters June 16. Auto machine shops are now operating with nonunion help and conditions in the shops are rapidly approaching normal.

MacDONALD PLANS STILL NOT DECIDED

Young's Offer to Defray Expenses of Mooney-Case Witness Told in Wire

BALTIMORE, July 15. (AP)—Plans for the return of John MacDonald to California to tell authorities he lied when he testified at the trials of Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings for the Preparedness Day bombing of 1916 in San Francisco still were in a nebulous state tonight, though the Coast State has expressed its willingness to defray expenses for the trip.

Gov. Young pledged the funds in a telegram received by State's Attorney O'Connor today in answer to a wire from Charles Ruzicka and Hilary Gans, MacDonald's attorneys, since his arrest last Friday.

O'Connor transmitted the telegram to the local attorneys, but they refused to make any statement, declaring their proposed action, when decided on, will be transmitted to O'Connor for communication to Gov. Young.

STATE LAND COLONY TEST CASE APPROVED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15. (AP)—The California Supreme Court today approved the legislative measure which would enable the State to withdraw from the land colonization business. The court ordered State Controller Riley to honor a warrant for $2478 drawn in favor of A. F. Mood, settler in the Durham Land Colony in Butte county, in a case designed to test the constitutionality of the program.

NEW YORK, July 15. (Exclusive) Just because Mayor Jimmie Walker heeded the call of the finny tribe, he failed to learn how Glendale, Cal., cuts down its fire hazard.

It would have been told him in song for "Singing" Jimmie Smith, a fire prevention enthusiast of the California city, arrived to enlighten the Mayor. When Mr. Smith found the Mayor out, he unleashed his portable organ, and "did his stuff" for Thomas F. McAndrews, the Mayor's secretary, who promised to tell Jimmie Walker all about it.

Waggoner is serving a term in the Atlanta Federal prison for the swindle plot through which he obtained the money through faked telegraph orders last August.

FRENCH POLICE OUST BOY WITH GAS BOMBS

SALEILLES (France) July 15. (AP) Police with gas bombs, after a twenty-four-hour siege, tonight smoked out a 16-year-old boy from a house in which they had believed they were battling with a group of desperate burglars. The authorities, reinforced by civilian volunteers, had been exchanging gunfire with, as they supposed, housebreakers barricaded in the home of Dr. Bargy. A general alarm was given last night when servants in the house reported they had surprised a band of burglars and cornered them in the dwelling.

Wood as Republican Praise for Repu

He Says Hoover Has World-wide Crisis

Byrns Talks for Dem Sees Spending Org

WASHINGTON, July 15. Republican and a Democrat the head of his party's congressional campaign committee ed the financial achievements the Hoover administration through partisan prejudice.

Each had gained in knowledge of government affairs from long service House Appropriations Committee which must approve all governmental expenditures.

To Chairman Wood of the propriations and finance congressional committee it is "the Republican party has fulfilled its promises for management" of the affairs of the government.

"RIOT OF EXTRAVAGANCE"

But from the other side of fence it appeared to Repr Byrns of Tennessee, ranking crat on the committee and man of his party's Congressional campaign group, the Hoover ministration has been guilty a "riot of extravagance."

Wood credited the Republican party with having completed decade of successful progress agement in the face of world economic depression and administration of President and the Seventy-first Congress been confronted with economic problems arising from depression and due to no fault their own.

He added the President had "all that was humanly possible relieve the situation," but "no wide force of economic movement cannot ultimately be ended in a short time."

SURPLUS POINTED OUT

In spite of this, he said, was a surplus of $184,000,000 Treasury at the end of the fiscal the public debt had been reduced $744,000,000, taxes lowered $160,000 and the government had self able to engage without taxes in an extensive public program as a measure of relief.

The Republican leader also widespread misrepresentation that Congress was "going on a spending organt" and added in the past years appropriations had been $384,000,000 less than Democratic mates. During this last session, he said, Congress had cut $26,216 from President Hoover's budget recommendations, reducing outlay of $4,897,553,648.

TARIFF ACT PRAISED

Wood praised the new Tariff Act, the London treaty and other items on the list of achievements of the Republican party which he said would "commend themselves to every thoughtful citizen."

Byrns in his statement, which he said he intended to go into the Congressional record with that of Wood, said the regular session just closed had been a "$5,000,000,000 session."

The total outlay, he said, had been $4,924,936,333, plus appropriations of $1,000,000,000 for public works. Eliminating the special expenditures, he said those for the fiscal year exceeded those of the last regular session by $500,000,000. In addition, he said, there were obligations of $1,500,000,000 that had been pledged in laws passed and approved by the President.

The Tennessean said the "new deal" and the myth of Coolidge economy had disappeared with his regime" and that government has indulged in what may well be termed a "riot of extravagance."

SHOW'S NUDITY TOLD IN COUR

Policeman as Drama Crit Calls "Venities" Indecent

He Says Window Undresse Made "Lewd" Scene

Judge to Make Decision o Carroll Defense Later

NEW YORK, July 15. (Exclusive) A. J. Coy, who goes places and sees things for the police department, is not a lay critic and not a professional drama inspector at all, but he took to his story of falling panties and revealing, fluttering feather fans today and left Producer Earl Carroll, Jimmy Savo, the comedian, and eight of Mr. Carroll's most beautiful girls in a hot spot.

Just how hot the spot is will not be revealed until next Thursday afternoon when Magistrate Gotlieb completes his perusal of those briefs that lawyers always present after they have talked themselves hoarse. The magistrate then will decide whether to hold Mr. Carroll and his selected show folks for trial on a charge of giving an "obscene, indecent, immoral and impure performance" in the current "Vanities," now on exhibition at the New Amsterdam Theater.

WILL HEAR DEFENSE

Magistrate Gotlieb, at the close of testimony of Capt. Coy, the only witness, had this to say about Mr. Carroll's "Vanities:"

"As the case now stands I determine the show to be a lewd exhibition. As for the show's other attractions, the city has not reached the point where nude dancing is approved. I will, however, hear argument along legal grounds at the request of counsel for the defense before I act."

The two scenes which were described as "lewd" and upon which the police are charging that the law was given an indecent performance are the celebrated fan dance, during which Faith Bacon is accused of having appeared nude, and "Garden—a Window at Merle's," during which Jimmy Savo, Mr. Carroll's funny man, is charged with having used an indecent technique in adjusting the scanties of Frances Arms, a wax model.

POLICEMAN SHOCKED

Capt. Coy perspired under cross-examination this afternoon. He reluctantly admitted that he was just a bit observer of things theatrical and had no professional standing in the drama world. He was quite certain of his observations, however, and, shocking as they were, he spoke them right out in court.

"Now," said Attorney Benjamin Rabin, "was it not entirely possible, captain, that Miss Joyce's garment fell by accident?"

"That's absolutely impossible," said Capt. Coy. "The bloomers were pulled down and it was the defendant Savo's method of adjusting them that was objectionable."

"Didn't you tell someone that a woman sitting next to you blushed deep red and couldn't look at it during this scene?"

"I recall a woman blushing, but never said she blushed a deep red. She just blushed. It was light enough to see her blush."

"Have you ever been an actor?"

SAYS DANCER NUDE

"Well, I was with a circus once. I watered the elephants. I got 50 cents for the job."

"Well, the audience laughed when Savo was adjusting the girl's garments, didn't they?"

"I never laughed. I was too shocked. Savo appeared to be making improper gestures."

"When Miss Bacon danced, you say she was nude?"

"I certainly was nude in the sense that I saw her from her head to her heels. She held the fans in front. She danced and kept drawing

Wood as Republican Ha... Praise for Regime

He Says Hoover Has M... World-wide Crisis

Byrns Talks for Democrats Sees Spending Orgy

WASHINGTON, July 15. (A...—Republican and a Democrat, ... the head of his party's Congressional campaign committee, respectively, ... ed the financial achievements of the Hoover administration last night through partisan spectacles.

Each had gained an intimate knowledge of government finances and affairs from long service on the House Appropriations Committee which must approve all governmental expenditures.

To Chairman Wood of the Appropriations and Republican Congressional committees it is evident "the Republican party has met and fulfilled its promises for sound management" of the financial affairs of the government.

"RIOT OF EXTRAVAGANCE"

But from the other side of the fence it appeared to Representative Byrns of Tennessee, ranking Democrat on the committee and chairman of his party's Congressional campaign group, the Hoover administration has been indulging in a "riot of extravagance."

Wood credited the Republican party with having completed a decade of successful financial management in the face of world-wide economic depression and said the administration of President Hoover and the Seventy-first Congress had been confronted with serious economic problems arising from the depression and due to no fault of their own.

He added the President had done "all that was humanly possible" to relieve the situation, "but a world-wide force of economic readjustment cannot altogether be arrested in a short time."

SURPLUS POINTED OUT

In spite of this, he said, there was a surplus of $184,000,000 in the Treasury at the end of the year, the public debt had been reduced $746,000,000, taxes lowered $160,000,000 and the government found itself able to engage without raising taxes in an extensive public works program as a measure of relief.

The Republican leader said widespread misapprehension existed that Congress was "grossly extravagant" and added in the last two years appropriations had been $384,000,000 less than budget estimates. During the last regular session, he said, Congress had cut $626,216 from President Hoover's budget recommendations to reduce outlay of $4,897,555,449.

TARIFF ACT PRAISED

Wood praised the new Tariff Act, the London treaty and several other items on the list of achievements since 1928, which he said would "commend themselves to every thoughtful citizen."

Byrns in his statement, which was ... to go into the Congressional Record with that of Wood, said the regular session just closed had been a "$5,000,000,000 session."

The total outlay, he said, has been $4,924,929,233, plus special session appropriations of $196,318,... Eliminating the special session figures, he said those for the regular term exceeded those of the ... addition, he said, future appropriations of $1,000,000,000 had been pledged in laws passed and approved by the President.

The Tennessean said "even the myth of Coolidge economy disappeared with his regime" and the government has indulged in what may well be termed a riot of extravagance."

WOOL MEN PREPARE TO ADVERTISE

National Campaign to Increase Consumption of Lamb Proposed

LOGAN (Utah) July 15. (A...—Plans for a national advertising campaign involving the expenditure of $400,000 in an effort to increase the consumption of lamb were presented to the Utah Wool Growers' Association here today by F. R. Marshall, secretary of the National Wool Growers' Association.

This sum, to be raised from wool growers of the twelve western range States, including Texas, would be levied at the rate of 1½ cents for each sheep. It is planned to use it in advertising in newspapers, magazines and by radio, and in educational and demonstration work before audiences of housewives and retail meat dealers.

ROADS GET PERMIT TO SHIFT RATES

Coast Lines Can Change Charges to Meet Ship Freight Competition

WASHINGTON, July 15. (A...—Pacific Coast railroads received Interstate Commerce Commission permission today to make north and south freight rates between California seaports and the North Pacific ports in Oregon and Washington to meet steamboat competition.

The commission's orders, effective November 25, allow the rail lines to maintain higher rates to and from intermediate territory and inland points where the water competition is not effective while reducing charges to the seaport areas.

The new adjustments involve situations where rail rates will be higher for short distances than for longer distances over the same routes. The commission placed limits on this for the Pacific rail lines, holding that generally existing rates through intermediate inland points should not be increased above present levels and that intermediate points should not be charged more than 100 per cent above the charges to ports.

BROKER NAMED IN FUND INQUIRY

New Yorker Gave $20,000 to McCormick Campaign

Voters' Club President Tells Sources of Support

Deneen Accused of Using Federal Employees

CHICAGO, July 15. (A...—Testimony that the largest contributor to the Senatorial campaign of Ruth Hanna McCormick was Frederick W. Allen, New York broker and classmate of the late Senator Medill McCormick, was given before the Senatorial campaign funds investigating committee today.

The witness was Lucius Wilson, president of the Voters' Progress Club, who said Allen gave $20,000 to the club in Mrs. McCormick's behalf. He was questioned about the expenditure of $44,500 by his club in the Chicago campaign last spring, when Mrs. McCormick defeated Senator Charles S. Deneen for the Republican Senatorial nomination from Illinois.

WILSON FORMED CLUB

Mr. Wilson said he personally organized the club and solicited funds from friends and relatives of Mrs. McCormick in the hope of interesting the "average citizen in her campaign." He said he and several other admirers of Mrs. McCormick took it upon themselves to assist her race against Senator Deneen, and added the expenditure of $44,500 was a small amount compared to the amount of public funds "used in behalf of Senator Deneen."

The witness said he knew of at least 1000 Federal appointees and employees in Cook county who had used their time to carry on Senator Deneen's campaign and he said if the services of these public employees were estimated to be worth "only $5 a day that made at least $5000 a day, or $125,000 a month, of public funds used in behalf of the Senator."

Mr. Wilson, president of the General Organization Company of Chicago, said his task was made harder because he found "big business was almost solidly behind Senator Deneen in Chicago."

SPENDING ACCOUNTED FOR

Other large contributors to the $44,500 fund which was part of a $67,200 sum previously identified as contributions to the McCormick campaign aside from her own funds were listed by Mr. Wilson as follows:

C. E. Sullivan of Cleveland, another classmate of Mrs. McCormick's late husband, $5000; M. A. Hanna, Cleveland, $5000; Carl H. Hanna, Cleveland, $5000; D. R. Hanna, Jr., Cleveland, $5000, and Mrs. Paul Moore, Chicago, $1000.

Mr. Wilson, in accounting for the expenditure of the $44,500 said $25,000 of it had gone to his company, the General Organization Company, for its services, office space, personnel and other expenses. The remainder was used to conduct meetings, distribute literature and carry on similar campaign practices.

Fred A. Smith, Mrs. McCormick's confidential aide, a former newspaper man, entered a protest with the Senatorial committee over numerous newspaper editorials and articles based on the articles endeavoring to associate her name with the Chicago underworld and Al Capone, gang chief, through political affiliations.

HAYS GUEST OF BERLIN FILM MEN

American Screen Czar Studying Conditions in Studios of Germany

BERLIN, July 15. (A...—Will Hays, American film dictator, today was entertained at luncheon by German motion-picture organizations opposed to "concessions to America."

Mr. Hayes, in an address, said he had come here for first-hand knowledge of motion-picture conditions in Germany. Describing the motion pictures as the "Esperanto of utility" he remarked on the value of international intellectual and commercial co-operation for its artistic as well as business development.

He said the motion picture has become a definite factor in the social and industrial welfare of the world.

Dr. Franz Koelsch, State Councillor and industrial physician to the Bavarian government, in replying, described the screen medium as an indispensable asset to the community health.

A rumor was discussed at the luncheon that the Minister of Finance had proposed to the Reichsrat a liberal concession in the quota of foreign films.

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT RECOGNIZES ESCOBAR

MEXICO CITY, July 15. (A...—The Federal government today announced that it will recognize the legality of the appointment by the Chihuahua Legislature of Romulo Escobar as provisional Governor, replacing Francisco R. Almada, who recently was driven out of Chihuahua City by an insurgent group of legislators. According to dispatches, Gov. Almada has been suspended indefinitely. Escobar has been director of the agricultural school at Juarez. He is an engineer who has hitherto not been identified with active politics. Escobar was summoned from Juarez to Chihuahua to take charge of the Governorship immediately.

It was announced the plant will supply 25 per cent of the United States consumption of alloy.

Uncle Sam Would Collect From English Poet on Income for 1924

NEW YORK, July 15. (A...—Uncle Sam wants Rudyard Kipling to pay $2104.50 in income taxes due for 1924.

A lien was filed in Federal court in Brooklyn by Walter E. Corwin, Internal Revenue Collector from the Eastern New York district, asserting the taxes are due on the British writer's income and giving his address at Garden City, Long Island, the office of his publishers. It is assumed the government claims this sum on income derived from publication of his works in the United States.

HELBUSH DECISION SUSTAINED

Wife Loses Fight to Set Aside Divorce Obtained by Los Angeles Millionaire

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15. (A...—The State Supreme Court today affirmed a San Francisco Superior Court order denying Mrs. Gwyneth Helbush her motion to set aside the final divorce decree granted Herman H. Helbush, millionaire Los Angeles real estate man.

Helbush obtained the divorce here last April, and the attempt of Mrs. Helbush to set aside the decree was enlivened by the filing of numerous affidavits in which Helbush charged numerous instances of infidelity, immorality and dissipation on the part of his wife.

Previous, Mrs. Helbush, who had obtained an interlocutory decree in 1924, had asked that it be set aside as a reconciliation had been effected. She cited the renewal of marital relations as grounds in her suit to dissolve the final decree Helbush obtained at an even later date.

The Supreme Court, in denying Mrs. Helbush's petition, said it was apparent her purpose in seeking a reconciliation was not sincere, but an attempt to benefit herself monetarily at the expense of her husband. The court found no abuse of discretion on the part of the lower court.

New Argentina Rules Worrying Fruit Growers

WASHINGTON, July 15. (A...—Fruit growers have asked the Commerce Department to obtain definite information on reported Argentine regulations which they fear might virtually exclude barreled apples shipped from this country.

The regulations prohibit the importation of fruit into Argentina in bulk, the department said today, and call for containers of a size different from the United States standard. Fruit growers fear the time before the apple movement starts is too short to enable them to obtain container to meet the new requirements.

Exportation of apples to Argentina last year included 194,000 barrels and 364,000 boxes and smaller quantities of pears and grapes from the West Coast.

GERMANY SEEKS TO MUZZLE REDS

Second Protest to Be Made on Moscow Broadcasts

Russians Expected to Have New Alibi Prepared

(Copyright, 1930, by New York Times)

BERLIN, July 15. (Exclusive)—The Koenigswusterhausen radio station, Germany's most powerful broadcasting station, may find itself saddled with a new and unusual assignment if the Reich's second and stronger protest to Moscow against the transmitting of Communist propaganda in German from Moscow's 100-kilowatt sender meets with the same delicate side stepping that the first protest is reported to have received.

This propaganda, apparently designed for German listeners, has been heard in Germany two or three evenings a week for several months. The Reich finally lodged an official protest against the practice. Moscow's answer, it was learned here reliably, did not exactly reject the protest; it merely pointed out there was no ground for complaint since, as had been said before, the radio talks in German were not intended for Germany, but were meant to give the German colonists in Russia, particularly in the Volga district, the pleasure of hearing their native language once in a while.

NOISE BEST DEFENSE

Officials here are unable to see why if this is the case the talks should frequently open with the words "Police and soldiers of Germany in uniform. Remember in Germany, too, the right way is the October way. Long live the German soviet republic."

But on the other hand it is difficult to know what to say next if Moscow sticks to its story.

Although the second protest, which is more strongly worded, will be sent within the next few days, the authorities here are seriously considering combative measures similar to those adopted in Rumania. When Moscow starts talking in Rumanian the radio station at Bucharest opens up with a disturbance transmitter on Moscow's wave length, preventing Rumanians from hearing what the Communists have to say.

OLD TRICK RECALLED

If this device is to be adopted here it will almost certainly fall to Koenigswusterhausen to devise a scheme to make the other unusable while Moscow berates the German government and lauds life under the soviets.

It is believed the Reich's activities in this matter are not entirely unconnected with the fact Germany has already been hoodwinked by Communist broadcasters more than once. The famous incident of the seizure of a Berlin broadcaster by Communists by a ruse when a Socialist scheduled to speak was kidnaped has not been forgotten yet.

On October 6, 1928, German Communists "kidnaped" a Socialist editor on his way to a broadcasting station in Berlin and substituted a Communist deputy, who broadcast his entire speech before the trick was discovered.

BERLIN FAVORS UNITED EUROPE

Germany's Reply to Briand Made Public

Absolute Equality for All States Insisted On

Suppression of Military Differences Urged

BERLIN, July 15. (AP)—The text of Germany's reply to Foreign Minister Briand's memorandum for a "United States of Europe" was made public here tonight. It answers favorably France's suggestion for a European union, but stresses the objection that such a program could succeed only upon principles of full equality and the same security for all participants.

Discrimination against countries or continents and exclusion of European states not members of the League of Nations, such as Russia and Turkey, must be avoided, the reply stated.

PROPOSAL WELCOMED

European co-operation in the proposed league, according to the German answer, should not be made dependent upon the creation of military considerations affording greater security.

Military consideration, the reply urged, should not be placed in the foreground.

The reply made it clear that Germany welcomed the proposal and favored discussion of the whole plan at the next session of the League of Nations in September.

The reply points out that European countries are far from being in a settled state. They are charged with all kinds of tensions and antagonisms.

EQUALITY INSISTED ON

No country, the note continues, feels the faults of the European state fabric more strongly than Germany. It adds that none has greater interest in removal of these faults, and every country sees its mission from its own standpoint, a natural national attitude, the reply argues.

France, so runs the German theme, stresses the necessity of attacking the European problem first from a political standpoint and then proceeding to the examination of economic problems. Germany agrees the present distressing conditions in Europe are largely due to its political structure. The reply says, however, all attempts to ameliorate the situation must be based upon equal rights and equal security. It will be hopeless to build a new Europe on a foundation that would not support the living organism.

REPLY MAKES GOOD IMPRESSION IN FRANCE

PARIS, July 15. (AP)—The German reply to the Briand memorandum for a European federation on the whole made a good impression in French official circles where tonight it was studied closely.

Most of the German reservations, it was pointed out, had been anticipated in Foreign Minister Briand's original memorandum itself.

Official circles expressed the opinion none of the difficulties stressed by the Reich would prove difficult of solution if all of the European governments would bring their good will to the task.

Green-Hat Man Convicted on Liquor Charge

WASHINGTON, July 15. (Exclusive)—George Lawrence Cassidy, nationally known as "the man in the green hat," was convicted this afternoon by a jury of four women and eight men on a charge of transportation and possession of liquor. Cassidy was arrested in front of the Senate Office Building last October while preparing to enter the building with a bottle of colored alcohol in his pocket.

Cassidy has gained much notoriety because of the number of times he has been arrested for dry law violations in the vicinity of the Senate Office Building.

Cassidy faces a possible sentence of five years in the penitentiary and a $5000 fine.

The "spread over" amendment provided a permissive ninety-hour fortnight instead of a compulsory seven-and-one-half-hour working day in the mining industry.

REICH PASSES TAX MEASURE

Threat of Dictator Brings Members Into Line

Bill Increases Levy on All Incomes Above $2000

Calls for Severe Cut in Federal Expenses

BERLIN, July 15. (AP)—It took all of Chancellor Heinrich Bruening's eloquence, backed by the threat of sending the Reichstag home and governing the country with the dictatorial measures granted in Article 48 of the Constitution, to make the German Parliament today swallow the tax proposals of Dr. Hermann Dietrich, Minister of Finance.

After hearing this threat of dissolution, the Reichstag members adjourned for an hour to think things over. President Von Hindenburg's letter to Premier Braun of Prussia, containing his refusal to enter the Prussian Rhineland so long as the "Steel Helmet" organization was banned, had brought debate to fever heat.

INCREASES SALARY TAX

Some Deputies believed the President had taken the offensive against the Prussian government, and might even renounce the Prussian coalition of Centrists and Social Democrats in exchange for Nationalist support in the Reichstag.

In this electrically charged atmosphere, the coalition parties without the Social Democrats brought to a vote and passed Article 1 of the financial reform program, providing an additional tax of 2½ per cent on the incomes of civil service officials and all other taxpayers until March, 1931.

The Nationalists, the Communists and the Fascists voted against the measure. The Social Democrats abstained.

EXPENDITURES CUT

Dr. Dietrich's program for putting the Reich's finances on a safe-and-sane basis calls for a severe reduction of Federal expenditures, the imposition of a special tax on government employees, and the levy of an extraordinary tax on incomes above $2000 per year.

The Finance Minister also tried to include a tax on bachelors and spinsters; but it recently encountered violent opposition in the Reichstag, and he declared it was useless to go on.

AID SHOOTING STORIES DIFFER

San Diego Candidate Shot by Federal Officer

Agent Declares Victim Pulled Gun on Him

Wounded Man Denies it and Charges Abuse

SAN DIEGO, July 15.—Alex Zauri, decorated war veteran, local retail merchant, and candidate for city administrator, is in a hospital here tonight with bullet wounds in the arm and chest as the result of involving himself in a fracas with Federal prohibition agent Lee Patton, Federal prohibition agent from Los Angeles, and considerable variance is found in reports of the affair.

According to Zauri, he was making his business rounds when he heard cries for help from two men whom he knew and who were being stopped by Smith. He declared that he went to their assistance under the impression that Smith was an officer, but here the versions split.

Police reports state that Zauri pulled a gun and that Smith shot him. The weapon was leveled at Zauri, denied that he pulled a gun from his pocket, and added that when he fell after being shot the officer kicked him in the face.

OFFICER'S REPORT

Smith suffered two painful flesh wounds from what was understood to be one shot. This shot was fired, according to written report of Deputy Sheriff Charles E. Cameron, Smith.

Explanation of how it occurred was detailed as follows in Cameron's report. Smith, accompanied by two Federal men, went to Columbia Hotel and, after buying several rounds of drinks, ordered three shots of gin. They went to an address on Union street and received delivery of three cases of gin delivered in a roadster. The delivery was made by Joe Corral. Federal Agent Patton placed Corral under arrest and returned to the Columbia Hotel address, some of the Federal men having stayed there. When they got out of the car with the prisoner several men surrounded them, demanding they release the prisoner. Alex Zauri came running up to where the officers were, shouting "Let that man go." Officer Smith told Zauri that it was a Federal raid and Patton showed him his badge.

GUN REPORTED SEIZED

Zauri had a hand in his pocket and the officer ordered him to remove the hand. Zauri drew a gun and pointed it at the officer and the latter shot him, the bullet going through his arm and lodging in his breast.

Cameron signed this report, adding a postscript that the "gun taken from Zauri is at the Federal Prohibition office."

The two men lodged in jail were booked as R. P. Lemon, 216 Maple Ave., and Joe Corral, 2318 Union Ave. Cameron reported that Sheriff stated Corral delivered the gin. They were arraigned in the Federal Building and held in $500 bail each for transportation, sale and possession of liquor.

Soundmaster in War on Pack of Wild Dogs

ONTARIO, July 15.—U. L. Buckman, Ontario's poundmaster, today began a one-man war on a pack of wild dogs, said to be roaming in a region between D and G streets, just outside the city limits. The dogs are thought to be offspring of coyotes and domestic dogs. They live in the underbrush and prey on chickens and birds. These roaming nomads are not humans, and permit no one to come near them. For this reason Buckheim has been authorized to exterminate the band by the use of a rifle.

BELIEF IN WITCHES AFFIRMED

Riverside Mexican Haled Into Court on Disturbance of Peace Charge Brought by Husband of Woman He Declares Had Bewitched His Daughter

RIVERSIDE, July 15.—Victor L. Martinez is such a firm believer in witchcraft that his efforts to have dispelled the evil influence which has caused his young daughter to suffer a year from a peculiar disease, resulted in his arrest and conviction today on a charge of disturbing the peace. The defendant, according to Abraham Bravo, the complaining witness, had accused Mrs. Bravo of casting a spell over his daughter and had threatened him in insisting that this spell be broken. Martinez stanchly maintained his faith in witches and evil spirits when arraigned before Police Judge Fred L. Hamblin, who suspected that he was listening to a new Police Court alibi.

"Are there people around here who really believe in witches?" he asked Patrolman Joe Mendez, who, acting as interpreter, passed the query on to Martinez.

"Yes, surely, I believe in witches, and others do, too," Martinez assured the magistrate earnestly.

"I do not believe in them and because I believe that it is my right not to be bothered with them I swore to the complaint," Abraham Bravo, 3124 Samuel street, Casa Blanca, informed the court.

"My daughter has had a pain in her side for more than a year. She can't get rid of it. I think that a witch is causing it," Martinez asserted.

"I went to see Bravo late Sunday afternoon to talk it over with him, and to ask him to have his wife make the witch and pain leave. I did not mean to cause trouble. I asked him to come out to my car with me so that we could talk alone and not cause a disturbance," Martinez said, through the interpreter.

Martinez was sentenced to pay a fine of $30 or to spend thirty days in the superheated cells of the City Jail.

PIONEER BANKER EXPIRES

George S. Edwards of Santa Barbara Succumbs to After-effects of Operation for Appendicitis

SANTA BARBARA, July 15.—George S. Edwards, 71 years of age, in point of service one of the oldest bankers in Southern California, and vice-president and manager of the local branch of the Security-First National Bank, died in a hospital here at 3 a.m. from the after-effects of an operation for appendicitis from which it was thought he was making rapid recovery.

Edwards had been at the head of the local bank since 1888 when it was known as the Commercial Bank of Santa Barbara. He was a former Mayor, harbor commissioner and water commissioner of this city. He had some of the largest farm interests in Santa Barbara county.

With him when the end came were his wife, faithful companion of almost fifty years; his son, John B. Edwards, and his daughter, Mrs. Margaret Agnew.

For forty years Edwards was the leading banker of this city. Born in Iona, in 1859, he came here as a boy with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards.

Edwards completed his education at the University of California, and returning to this city he at once took up his activities here. In June of 1881 he took as his bride Miss Anna Margaret McLaren.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards would have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary next June.

From 1902 to 1905 he served as Mayor of the city, was a member of the park board, to which activities he devoted much time, and was justly proud of the accomplishments of the board during his membership.

When the United States was drawn into the World War Edwards was named to the Federal Draft Board and as chairman gave to these activities practically all his time over a period of many months. His work on the city water commission during the construction period was a large contribution.

Later he became a member of the school board and when Santa Barbara suddenly faced immense problems of reconstruction growing out of the earthquake five years ago, it was largely due to Edwards that the community attracted generous financial aid toward that restoration work.

For many years he served on the board and was one of the earnest supporters of the Cottage Hospital. He had for many years served as trustee of the Presbyterian Church.

FIREMEN TO TAKE IT OUT ON EFFIGY

Dummy of "Fool Smoker" Who Starts All Grass Fires to be Burned at Stake

SAN FERNANDO, July 15.—One of the features of the large gathering of volunteer firemen to be held here tomorrow will be the burning in effigy of "the fool cigarette smoker who starts all the grass fires along the highways."

This, local firemen say, is the nearest they know how to revenge themselves against the person that gives them, during the summer period, 98 per cent of all their work and trouble.

Members of the local volunteer department will be hosts to all fire departments of San Gabriel Valley, the affair to wind up with a banquet served in Fraternal Hall, with Chief T. W. Grady and Capt. E. J. Kichline as chairman of arrangements and master of ceremonies, respectively. The session will be the first time the local fire fighters have entertained the San Gabriel firemen. A business session and a dance also is included in the program.

More than 90 per cent of all fires in June, July, August and September in San Fernando and San Gabriel valleys, firemen state, are caused by motorists, who, while driving along the highways, throw their cigarette butts into the tall dry grass. Large acreages are burned over as a result.

"Some drastic method has to be used again to call attention to these careless smokers," several local firemen said today, "and the best thing we could think of is to rig up a straw effigy and hold a Hendish jamboree around it."

MOTORIST HAS CLOSE CALL IN POLE CRASH

INGLEWOOD, July 15.—A miraculous escape from death was experienced here today by D. Hurtebese, 3043 Acacia street, Hawthorne, when the car which he was driving at a high rate of speed suddenly crashed head-on into a telephone pole and was completely demolished. The accident occurred at the intersection of Bryson Drive and Prairie avenue, and apparently Hurtebese was unaware of the obstruction in time to swerve his car and avoid the pole. He was removed to the Inglewood Health Center by Deputy Constable M. A. Snyder, who was summoned by passers by. Dr. John B. Peterson attended the victim and found he had sustained a cut on the head and a wrenched back, but no serious injuries.

Released from his three incarcerations, Beard was found guilty in Los Angeles on March 28, 1930, of forgery, and sentenced to a term in the County Jail there. He could not have been held long, being out of jail now. The Los Angeles authorities passed up a chance to put the "three-time loser" away for a long term, if the identification bureau report is true, since he would be classed as a habitual criminal, subject to life imprisonment.

YOUTH MINUS ARMS BANTAM GOLF SHARK

Harold Emberton

MONROVIA, July 15.—A champion of miniature golf, although he has neither arms nor hands, is the remarkable record set this week by Harold Emberton, 22-year-old youth, who suffered the loss of his arms four years ago this November.

On the Sportee golf course on Foothill Boulevard, which has a par of 46, young Emberton in three weeks' time shot the championship game, making a score of 35. For several days the handicapped youth has pitted his skill against expert players of the Southland and has come out the victor in every game.

By the use of a mechanical arm which is strapped to his shoulder, he manages to hold the golf club and uses the strength of his entire body behind his drives. The mechanical arm, which is made by an eastern firm, is the only one that he has been able to use, and from his strenuous playing during the last two weeks, was suffering today with severe pains in the stump of his right arm, to which the mechanical adjunct is attached.

The young golf enthusiast is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Emberton of 229 West Lemon avenue. He has not been able to devote his entire time to the game as he purchased a cigar store some time ago which he manages, assisted by his mother.

MELONS IN CRASH FOR BREAKFAST

Truck Contents Broadcast When It Hits Tree, Gives Free Treat for Ontarians

ONTARIO, July 15.—Two unusual motor mishaps here today and last night provided one group of spectators with plenty of thrills, and the other placed cantaloupes, free of charge, on several breakfast tables.

Last night while Euclid avenue in the business district was thronged with pedestrians and motorists, a trailer broke loose from a truck driven by E. G. Evans, Tenth street and Central avenue, Upland.

The trailer ran wild through the crowded thoroughfares, and ended its careering flight by crashing into an automobile parked at the curbing in front of a department store. Unable to find the owner of the car, Evans left a note on the steering wheel informing the owner of his address and details of the accident.

Residents in the neighborhood of A street and Benson enjoyed the free cantaloupes for breakfast today.

A truck, the property of a Los Angeles produce company, ran into the curbing and then crashed into a palm tree near the city limits early this morning. The truck was loaded with cantaloupes, and the contents were broadcast over nearby lawns.

Man Believed Fatally Hurt in Auto Crash

SANTA BARBARA, July 15.—A man thought to be William McCoy, 35 years of age, formerly of Los Angeles, is in the Cottage Hospital not expected to live as the result of a head-on crash with a truck on State and Mission streets last night.

McCoy, according to Lieutenant of Traffic Jess Butts, was driving up State street and struck a truck bound east on Mission street. His car was completely wrecked while the driver of the truck was uninjured. McCoy was thrown out of the side of his coupe and struck on his head on the pavement. He is suffering with a severely fractured skull, three broken ribs and a punctured lung. Officers had some difficulty last night in establishing his identity.

It was first thought he was B. Mitchell of Sunset avenue, Los Angeles, as the coupe he was driving was registered in that name. Further check revealed he had an estranged wife in Ventura who identified him this morning.

Candy Store in Second Hold-Up

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 15.—As Mrs. Marvel Stewart, clerk at the Albert Sheets Candy Shop on South Pacific Boulevard, was getting ready to close the establishment last night about 10:30 o'clock, a lone bandit, whom she supposed was a customer, stepped into the place. She made her way to the first display counter when the man, with a gun in his hand, held at the side of his coat, demanded that she step to the cash register and turn over the receipts, which she did. He left with $55.45.

The bandit was described as being about five feet and six inches in height, weighed about 156 pounds, dark complexioned, black eyes, and wore a gray felt hat, reddish brown suit, with no vest. He used a blue steel gun in the holdup.

This establishment was also held up just before Easter when a considerable amount of money was stolen.

ADDED SHARE IN GAS TAX SOUGHT

Orange County Cities Make Plea to Supervisors

Latter's 25 Per Cent Policy Declared Insufficient

Eight Municipalities Send Delegates to Meeting

SANTA ANA, July 15.—The incorporated cities of Orange county want a larger share of the county gas tax than they are now getting or can get, under the Supervisors' policy of contributing 25 per cent toward the improvement of certain designated through streets in each city.

This desire was courteously but firmly laid before the County Supervisors here today by members of a committee from the League of Municipalities, who frankly expressed their purpose of "staying with" the Supervisors until something is done about their request. The committee was told that the Supervisors would give their request serious consideration.

COMMITTEE APPEARS

The committee appeared in support of petitions filed with the Supervisors by eight of the incorporated cities, Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton, Brea, La Habra, Newport Beach, Laguna Beach and San Clemente. Orange, Huntington Beach, Tustin, Seal Beach and Placentia were not represented.

The Santa Ana petition stated that the city pays $97,000 annually in gas tax and has received only $26,500 in return. It has paid $391,000 in gas tax and spent $4,600,000 in street improvements in ten years, said the petition further.

The Anaheim petition estimated that city's annual gas tax at $32,000 or $33,000. Fullerton's petition placed its figure at $98,000. Neither city has received any contribution from the gas tax, it was stated. Brea and La Habra making the same assertion.

Newport Beach, which pays an estimated $19,000 gas tax annually, has not shared in the receipts, its petition said. This was challenged by Supervisor George Jeffrey, who said that when he first came on the board $7000 was spent on a road project at Newport Beach.

FULLERTON MAN SPOKESMAN

Albert Launer, Fullerton lawyer, acting as spokesman for the cities' representatives, informed the Supervisors that the municipalities feel entitled to a larger share of the gas tax, inasmuch as the cities pay the greater part of it.

They feel, he added, that the present plan of paying 25 per cent of the cost of improving certain designated streets is impractical and does not lead to a fair allocation of the funds. A wider interpretation of the act governing expenditure of the tax is possible and should be adopted, in the opinion of the city officials, said Launer, who cited the practice in Los Angeles county of spending a third of the tax inside of the cities, and allowing 40 per cent for city street improvement projects up to a width of forty feet.

Little Girl's Leg Broken by Auto

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 15.—Betty Vaughn, 4 years of age, is at the Mission Hospital, suffering from two broken bones in one of her legs.

The child was crossing Pacific Boulevard, having come from a grocery store, when she ran in front of an automobile driven by George W. Demmitt, of 3411 Live Oak street. The driver of the machine attempted to avoid striking the child, but she was hit by a fender of the car. Demmitt picked her up, and with her father, they rushed her to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where she was given first aid, and she was then taken to the Mission Hospital here.

OIL-FIELD WORKERS FACE GAMING CHARGE

INGLEWOOD, July 15.—Charges of crap-shooting as a diversion in the Inglewood oil fields today landed four participants in the tolls of the law when Chief of Police Herbert L. Bennett and Officer J. A. Long interrupted a lively game in the East Side field. J. L. Franks, 640 Manchester Terrace; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Goldstein, 114 South Vermont avenue, Los Angeles, and R. L. Lann, 157 South Vermont avenue, Los Angeles, were taken in custody and brought to the police station, where they were released on $25 bail each. Hearing will be tomorrow.

MEAN TRICK PLAYED ON JURIST

Judge Dudley S. Valentine Tells Glendale Elks About Burglar Alarm on His Car and After His Talk He Finds Contraption Stolen From Machine

GLENDALE, July 15.— Judge Dudley S. Valentine of the Los Angeles Municipal Traffic Court preaches safety first in season and out of season. No detail of motoring precaution is too small to rivet the judge's attention and to form the text for a warning to his brother motorists. Addressing the Elks' Club here last night Judge Valentine told of some of the methods he has adopted to prevent the theft of his car. The Valentine machine is wired with a burglar alarm that is certain, he claimed, to rouse its entire adjacent neighborhood if any thief should try to steal the car or any of its accessories.

When the meeting was over Judge Valentine walked out to the curb with some of the lodge members, and when it was discovered that several tires were missing from cars parked in front of the clubhouse the judge was emphatic in his sympathy. The climax came, however, when Robert Kimball found that the thieves had taken the jack out of the rear of his car and had raised the front end of the machine while they stole one of the front wheels, leaving the car propped up on the jack to fall with a dull thud when Kimball started the motor.

"Come with me," said Judge Valentine, "and I'll show you my burglar alarm that protects my car." Kimball and a few other Elks wandered down the street to the judge's car. Then the Elks had their first real laugh of the evening. While the jurist was lecturing to the Elks some one had come along and ripped the burglar alarm out completely, without making a sound to check the judicial oratory or to disturb any chance passer-by.

NO LUNCH WHEN STOVE AND ICEBOX STOLEN

GLENDALE, July 15.—Mrs. Mary Bearns, 1201 Ethel street, enjoys a pick-up lunch when she comes home from a shopping tour or a bridge party, and when she returned to her home yesterday afternoon she thought she would fix up a snack before she started the work of preparing supper.

When she entered the kitchen, however, she saw that the stove was missing. Before calling the police she decided to console herself with a cold repast from the icebox on the back porch, but that also was gone.

Mrs. Bearns called the police department and asked them to try to recover her stove and the icebox, so that her usual routine in the matter of luncheon may not be too long interrupted.

CITIES ASKED TO ROAD FETE

Santa Ana Chamber Plans Celebration for Opening of Newly Laid Eighty-Foot Artery

SANTA ANA, July 15.—Chamber of Commerce and city officials of more than a score of Southern California towns were issued invitations this afternoon to join with this city in celebrating the opening of Santa Ana Boulevard, the new eighty-foot artery from Anaheim and Fullerton, on the 26th inst. The invitation was extended at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce committee this afternoon.

A caravan of more than 500 automobiles is planned by the committee to be formed at the Orange County Fairgrounds previous to the opening ceremony. Officials of this city, Anaheim, Fullerton, Brea, La Habra, Whittier, Newport Beach, Laguna Beach, San Clemente and many other towns will be asked to participate.

The caravan will proceed to the new highway, where a ribbon closing the road will be cut and the machines will drive over the highway for the first time.

A parade through the business section here will probably end with a program of speaking and music at Birch Park, according to W. C. Jerome, chairman.

Bert B. Meek, State Director of Public Works and an executive officer of the State Highway Commission, will speak at the park.

Ernest Ritter Designs Art for McGroarty Play

TUJUNGA, July 15.—Ernest W. Ritter of Pasadena, former Union Pacific Railroad artist, has been employed by John Steven McGroarty for the designing and producing of all the material for McGroarty's new plays, to be given in a rustic theater which is now being erected in the oak grove at McGroarty's home in "the green Verdugo Hills" here.

Two of these new plays, "El Dorado" and "La Golondrina," are a continuation of California history, taking up where the Mission Play leaves off and completes McGroarty's trilogy of California history. The third play, "Osceola," tells the story of America's greatest Indian, and "Babylon," the last play, to be presented, is a modern satire on present-day life.

Saturday, August 9, will mark the opening of this event with the presentation of the first play, "El Dorado."

Skeleton Found on Desert May be Lost Rancher

SAN DIEGO, July 15.—The skeleton of a man believed to be that of Robert Bisbee, Jr., 23 years of age, who disappeared from his ranch home near Fallbrook last November, was discovered about one mile from the ranch early today, Coroner Schuyler C. Kelly announced. Ralph and Clifford Bisbee, brothers of the missing man, discovered the body. They expressed the belief, from the clothing found near the skeleton, that the remains was those of their brother.

The missing man dropped from sight after leaving his ranch home apparently bound for Etiwanda, near San Bernardino. He is believed to have collapsed on the lonely spot due to ill health and to have been unable to call for help.

The body was removed to the Carl Palm funeral establishment in Fallbrook pending further investigation by Coroner Kelly.

Contract Let on Simi Bridge

VENTURA, July 15.—Awarding a contract for construction of a bridge at Simi near Strathearn Station was made today by the Board of Supervisors, carrying with it an expenditure of $9750 to the low bidder, the Fleming Construction Company of Pomona.

The bridge, which will be built of reinforced concrete, will be ninety feet long and thirty feet wide, according to County Engineer Charles W. Petit.

That the contractor use as much local labor as possible on the job will be requested, according to the recommendation of Supervisor A. J. Dingeman.

Surveys for two proposed roads in Ventura county were ordered today by the Supervisors, and County Engineer Petit instructed to go ahead with the survey work. One survey will be for a road in Piru Canyon, which idea has been agitated by the Piru Chamber of Commerce and indorsed by the Ventura Chamber.

VENTURANS ASSURED OF POSTOFFICE

Chamber Representatives Back from Capital Say $120,000 Now in Bill

VENTURA, July 15.—Within less than one year this city is almost certain to see work started on a Federal postoffice building. An appropriation to buy a site and erect a postoffice here has been approved by the Treasury Department and is now in the office of Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Philp, where it is receiving favorable attention.

This fall a schedule embodying the local and many other items will go to the budget director and an appropriation bill setting aside the recommended sums will be introduced in Congress in December. The money will be available as soon as the measure is signed.

Such was the report brought back yesterday by John Lagomarsino, president, and Roy Pinkerton, director of the Chamber of Commerce, who spent several days in Washington last week.

The amount now designated for the local site and building is $120,000, they reported, adding that this sum may be increased before the bill goes to Congress.

E. Morrison tomorrow at 9 a.m. on a charge of intoxication.

Both Hughes and his companion, Tom Thompson, Hollywood salesman, received injuries, Thompson's right foot being pinned under the car and Hughes suffering severe cuts on his right hand.

They were treated at the County Hospital and then brought to the County Jail, where they posted bail of $50 each. Both were highly indignant at their arrest.

Glendale Body Organized for Civic Progress

GLENDALE, July 15.—Criticism of the asserted apathy of local citizens in general and of the city administration in particular for failure to keep pace with the progress of adjacent communities, last night furnished the starting point for a movement designed to bring about a greater degree of civic growth, to be sponsored by a group of prominent citizens who met at the Masonic Temple.

Traffic problems and the development of improved means of communication with the territory north of here will be among the principal objects of the association, and J. P. McClish, who presided, was authorized to appoint special committees to study and report on needed civic improvements.

The question of annexation to Los Angeles was also broached by several of the speakers but no action was taken beyond the expressed intention of McClish to assign this subject to one of the proposed committees for close study before any move is made to submit it to the voters at a regular or special election.

HOTEL OFFER MADE CITY

If Proposition from A. Gregory Accepted, He Will Erect Handsome Structure in Redlands

REDLANDS, July 15.—Redlands will not only have Orange street widened from State street north to the alley on the west side, but will have a new building and a hotel, either a two-story or a four-story structure, if the proposition to be made to the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce by A. Gregory is accepted.

Gregory left this morning for Alaska where he will spend his vacation with his family but before he left, he mailed two propositions, one to the City Council, the other to the chamber. If both are accepted the city will get a four-story hotel of seventy rooms, all steel and concrete construction, and as handsome a building as there is in the Orange Belt.

In the proposition to the city council it is understood that Gregory will announce that he has, or will have, regained control of the property at State and Orange which he had leased for a period of ninety-nine years to the Pacific Leaseholders Corporation. For eighteen months the council has been at sword's point with the corporation over the benefits and awards for the widening of the street. Gregory was finally drawn into it when the corporation announced it would put up a one-story building there, something Gregory did not want to see on the property.

He will take back the lease, which the corporation is willing to relinquish, and the city will deal with him on the widening of the street. He has indicated he will find no fault with the award of $12,000 by the commissioners for the land only and that he will accept about $15,000 for the building, which must be wrecked, and other incidental expenses. This is about what the Council at one time indicated it was willing to give the lease-holders.

If the City Council agrees to this solution of the widening of the street, Gregory will go ahead with a hotel building, promising to the Council to erect a two-story modern structure building in every respect. The ground floor will be given over to storerooms and the second floor to the hotel, which is to have every modern convenience, cooling and heating systems, bathrooms for each room, and so on.

At the same time he makes a proposition to the chamber for the building of a four-story hotel instead of a two-story, a structure for which he now has the architect's drawings. Gregory will agree to do this provided he is given the $10,000 pledged from downtown property owners to get a hotel on East State street. The building would be of steel and concrete well furnished and finished, with a lobby on State street.

The exhibition's full name is the Autumn Fashion Promenade of the Garment Retailers of America and it officially ushered in both fall and winter, calendars to the contrary notwithstanding.

In the Astor ballroom more than 1500 manufacturers and retailers from all parts of the country viewed for two hours a glittering procession of mannikins displaying 125 creations of fifty-eight American creators.

GRECIAN INFLUENCE

To listen to experts the Grecian influence has crept into costuming. Straight classical lines were much in evidence in the new dress silhouette.

Waistlines were where nature first put them and were clearly defined by belts or pinched-in effects. Coats had a bloused effect and there was a tendency to play both coats and dresses close to the hips.

KNEES COVERED

As for skirt lengths, they opened in sports wear at fourteen inches from the ground and closed on the evening gowns way down by the ankles. They hovered all over the lot between these limits but were unanimous in covering the knee at any cost.

Autumn brides will be garbed in the full-blown bouffant style of the nineties and satin is used, embroidered with pearls.

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) July 15. (AP) Todd Meacham of Chattanooga was assured the Republican nomination for junior United States Senator from Tennessee for the short term when Paul E. Divine, Johnson City, withdrew today from that race. Divine is unopposed for the long-term nomination.

COOLIDGE'S WIFE LOST AND FOUND

Former President Also Told by Democrat He Can be Elected Again

BOSTON, July 15. (AP)—Former President Calvin Coolidge, although he took no active part in the tercentenary exercises and did not speak, figured prominently in two out-of-the-ordinary incidents today.

First, he lost his wife.

Second, he was informed by James M. Curley, Democratic Mayor of Boston, he might be President again if he chooses.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge were received by Gov. and Mrs. Allen at the State House today. While on his way there he suddenly discovered Mrs. Coolidge was not with him.

She was found later with Mrs. Allen.

As Mayor Curley mounted the speakers' stand on the Common to begin his address, he turned to recognize notables gathered there and facing Mr. Coolidge, said:

"Honored President that has been and, if he so desires, may again be," —then proceeding with his prepared address.

Mr. Coolidge's face remained inscrutable.

Ex-Ambassador Baron Howard

LONDON, July 15. (AP)—Sir Esme Howard, former British Ambassador to the United States, who was granted a barony in the recent King's birthday honors, has taken the title of Baron Howard of Penrith.

Official announcement of his selection was made in today's London Gazette.

BERKELEY STUDENT DROWNS AT TACOMA

TACOMA (Wash.) July 15. (AP)—Norman Gunn, 17-year-old Berkeley (Cal.) high-school senior, was drowned in Lake Stellacoom near Tacoma today. With Miss Mary Harris of Tacoma and Chris Redlich of Burlingame, Cal., Gunn had been boating on the lake. All were in bathing suits and when their oars were lost overboard Gunn and Miss Harris dived into the water to retrieve them. Miss Harris brought one back, but Gunn was seen to collapse and sink just as he reached the other oar.

GLIDER ACCIDENT FATAL

NORFOLK (Va.) July 15. (AP)—Darwin Smith, 20 years of age, transport licensed airplane pilot, was killed today in a glider accident at the State rifle range at Virginia Beach.

GROWERS GIVEN FINAL CHANCE

Sign-up Will Continue as Contracts Are Checked

Latest Reports Show 35,000 Acres Needed to Win

Teague Names Three Men to Verify Signatures

FRESNO, July 15. (Exclusive)—Faced with the greatest crisis the grape and raisin industry has ever known, leaders in the campaign to secure 85 per cent of the State tonnage enrolled in the government relief plan, marshaled their forces feverishly today to obtain added contracts.

Although the Farm Board announced the personnel of the committee of three that will check the result immediately, workers were given a chance to enroll additional acreage during this check and in this was seen possible hope in securing acreage necessary to satisfy the Federal board's demands.

No count was available late this afternoon, but the last reported shortage was 35,000 acres, diminished from the rechecked shortage of 38,000 when the drive closed at midnight last night by signing of the 2300 acres of M. D. Hopper, Palo Alto vineyardist, and other holdings.

Given several days of grace, leaders called on their workers to rally and urged every grower who has not signed to do so immediately. The Farm Board checkers are E. E. Kaufman, State agricultural statistician; Dr. Alonzo E. Taylor, Stanford University, and H. R. Tolley, University of California.

The executive committee of the grape drive organization under the chairmanship of Wylie M. Giffen met hurriedly today and issued a call for the formation of Save-the-Day Clubs in the San Joaquin Valley to bring in the needed contracts. Meetings in valley communities were being arranged today at which the graveness of the situation will be stressed.

"We have only a few days left, the period until the official check is made," said Giffen. "Every moment counts and every acre counts. A moment or an acre lost may lose us the fight; a moment or an acre signed may be the determining factor."

TEAGUE SAYS SIGN-UP MUST APPROXIMATE GOAL

WASHINGTON, July 15. (Exclusive)—C. C. Teague of Santa Paula, Cal., Federal Farm Board commissioner for fruits and vegetables and author of the grape stabilization program, today announced the personnel of the committee which is to make a check of the acreage sign-up under the government's plan for assisting the California industry.

At the same time Mr. Teague announced that the sign-up committee had been authorized to continue to accept acreage contracts pending the determination of whether the total sign-up has reached the desired 85 per cent of acreage.

Commissioner Teague was asked what the Farm Board's policy would be in event the ultimate figures should fail to show 85 per cent of the California grape industry united in the stabilization plan. His answer was this:

"The contracts provide that the acreage sign-up must be approximately 85 per cent. The board will not act unless the sign-up is close to that figure. If it is slightly under that figure the board may conclude to enter anyway. If there is a large discrepancy it would not be fair to the signers to go ahead."

Asked if he intended to go to California, Teague said that if the sign-up is successful he will visit the State to confer with the control board on final plans for putting the stabilization program into operation.

As to the Farm Board's representation on the Grape-Control Board, it was explained by Mr. Teague that one member of the control group is to be selected with the approval of the Federal board and that suggestions for filling this place were expected from California.

KERN COUNTY ACREAGE SIGN-UP 97 PER CENT

HANFORD, July 15. (AP)—With announcement today that the 1100-acre Lucerne vineyard had signed in the final hours of the Federal grape-stabilization drive, Kings county went over the quota in its sign-up campaign, with 97 per cent of the grape acreage of the county signed. Total county vineyard acreage is 12,088 and acreage signed, 11,779.

KERN GRAPES MOVING OUT BY RAIL AND ROAD

LEBEC, July 15. (Exclusive)—From Arvin, Weedpatch, Di Giorgio, Magunden and Bakersfield, cars crammed to the roof with Thompson seedless grapes are now rolling toward eastern markets, while huge trucks are lumbering southward to Los Angeles with similar cargoes. Day and night inspection is being maintained at the station here with Kern and Los Angeles counties cooperating, L. A. Burtch, Kern county agricultural commissioner, said today.

In ten districts of the county, agricultural inspectors of the commissioner's office are making hundreds of grape inspections to determine whether or not the fruit meets the requirements of the Standardization Act before shipment is permitted.

Shippers who do not desire to have their trucks delayed here may obtain clearance certificates from inspectors in the district in which the load has its origin. Inspectors are stationed at Arvin, Weedpatch, Di Giorgio, Magunden, Bakersfield, Lerdo, Shafter, Wasco, McFarland and Delano.

Future World May Live on Air

BIRMINGHAM (Eng.) July 15. (AP)—Dr. Herbert Levenstein today told the Central Chemical Industry the world might in the future live on air.

Besides synthetic nitrogen, he said, the air might yet supply synthetic coal to replace fuel and the world's raw materials and power might ultimately be drawn from the air, the water, the soil and the sun.

GOLFER MAKES GRAND SLAM

Peeved at Hazard, Player Follows Balls With Outfit, Including Caddy

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS (W. Va.) July 15. (AP)—William Chapin hit three straight balls into the water hazard at the eighteenth hole of the Greenbrier golf course today and it made him plenty mad.

Picking up the remaining balls he threw them in. Next he pitched in his clubs. His golf bag followed.

Chapin's caddy snickered, so Chapin tossed him in.

Chapin then jumped in himself and rescued balls, clubs, bag and caddy.

BOY'S NECK THOUGHT TO BE BROKEN

Sixteen-Year-Old Youth Found Unconscious in Irrigation Ditch

FRESNO, July 15.—Brought back to life after he was dragged unconscious from an irrigation ditch, George Shamlin, 16 years of age, was a patient in the County General Hospital this afternoon fighting to retain the spark of life that firemen had succeeded in recalling after a quarter-of-an-hour's work with an inhalator.

The youth was found in the irrigation ditch at Milbrook avenue where he had been swimming. He was examined at the hospital where it was believed he had sustained a broken neck, probably by striking his head in diving into the ditch.

Heat "Unusual" in Bakersfield

BAKERSFIELD, July 15.—With overcast skies, a temperature of 111 deg. brought oppressive heat to this city and Kern county today, greater than any time for the past three years.

No prostrations were reported, however, as high temperatures seldom bring great discomfort except when accompanied by extreme humidity.

PILGRIMS MEET POPE

VATICAN CITY, July 15. (AP)—The Pope today gave an audience to 500 pilgrims from California who were introduced by the Jesuit father, Joseph R. Stack.

LEOPOLD AUER, VIRTUOSO, DIES

Violin Master and Teacher Was 85 Years of Age

Many Great Performers Were His Pupils

Had Resided in America Since World War

DRESDEN (Germany) July 15. (AP)—Leopold Auer, 85 years of age, of New York, celebrated violinist and violin instructor, died of pneumonia today at the Sanatorium Loschwitz near here.

Pupil of two of the greatest violinists of the nineteenth century, Leopold Auer in the latter decades of that 100-year cycle became recognized as one of the great masters of the instrument and, in turn, the teacher of several who achieved international fame as performers in the twentieth century.

PUPIL OF JOACHIM

Although a native of Hungary, Mr. Auer before coming to the United States in 1918 had lived in Russia fifty years, during which time he was one of the outstanding figures in the musical life of the old capital, St. Petersburg, when that city was one of the prominent musical centers of Europe. Many honors were conferred upon him by the Czarist government.

Born at Veszbrem in Hungary June 7, 1845, Mr. Auer at the age of 12 years became a pupil of Jacob Dont at the Vienna Conservatory and after two years there studied with Joseph Joachim, regarded by many as the greatest violinist of his time. Years later it was said of Auer that for nobility of style he was second only to Joachim.

RESIDED IN NEW YORK

Early in 1918 Mr. Auer concluded a concert tour in the Scandinavian countries and came directly to the United States, having resided here since. He had planned at the conclusion of his tour to return to Russia and his work at the conservatory at St. Petersburg, which had become Petrograd, and later Leningrad, but because of the Bolshevik revolution and the conditions that prevailed he determined to come to this country. Upon arriving in New York he was quoted as saying: "This is the only country where I can live now."

In the number of pupils who had gained world fame, Mr. Auer is said to have been the equal of any of the great master teachers. Among his pupils were Mischa Elman, Efrem Zimbalist, Jascha Heifetz, Kathleen Parlow, Isolde Menges, Eddy Brown and Max Rosen. The success of his pupils has been regarded as the master's great service to his art, a service that has immeasurably advanced the cause of music.

Timely Tips to Buyers of Real Estate

No matter what kind of property you're thinking of buying, it will pay you to look through TIMES WANT ADS

WALLACE ASSIGNED TO FILM

Elsie Ferguson's Juvenile Likely to be With M.-G.-M.; Universal Changes Richard Blair's Name Again; Buster Keaton Leaving for World Travel

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Now that Richard Wallace is all freshened up from his trip around the world and yet has been home long enough to feel like settling down to work, that director was especially delighted to learn a few days ago that his next directorial effort will be a film talking version of "The Right to Love," by Susan Glaspell, the story being one of foreign background.

RICHARD WALLACE

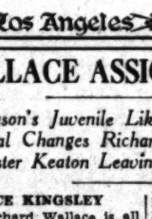
Ruth Chatterton is to have the star part in it, but so far no cast is ready for announcement. Miss Chatterton has just finished "Anybody's Woman."

Zoe Akins, that clever lady who wrote "Declasse" and other smart plays, is adapting the Glaspell story to the screen, including the dialogue. She adapted two of Miss Chatterton's former plays.

The story is one of England, France and America, and as Mr. Wallace has just made a trip through those countries, during which he made copious notes on some of the very locations where the story is laid, it is natural that he should be enthusiastic over his next task.

TOM DOUGLAS MAY SIGN WITH M.-G.-M.

More and more of the stage people are being drafted into the movies.



TOM DOUGLAS

And now it is Tom Douglas, who created a sensation as the impressionable country youth in Ernest Vajda's "Fata Morgana," starring Elsie Ferguson at the Hollywood Playhouse, when the play opened on Monday night, who is likely to be snatched unto the bosom of the talkers.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is reported to be in negotiation with the young actor with a view to signing him on a long-term contract.

Kane Richmond Plays Lead

Kane Richmond is to play the leading male role in Universal's talking production of "The Leather Pushers."

KANE RICHMOND

But don't be worried. You still may look forward to seeing Richard Blair. For Kane Richmond is none other than he.

The change of name came about as a result of Universal deciding that they wanted to build Richmond as a star, he being, they consider, most promising material in that direction, and they did not consider that Richard Blair was romantic enough in sound for a romantic hero on the screen. As for his real name, Jack Bowditch, of course that was impossible.

It was Carl Laemmle, Jr., Stanley Bergerman and Sam Friedman, sitting in solemn conclave, who finally, from among some hundred names submitted, chose the name Kane Richmond.

Mitchell Lewis Signed

Casting of Universal's comedy, "See America Thirst," in which Harry Langdon and Slim Summerville are to be cofeatured, with William H. Craft directing, is going merrily along.

MITCHELL LEWIS

Mitchell Lewis was signed yesterday for an important featured role, and Matthew Betz also received an excellent assignment.

The comedians, together with Craft and cameramen, are leaving today for work on location at Santa Paula.

Buster Keaton Travels

En route for his vacation in Europe, Buster Keaton, screen comedian, sailed from New York yesterday on the liner Bremen, according to wires received at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

Keaton, who signed a new long-term contract with the studios just prior to his departure, will be gone several months, visiting England, France and Germany. He and Mrs. Keaton plan to purchase an automobile in Europe and tour out-of-the-way places off the beaten track of sightseers.

While the comedian is away, a new story will be prepared, and he will return to plunge immediately into production. His last comedy was "The Big Shot."

Tully Marshall With Paramount

How former professional pals are getting together in these talking versions of old pictures, to be sure!

Take "Fighting Caravans," for instance, Gary Cooper's next starring vehicle. Not only is Ernest Torrence to appear in it, playing his old role, as heretofore announced, but it is understood that Tully Marshall also, who appeared in the former picture, likewise will have his original role.

Jack Holmes In It

Jack Holmes, well known on the New York stage for his work in "Abie's Irish Rose," "What Price Glory," and "Diamond Lil," has been signed by Paramount for a featured part with Gary Cooper in "The Spoilers."

This will be the actor's first motion-picture role since 1914, when he played under contract to Lubin in the Philadelphia studios.

Edgar Neville Arrives

Edgar Neville, titled Spanish playwright-novelist-diplomat, arrived yesterday in Hollywood to begin work in the preparation of talking pictures in his native language, relinquishing his post with the Spanish Embassy in Washington to accept the assignment with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Neville is one of the best-known dramatists of the modern school in Spain, his latest work, "Fender," now being in course of preparation for production in New York with an English translation.

Mayan Presents Final Matinee of Play Today

The last matinee of "Molly Magdalene," Crane Wilbur's new comedy drama, will be given at the Mayan Theater today. The local engagement will terminate Saturday night.

Negotiations are now under way to play San Francisco, with bookings in Chicago and New York to follow. The Shuberts have offered Rosen very liberal terms as an inducement to bring the show east, it is said, as Crane Wilbur is popular in New York.

Wynne Gibson heads the "Molly Magdalene" cast, which also includes Wilbur, Georges Renavant, Hedwiga Reicher, Cornelius Keefe, Dorothy Sills and others.

RAVEL NOVELTY EVENT AT BOWL

Large Audience Intrigued by Composer's "Bolero"

Karl Kreuger as Conductor Favored in Ovation

Evidence That Audience Wants New Disclosed

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The atmosphere of receptiveness at Hollywood Bowl concerts rose more than a few degrees last evening with the presentation of the first forthright novelty of the current season. Maurice Ravel's "Bolero" proved a bright event of the series of programs to date and the response to its performance was a genuine ovation.

Bowl audiences want the new in music. They desire "first time" compositions at all events, when these are interesting. And though Ravel's "Bolero" is not the sweeping and cosmic affair that his "La Valse" is, this work is undoubtedly the flower of a resourceful and ardent skill on its evolver's part as an orchestrator.

To give a persistent interest to one single theme for the space of seven or eight minutes devoted to a constant repetition is no small feat. And Ravel's treatment of a comparatively simple musical idea is unquestionably brilliant.

The "Bolero" often intrigues because of its delicate and adroit suggestion that the composer is going to move into other melodic territory, yet he holds to his idee fixee without the slightest fundamental veering, coloring it most ingeniously with the instrumentation. In a sense, the "Bolero" is little more than a trick composition, but it is an exceedingly clever one.

KREUGER CONDUCTS

The concert brought the debut of Karl Krueger as a conductor in the outdoor concert locale, and the ultimate applause, with bravos, was an undoubted tribute to the impression that he made on his audience. He proffered a program of noteworthy quality, and of that variety which the Bowl public particularly enjoys. One could not help but appreciate his seeking for contrasts, when he brought the Ravel Bolero with Three Dances from a ballet by Rameau in juxtaposition. The old and the new with a vengeance!

The Rameau was also a first performance here. It would have been more suitably placed, perhaps, if it had preceded rather than followed the Bolero, because its quiet quality was somewhat dimmed by the Ravel brilliance. Fragile old-world music, this, in any case.

SYMPHONIC NUMBER

The Brahms Symphony No. 2 in D major gave the most satisfaction under the Krueger baton in the first and final movements. In the first especially. Neither the Adagio nor the Allegretto had the fluent beauty that is desirable in these two sections, though the rendition in its way was creditable enough. Krueger exhibits especial vitality in bringing out the dramatic rather than the poetic effect, judging by these initial interpretations. His fortissimi are often more effective than his pianissimi. But then one cannot ask too much of an opening concert with limited rehearsal.

It was good to hear the "Introduction to Act III" from "Lohengrin" as a closing selection. This achieves inevitably a climaxing note in a concert. "The Overture to Coriolanus" was the remaining number.

Krueger has scheduled two interesting novelties again for his second concert Thursday evening, notably the "First Gymnopedie," by Satie.

Greta Garbo

DRAMATIC FILM NEXT AT WARNER

"Way of All Men" Starts Run Friday; Two Comics Featured on Stage

"The Way of All Men," adapted from the stage play, "The Sin Flood," is to have its world premiere at Warner Brothers' Hollywood Theater starting Friday. Olsen and Johnson will perform in the new Larry Ceballos stage revue.

"The Way of All Men" is the second Warner special of 1930-31 and is said to be one of the most intense dramas of the year. The picture builds to an emotional climax with a different ending than usual.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Dorothy Revier, Anders Randolf, Robert Edeson, Noah Beery and William Courtenay head the all-star cast. Frank Lloyd directed. The new Ceballos revue includes 125 persons.

VEHICLE OF NOTED STAR SCHEDULED

Ronald Colman Plays Typical Role in New Film, "Raffles"

Ronald Colman, hero of "Bulldog Drummond" and "Condemned," will open Greater Movie Season at the United Artists Theater with his latest production, "Raffles." The world premiere of this picture will start on the 23rd inst.

"Raffles" is taken from the novel and play, "The Amateur Cracksman." It is said to be replete with adventure, suspense and romance. Ronald Colman promises to eclipse his previous efforts in the new film.

Heading the supporting cast are Kay Francis and David Torrence. Miss Francis plays opposite Colman, while Torrence is seen as the Scotland Yard detective. Unlike the preceding Colman vehicles, "Raffles" will be presented at a continuous-run theater at popular prices.

Noted Leader Has Title of "Pied Piper"

"The Pied Piper of Seattle" is a sobriquet given Karl Krueger, this week's guest conductor at the Hollywood Bowl, for the influence he has exerted on the younger generation of the Northwest in his celebrated symphony concerts for young people in Seattle.

KARL KRUEGER

Krueger's development of the Seattle Symphony Orchestra in the past three years has been designated as "miraculous" but almost as great has been his work of creating and developing the musical taste and understanding of the young people of the city.

He is one of the most brilliant among the younger generation of conductors, being 36 years old. Moulded under the influence of Nikisch and Weingartner, his great musical gifts aroused the interest of Robert Fuchs, the "Grand Old Man of Vienna," who taught more celebrities than any other teacher of his time. It was later that Franz Schalk, director of the Vienna Opera, discovered Krueger's genius, and made him his assistant.

R.-K.-O. Studio Fetes Noted Comic Team

"Amos 'n' Andy," otherwise known as Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll, were guests of honor at an informal reception given by R.-K.-O. studios to about 150 members of the local newspaper and magazine staffs at the Beverly-Wilshire Hotel yesterday.

The two, well known in radio circles for their comical "Amos 'n' Andy" skits, arrived in town a day or so ago to make a picture for R.-K.-O. for which they will receive $500,000 cash and one-half of the gross profits.

"The pitchah," drawled Amos yesterday, "is importahnt, but what we all ah reahlly int'rested in is that thah new radio contract for seven yeahs we just signed."

While here, Andy confided, they will continue to broadcast daily over KECA. The national program goes out at 3:30 daily and the local offering at 7:30 p.m., both over the remote-control station located at R.-K.-O. studio.

Both Amos 'n' Andy (Gosden and Correll) are young men, of the type of the average hard-working young American. Both are married. Gosden has two children—Freeman, Jr., 9 years of age, and Virginia Marie, 2 months. Their wives are with them.

Basil Rathbone and Kay Johnson in New Picture

Norma Shearer in "The Divorcees" will leave the Boulevard Theater screen after tonight's performances, to be followed by a film drama, "This Mad World," in which leading roles are portrayed by Kay Johnson and Basil Rathbone.

Miss Johnson made her screen debut in "Dynamite," in which her characterization was said to be as fine as the production itself. Rathbone comes to the screen with many years of stage experience behind him. His recent appearance with Norma Shearer in "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" won him the recognition of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer officials, who claim him to be one of the most capable leading men in the film colony.

Sid Grauman to Present Record Flyers on Stage

Starting on the 23rd inst. the Hunter brothers, record endurance flyers who stayed in the air for 553 hours, will make personal appearances and describe their flight experiences in connection with the showing of "Hell's Angels" at Grauman's Chinese Theater.

The flyers are scheduled to arrive in Hollywood Tuesday and it is announced that a civic reception is being planned in their honor. On the way to the Coast they will stop off at St. Louis, Kansas City and other cities.

The brothers, John and Kenneth, who made the record flight, will pilot the City of Chicago here, while Walter and Albert, who manned the refueling plane, will bring that ship to Hollywood.

'Big House' to Close in Week at Criterion

"The Big House" starts its last week at the Criterion Theater today. On the 23rd inst. "Our Blushing Brides," with Joan Crawford and five supporting leading women, will be the feature film.

Raymond Hackett, Robert Montgomery and John Miljan are the three leading men who will court Joan Crawford, Anita Page and Dorothy Sebastian in "Our Blushing Brides." Mary Doran, Gwen Lee, Hedda Hopper, Edward Brophy, Robert Emmett O'Connor and Albert Conti also appear.

MELODRAMA BOOKED AT DOWNTOWN

Constance Bennett, Eric Von Stroheim Play Chief Roles in New Film

"Three Faces East," Warner Brothers' Vitaphone mystery melodrama, adapted from the stage play by Anthony Paul Kelly, is to be the next attraction at Warners' Downtown Theater starting Friday, simultaneously with the opening of the first Larry Ceballos stage revue.

Appearing in the starring roles of the film production are Constance Bennett and Eric Von Stroheim. The story depicts the conflict between love and duty and centers around the diplomatic relations between great powers. Anthony Bushell plays an important role.

William Courtenay, Charlotte Walker, Crauford Kent and William Von Brincken are included in the cast. The production was directed by Roy Del Ruth.

"Bright Lights" closes tomorrow night.

NEW SCREEN PAIR COSTAR IN COMEDY

Sue Carol, Arthur Lake Play Leading Roles in "She's My Weakness"

Sue Carol and Arthur Lake, Radio's new screen team, hurdle the bumps of romance in their first comedy-drama, "She's My Weakness," starting Thursday at the R.-K.-O. Theater.

A different type of romance is declared to have been injected into this comedy. The picture is an adaptation of the stage play, "Tommy," by Howard Lindsay and Bertrand Robinson.

Prominent roles are handled by Lucien Littlefield, William Collier, Sr., Helen Ware, Alan Bunce, Emily Fitzroy and Walter Gilbert. Melville Brown directed.

Two headline features are offered in the R.-K.-O. vaudeville entertainment. Harry and Willie Lander share honors with Palm Beach Nights, a tropical revue. Also on the program are Sybil Vane Welch, prima donna, and George Andre and company.

Comedians to Play on Stage

Mitzi Green, 9-year-old pantomimist and comedienne of the screen, will be seen in person on the Paramount Theater stage tomorrow night in a comic sketch with Stuart Erwin. Both players are featured with Clara Bow in her latest Paramount production, "Love Among the Millionaires," which opens tomorrow.

Mitzi, who was well known on the vaudeville stage before entering pictures, is noted mainly for her mimicking of favorite actors. She will do a number of her imitations as well as provide a foil for Erwin.

Agnes De Mille Dances Tonight at Music Box

The second series of unique pantomime dance stories of Agnes De Mille takes place this evening at the Hollywood Music Box Theater.

Three new dances which Miss De Mille has devised for her European tour next fall will be given their world premiere tonight at the recital. "Cafe Dancer" will caricature the dancing of the Ouled Nail, North African tribe of dancing women. "The Parvenues" will describe the artificial elegance of ballroom dancing in the middle seventies. In this number Agnes De Mille wears a pink satin ball gown with a train that literally reaches the width of the stage.

Warren Leonard will again be seen as Miss De Mille's partner, as well as in several solo numbers of his own creation. Mme. Boleslavsky will act as accompanist.

Barker Brothers Plan Recital

At Barker Brothers' Auditorium a recital of George Liebling's compositions will take place under the management of Mr. Sherman Hill tomorrow afternoon. The program contains numerous songs and solo pieces for violin and piano, and two dance numbers. Miss Orline Burrow, violin; Miss Margaret Crist, lyric soprano; Princess Leuscha-enya, contralto; Miss Evelyn Shapiro, pianist; Carla Laemmle, dancer; Manuel Perez, dancer, and Gerald Goldwater, baritone, will assist.

PACIFIC MUTUAL BUSINESS GAINS

Company Sets Record Day for Sixty-two Years

July Contracts About Double Same 1929 Period

Total Six Months' Writings Up $11,893,972

Establishing a new daily record since its incorporation more than sixty-two years ago, Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company on the 7th inst. received 745 applications for life insurance totaling $3,770,000, George I. Cochran, president of the company, announced yesterday in a statement which also showed that the company has made a gain each month this year over the corresponding period last year.

Up to the close of business on the 14th inst., total new business written in July amounted to $8,016,270, as against $4,454,440 in the first fourteen days of the same month last year, a gain of $3,561,830, or nearly 80 per cent.

During the six months ended June 30, last, new paid-for business aggregated $44,269,645, as against $40,940,437 in the first half of 1929, an increase of $3,309,203. Total written business for the half year amounted to $8,631,168, compared with $54,737,196 during the same period last year, a gain of $11,893,972.

Fully 80 per cent of this business was written east of the Rocky Mountains, whereas a few years ago the bulk of the company's business was obtained in the West, it was stated.

Inasmuch as the last six months of the year are usually the best life insurance months for the Pacific Mutual, the company confidently expects to make a larger increase before the year closes, Mr. Cochran said.

State Guaranty Disburses Extra

In addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 32½ cents a share, an extra dividend of 12 cents a share yesterday was paid preferred stockholders of State Guaranty Corporation, sole stock owner of Pacific States Savings and Loan Company.

Earnings of Pacific States Savings and Loan Company for the six months ended June 30, last, were the largest for any corresponding period in the company's history, totaling $351,-1.73 after allowance for Federal income taxes, according to Robert S. Odell, president. During the ten-day July reinvestment period, the company opened 3882 new accounts for a total of $3,351,966, bringing the resources up to more than $68,000,000.

Gasoline Pipe Line Planned

NEW YORK, July 15. (Exclusive) Great Lakes Pipe Line Company, formed by Barnsdall Corporation and Continental Oil Company, will construct a 1400-mile gasoline pipe line which will be eight inches in diameter and will run from Barnsdall, Okla., to Des Moines, Iowa, with a six-inch branch line to run from Des Moines to Chicago to Milwaukee.

The capacity of the line will be 80,000 barrels daily. The construction cost will be in excess of $12,-000,000. It is proposed to have distributing plants every sixty miles. D. J. Moran will be president and E. B. Reeser, chairman of the board of the company, which will start laying the pipe line about the middle of August.

EARNINGS OF CEMENT COMPANY DECLINE

NEW YORK, July 15.—Pennsylvania-Dixie Cement Corporation for the twelve months ended June 30, last, today reported net profits of $304,853 after all charges and Federal taxes, equal to $2.24 a share on 136,386 shares of 7 per cent preferred stock as compared with $975,-813, or 6 cents a share on 400,000 no-par common shares after dividends on the 7 per cent preferred stock in the preceding twelve months.

PHILLIPS OIL EXPANDS

NEW YORK, July 15.—Phillips Petroleum Company announced today the acquisition of the marketing facilities of the Gilliland Oil Company of New Mexico, a wholly owned subsidiary of the Reserve Petroleum Company. The refinery and other interests of the Gilliland Oil Company are not affected by the transaction.

M. Keys, president, announced today.

Net earnings for the six months ended June 30, amounted to $1,001,-401, or 50 cents a share, against $888,788 for the last half of 1929. The major portion of the total income was from the Sperry Gyroscope Company, Ford Instrument Company and Eastern Air Transport, wholly owned subsidiaries. Mr. Keys stated that a new policy is being inaugurated by which the company will "enlarge its controlling and operating functions, rather than its investment functions."

Holly Company Oil Profits Up

Holly Development Company reported yesterday net profits for the six months ended June 30 of $92,-710.89 after all charges, equal to more than 10 cents a share on the 900,000 shares of capital stock outstanding, or the full year's dividend requirements, against $54,[illegible]73, or 6 cents a share for the first half of 1929.

Cash on hand of $339,018.31, equivalent to $3.76 a share, is practically unchanged from a year ago. Net profits in the first quarter this year totaled $43,981.83. Reserve for depreciation now totals $709,070 and for depletion $526,154.53, while oil leases, wells, equipment, etc., are valued on the books at $2,128,115. Investments and advances at cost total $111,000, oil inventory, $1418, and accounts receivable, $26,010.

COTTON OUTLOOK DUBIOUS

California Growers Apprehensive as Market Holds Below Costs of Production

BY DOUGLAS A. McKAY

California's cotton crop, which in the space of a very few years has jumped into a position of major importance as a money producer, is faced today with the dangerous spectacle of a market that has dropped below the cost of production. Inasmuch as last season's crop, with its by-products, returned something like $30,000,000 to growers in the State, placing it next in value to citrus fruits, hay and grapes, the perplexing situation is of no little concern.

Futures in New York averaged around 20 cents per pound in March, 1929, or sixteen months ago. Since that date the average price in practically each successive month has steadily receded to a market, today which hovers at or slightly below 13 cents, the lowest since late in 1926. In July a year ago December futures ranged between 19.77 and 18.23.

COST ESTIMATES VARY

Despite the California advantages of climate, soil, regulated irrigation and absence of the boll weevil, which, combined, increase the yield per acre, the question of comparative costs of production with the average throughout the great southern cotton belt is open to dispute. The advantages are offset, partially, at least, by irrigation and water costs, higher-priced labor and land values, including taxes, and in some cases the greater costs of transportation of the product to more distant markets.

Opinions vary on production costs. In the cotton belt most students of the problem place the average around 16 cents a pound. While a greater yield per acre is a factor in reducing the cost of production—and the average yield in California last season was 399 pounds per acre, or two and one-half times the average of 155 pounds for the nation—when land values, water costs and all other things are considered, the California cost per acre is generally thought to approximate the 16-cent level.

How far the downward trend of prices will continue or when the tide will turn upward is problematical.

ACREAGE HOLDS HIGH

Despite the efforts of the Federal Farm Board and co-operative marketing associations to influence a curtailment of planting, acreage for the coming season as recently reported by the government, showed a reduction of but 2.7 per cent for the nation. This was in the face of steadily sinking prices. California cut about 10 per cent.

Export figures for the past season further aggravate the situation. World depression has restricted buying in foreign fields to the extent that the carry-over is believed to be about 1,000,000 bales greater than at the end of the preceding season.

ORIENT TRADE SOUGHT

Trade with the Orient would bring some measure of relief to the grower in this State. California has been attempting to stimulate Far East sales for some years and exports into that territory have been steadily growing. It is understood that more effort will be expended in this direction. Practically all of the California and a considerable portion of the Arizona crop is shipped out of the Los Angeles Harbor. The value of these exports today is greater than that of any other product except petroleum, and surpasses by far shipments of any other agricultural product.

Result of the overbalanced supply to the demand may mean that a portion of the cotton may remain unpicked on the fields. The consensus that seems to prevail is that in the final analysis the future of the cotton industry hinges on the general prosperity or the power to consume goods.

Crane Company Notes on Mart

Public offering of $12,000,000 Crane Company ten-year 5 per cent sinking-fund gold notes will be made today by Continental Illinois Company at 100 and accrued interest. The notes, which will be dated August 1, 1930, constitute the only funded debt of the company, which is the largest manufacturer and distributor of sanitary appliances and fixtures, and valves and fittings for controlling and conveying steam, water, air and gases.

Net tangible assets as of December 31, last, after giving effect to this financing, were given at $118,-501,868, or more than $9800 for each $1000 note. The company has paid dividends on its common stock regularly since 1885 with the exception of 1912, although dividends were earned in that year. It has issued and outstanding $14,790,000 of 7 per cent preferred and $59,417,700 or $25 par-value common stock.

NORFOLK AND WESTERN

The main line of this important coal road, all double-tracked, extends from Norfolk, Va., on the Atlantic seaboard, into the bituminous coal fields of West Virginia and then on into the highly industrialized section surrounding Cincinnati and Columbus, O. Several branch lines tap outlying areas in Northern and Western Virginia, Kentucky and North Carolina. Approximately 80 per cent of freight tonnage is accounted for by soft coal, with the remaining 20 per cent largely in the manufactures and miscellaneous classifications. Under the Interstate Commerce Commission consolidation plan Norfolk and Western is to be grouped with th Wabash system.

A high freight-traffic density and average trainload have resulted in great operating efficiency and high net earnings during the past few years. A conservative dividend policy has resulted in plowing back more than half the net income for the intensive improvement of roadbed and equipment. Net income for 1929, reflecting both increased traffic and reduced costs of operation, jumped to $41,786,500 from the $30,-727,000 net reported in 1928.

Slight Pick-up Noted in Steel Mill Activity

NEW YORK, July 15.—Steel ingot production of the United States Steel Corporation was at 63 per cent in the past week against 55 per cent in the week of the Independence Day shut-down. In the last week of June the corporation was running at 69 per cent capacity.

The independent companies are now estimated to be at about 52 per cent capacity against 42 per cent during the holiday week and 59 per cent the week previous. For the entire industry the rate is slightly better than 57 per cent against 48 per cent for the holiday week and 64 per cent in the last week in June.

At this time last year, United States Steel was at better than 99 per cent with the independents around 91 per cent and the average was 95 per cent. In the middle of July of 1928, United States Steel operated at 73 per cent and independents at 67 per cent while the average was in excess of 69½ per cent.

HUGE UNION OF NITRATE UNITS MADE

Combine of Twenty-eight Companies Will Exploit Chile Deposits

NEW YORK, July 15. (AP)—Details of the formation of the $375,-000,000 Chile Nitrate Company, representing a consolidation of virtually the entire Chilean nitrate industry, were announced here today in a statement authorized by Pablo Ramirez, Paris representative of the government of Chile.

The Chilean Congress has eliminated, in favor of the new company, the export tax on nitrate and iodine and is receiving in return half of the stock of the corporation and guaranteed minimum returns for the next three years, amounting in 1931 to $22,500,000, in 1932 to $20,-000,000, and in 1933 to $17,500,000. Thereafter the government will rely on the dividends on its stock and a 6 per cent income tax to compensate for the loss of revenue resulting from elimination of the tax. The latter item has averaged about $30,000,000 a year for the last three years.

Twenty-eight companies, representing more than 91 per cent of Chile's productive nitrate capacity, have approved the merger plan. Half of the new company's stock will be used for acquisition of the existing nitrate concerns and stockholders of those companies will receive shares of Chile Nitrate Company on the basis of the respective contributions of the constituents.

The proposal has been approved by Anglo-Chilean Consolidated Nitrate Corporation, which owns the so-called Guggenheim process for extraction of nitrate from ore.

The authorized capitalization of the new company will comprise 15,-000,000 Series A common shares to be issued to the Chilean government and 15,000,000 Series B shares, including a block of 7 per cent preference stock. The funded indebtedness of the component companies will remain outstanding.

Aircraft Sales Point Upward

Reflecting an unexpected pick-up in sales during May and June, which indicates the period of depression in the aviation industry is over, Detroit Aircraft Corporation yesterday announced that gross sales for the first six months ended June 30, last, amounted to $1,648,046. Seventy-nine ships valued at $631,046 were delivered in the period and unfilled orders for forty-four ships with a gross value of $1,017,000 were reported on hand as of the 1st inst.

James Work, general manager, in a statement accompanying the sales report, stated greatly increased production schedules are in effect at all the company's plants and that the Lockheed factory at Burbank has been working a two-shift basis for the last two months and probably will continue to do so for the balance of the summer.

Utility Group Profits Gain

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Gross and net earnings of ninety-five utility companies excluding telephone and telegraph companies, for the first five months of the current year amounted to $1,001,500,000 and $445,500,000, respectively, as compared with gross of $971,750,000 and net of $428,500,000 in the same period a year ago, the Department of Commerce announced today.

The net earnings of these companies in May was less than the net in April, but more than the net in May, 1929. This is a record which bears out the belief that the utilities would feel general business depression less than any other industry, it was stated unofficially.

BOHN CORPORATION NET PROFITS DROP

DETROIT, July 15.—Bohn Aluminum and Brass Corporation today reported for the six months ended June 30, last, net profits of $688,766 after all charges and Federal taxes, equal to $1.95 a share on 352,418 no-par shares, as against $1,781,579, or $5.08 a share on 350,-831 shares in the first six months of 1929. Sales for the period totaled $9,579,208, compared with $21,071,-880 in the like period of last year.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, July 15. (AP)—A lower opening in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables and reports of more favorable weather in the South were followed today by rallies in cotton on trade buying and covering.

Offerings were comparatively light after the early selling had been absorbed and it did not take a great deal of buying to advance prices. The mid-afternoon market was quiet but steady, with July selling at 12.99, or 9 points net higher, while new crop positions showed net advances of about 15 to 18 points, with the new October selling at 12.76 and December at 12.95.

COL. AYRES STAYS BY GUNS

June Forecast of Fall Trade Upturn Repeated in Cleveland Trust's July Bulletin

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, July 15.—Col. Leonard P. Ayres, the Cleveland banking prophet, is sticking to his guns. A month ago, he declared that business had passed the worst and would improve from that time on.

His latest announcement reiterates this opinion, and while he expects that July will "reach a low ebb," business will get better in August and still better in September.

Col. Ayres believes that the output in the motor industry will show a decided increase, beginning next month. New building construction, too, will take on new life. Low interest rates are destined to exert a powerful effect on business recovery. From his study of the fifteen prosperity periods in the last fifty years, followed by an equal number of depression periods, he discovers that the recovery of business "has gotten under way promptly after interest rates fell as low as the 3 per cent level." Today, they are considerably below that figure, which was reached in June.

So the Cleveland banker arrives at this conclusion: "We are warranted in believing that definite improvement in business will become evident during the months that lie directly ahead."

Harry W. Hosford, Cleveland business man, joins in the sentiments expressed by Col. Ayres.

"This country will cease to walk on crutches, as at present, the same as it stopped walking on stilts a year ago. It is as hard to satisfy the pessimists now as it was the optimists last September, said Mr. Hosford.

"Steel mill operations have recently dropped from 75 per cent to 50 per cent. People who think they should decline another 25 per cent are wrong. This is also true of automobile production. Copper has dropped from 18 cents to 11 cents a pound. It will not drop another 7 cents. Wheat has recently dropped 25 cents a bushel. Even the worst pessimists do not really believe it will drop another 25 cents. Sugar around 1 1-4 cents to 1½ cents a pound is probably low enough. With about a 40 per cent decline in commodities, industrial activity, and common stocks, it would look to me as if the entire situation has been thoroughly deflated and is on a sound basis.

Any change from here would necessarily have to be a substantial improvement in business, bond prices and common stock values, accompanied by commodity stabilization."

"Then you see plenty of opportunities ahead?"

"Certainly, panics create opportunities. Considering the deflation which has taken place in everything, one can buy the common stock equities of listed, well-managed companies, at current prices, with absolute confidence."

NEW OKLAHOMA OIL OUTPUT CUT PENDS

TULSA, July 15.—Oklahoma oil operators approved today the plan of the proration committee to immediately reduce production of the State to 550,000 barrels daily, entailing a cut in production in all flush fields by 25 per cent. The plan will be submitted to the Corporation Commission for official order and will be put into immediate effect before the commission passes on it.

List Shows Losses at End of Trading

NEW YORK, July 15. (AP)—Wall street's baby bull market lost a little weight today. Professionals who have been riding it along were not among the size of their holdings decided to take profits while taking was good. Perhaps there was a reversal of opinion.

Doubtless both factors were influential in the irregular price movements, which were a scrambled assortment of gains and losses.

With the exception of Saturday the market had been strong all a week. The selling that came urday and yesterday had some concern in investors as to the advisability extending a demonstration lahness.

It was evident at the some of the smaller traders were taking the side of accepting profits, apparently theory a technical reaction he expected.

Publication of favorable statements by General Foods, National Biscuit served to strengthen the confidence of traders ing for higher prices and the list had lost its early larity.

Short selling was stimulated by the weekly

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, July 15. (AP)—Profit-taking, particularly during the closing hour of today's session, gave an irregular appearance to listed bonds. Many railroad and utility bonds were sold at slight concessions, and prices moved irregularly lower. Activity was somewhat improved.

In the domestic section, the 5 point advance of American Telephone, the broadest activity has experienced in several weeks. Aroused quite a good demand developed for some of the foreign government bonds and the greatest strength shown was in this group with several issues unusually buoyant.

The offering of $25,000,000 Austrian 7 per cent bonds maturing in twenty-seven years, the American portion of an international issue of $50,000,000, was slightly oversubscribed when the books were closed.

Among the railroads the prime movement was irregularly lower. Pennsylvania 4½s were very active and after selling at a new year's high sold off ½ of a point. Baltimore & Ohio refunding 5s lost nearly 2 points. St. Paul general 2½s gained about the same amount.

Rock Island 4s Atchison 4s and Union Pacific 4s were firm. Convertible rails moved lower with the exception of Rock Island 4½s and St. Paul adjustment 5s which were firm.

Utilities maintained a firm trend but some recessions took place. North American Edison 5s, Public Service 5s, American Telephone Debenture 5s and Consolidated Gas first closed lower.

The widest changes and broadest trading occurred in foreign issues, 5th South American governments especially active. Chilean 6s of February, 1961, rose 2½ points; 6s of January, 1961 advanced more than a point Argentine issues were higher. Strong spots among European issues were Belgium 7s, at a new high, the 7s up one point and several German government and municipal issues. Orezy 7s gained more than 2 points and Swedish 6½s 1½ to establish a new 1930 high. Japan governments were firm.

United States governments were little changed.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high and low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

Attractive Outlook
... for fixed income producing securities

Never since 1915 have commodity prices fallen to so low a level as today. Money rates are distinctly lower. Those securities which represent money values rather than physical values are importantly affected. Their position daily improves as the purchasing power represented in principal and yield increases.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 15. (AP)—Curb stocks again made substantial progress in today's trading although a little irregularity cropped out among some of the more popular trading stocks in the afternoon. Total sales aggregated 618,300 shares.

Some industrials were buoyant. Driver Harris rose up 12 points to 83, and closed at 83. Aluminum Company gained more than 6 points and Columbia Pictures recorded a similar advance. Johnson Motor, Deere Cuneo Press, and Johnson advanced a point or 2.

Aviation stocks were in better demand, responding reports of better transport business and sales. Aviation Corporation of the Americas gained ¼, and National Aviation sold up fractionally. Detroit Aircraft also sold up a fraction, as the issue again turned active, reflecting report of six months' sales of more than $1,600,000, and unfilled orders July 1 of over $1,160,000.

Utilities turned irregular. Consolidated Gas of Baltimore gained 3, and Standard Power and Light 2 points. Electric Bond and Share sold up about 1½ points, then lost its gain. Gas stocks, American Utilities and General gained a point.

Several of the investment trusts were in fair demand. Securities Corporation general gained 5 points and Transamerica 3. Oils were inclined to ease. Although Cities Service closed ¼ higher and so-in was active.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

SHIPPING NEWS AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

COAST SHIPPING PARLEY CALLED

Owners and Service Bureau Groups to Meet

San Diego Gathering Fixed for August 8

Banquet at Agua Caliente to End Sessions

BY WALDO DRAKE

Problems of the Pacific Coast shipping industry will be threshed out at San Diego on August 8 at the annual meeting of the Shipowners' Association and the Marine Service Bureau, it was announced yesterday by Edwin Nichols, district manager of the latter organization. More than 100 shipping executives from coast ports have already promised to attend the conclave, which will be concluded with a banquet at Agua Caliente.

The business session will follow a luncheon at the San Diego Athletic Club, being arranged by R. A. Wheeler, San Diego manager for the McCormick Steamship Company, who was at the port yesterday for a conference with Mr. Nichols. The local delegation will be headed by Eugene A. Mills, while the San Francisco contingent will be under direction of Capt. Walter J. Petersen. Guests of honor will include United States Representative Arthur Free of San Jose, chairman of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, and Gov. Tapia, of Baja, California.

Matters to be discussed at the business meeting will include maintenance of the California State Nautical School, which will begin its career in September aboard the U.S.S. Henry County, now en route here from Hampton Roads to serve as school ship; and a resolution urging uniform port practices at all Pacific Coast ports.

RECORD CASE OIL SHIPMENT SLATED

Two hundred and twenty-five thousand cases of gasoline and kerosene, the largest consignment ever shipped to that area, will go out to Calcutta and Bombay on August 2, aboard the British motorship Silverlarch, it was announced yesterday by Capt. A. R. Paulsen, agent for the charterer, the Richfield Oil Company.

The Silverlarch, to be released from the Kerr Line's Java-Calcutta run for the charter voyage, will begin loading at the Outer Harbor terminals on the 23rd inst.

Charles R. McCormick, head of the McCormick Steamship Company, returned to San Francisco yesterday after a three-day survey of local shipping conditions. He was accompanied on the inspection trip by John Olsen, McCormick general manager, and M. A. Richley, terminal superintendent.

Burt Edwards, general manager of the Harbor Department, will represent that department at the annual convention of the American Shore and Beach Association, to be held at the Breakers Hotel, Long Beach, on the 15th and 16th inst. Victor Gelineau, secretary, announces that pollution of California beaches will be a leading topic at the session.

Freight offerings for outward voyages of the South African Dispatch Line's around-the-world service have increased so steadily in the past six months that bookings for the next three months are near capacity, it was announced yesterday by Capt. A. R. Paulsen, local agent.

The line's motor ship Crown City, calling here on the 25th inst. to pick up 10,000 cases of case oil for Capetown, will sail for South Africa the same evening with a capacity load.

On her second midweek departure for Honolulu today noon the Lassco flagship City of Los Angeles will take out 250 travelers to the islands in addition to 2000 tons of general cargo.

Prominent among her passengers will be Dr. Marie Thorsen, local surgeon; Oscar A. Smith, passenger traffic manager of the Pacific Electric Railway, with Mrs. Smith and their son, Oscar, Jr.; Mrs. Rose Sedgwick, prominent in Hollywood society, with her daughter Mary; H. G. Steele, president of the United States Electrical Manufacturing Company of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Steele; John Campbell, local journalist, and H. H. Pratt, mechanical engineer, of Douglas, Ariz.

Lieutenant-Commander James E. Crutchfield, in charge of the local navy hydrographic office, was yesterday in receipt of interesting data on Kiekane Inlet, Alaska, from Capt. Louis Evans, master of "Tack" Hardwick's Diesel yacht Arcadia, which is cruising the Inland Passage.

Capt. Evans reports discovery of excellent anchorage areas in the vicinity of Graham Reach and Wark Island.

On a periodic survey of the local yards, George A. Armes, president of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation, was at the port yesterday from San Francisco. After a conference with shipyard executives today Mr. Armes will return to San Francisco to receive specifications for the Panama Mail Line's four proposed $5,000,000 intercoastal liners, for construction of which the Los Angeles yards will be a bidder.

Bard's, Eighth between Broadway & Hill. "Lewis's Holiday."

Hamburg, Washington at Vermont—"The Divorcee." Norma Shearer in her best in a love complication of much merit.

California, Main near Eighth—"Once a Gentleman." Edward Everett Horton baffles his way to several laughs.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Circle—"So This Is London." Will Rogers goes abroad again and finds London as funny as Pasadena.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"Hell's Angels." It took Howard Hughes four years and $4,000,000 to produce the ultimate in the air; and it was worth it.

Criterion, 651 South Broadway—"Romance." An exciting and realistic drama of prison life featuring Wallace Beery and Gilbert Morris.

Egyptian, Hollywood Boulevard—"The Cuckoos." Pretentious nonsense without enough humor by Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey.

Filmarte, 1238 North Vine—A fine exponent for the artistry of silent films. Next week, winds.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Numbered Men." Conrad Nagel exerts his very best influence on gunmen, should you care more than they.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Good Intentions." A fine story of gangland's effect on a young couple's married life, with Edmund Lowe, Victor McLaglen and Dorothy Mackaill.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Young Desire." Mary Nolan decorates a carnival and William Janney does some good work.

Paramount, Hollywood at Vine—"True to the Navy." Clara Bow for once has more than can handle.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Dangerous Nan McGrew." Comedy and songs a-plenty by Helen Kane and Stuart Erwin.

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea—"Across the World With Mrs. Johnson." And Clara Bow in "True to the Navy." Thrills in one, human in the other.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Lawful Larceny."

Rialto, Broadway at Eighth—"Courage." But it takes more than this to put Belle Bennett on her feet. Weepy, but some fine acting.

United Artists, 1loyd, nr. 9th.—"Anybody's War." A succession of yarns, some of which are very funny, in a cavalcade of the two Black Crows.

Uptown, Wilshire at Tenth—"Safety in Numbers."

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Nancy from Naples." An artificial musicals with a lot of scenery and some fresh faces.

Westlake, 633 Alvarado—"The Texan." Gary Cooper in the great open spaces in a pleasant sizzle and the story isn't bad.

STAGE

El Capitan, Hollywood Blvd. nr. Highland—"Ladies of the Ladies." The lighter side of domestic troubles and misunderstandings as only Glenn Hunter can offer.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1733 N. Vine—"Pals Forever." Kirk Forsyth directs some gusto in this dramatic tale by Ernest Pascal. From Douglas comes near to being a sensation as the boy.

Mason, Broadway near First—"Subway Express." An engaging and thrilling murder mystery of New York, with Leo Curley.

Morgan, Hill at Eleventh—"Molly Magalene." Melodrama and climax with every act which might appeal to some. With Irene Wilson.

VARIETIES

Follies, 4th and Main—Burlesque.

Daylight Saving Not Wanted by Moorpark Folk

MOORPARK, July 15.—Members of the Chamber of Commerce of Moorpark are against the proposal of daylight saving by legislation in this State, and have formally gone on record about it.

One part of a long resolution formally passed contains the following items:

"As farmers we are against the plan, because nature cannot change unless a Joshua appear to make the sun stand still; because dew falls as nature commands; because cows have to be milked at times fixed by nature's laws and chores have to be attended to at chore time.

"Furthermore, children are difficult to put to bed normally and under the daylight-saving plan it will be a much harder job, because the children will object to going to bed before sundown."

The resolution as adopted contains sixteen "whereas-es." Every one of them is against daylight saving and all are apparently good from the point of view of the rural man who doesn't want to get out of bed any earlier, or to hit the hay again too soon after the day's chores are over with.

Cochrum, Financial Secretary; Joseph Prescott, Chaplain, and E. E. Gardner, Treasurer. Odd Fellows from surrounding communities witnessed the installation proceedings.

Sensible Way To Lose Fat

Start taking Kruschen Salts—that's the common-sense way to reduce—but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves.

This is what they do—they clean out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys and liver in splendid working shape and fill you with vigor and tireless energy you'd most forgotten had existed.

As a result instead of planting yourself in an easy chair every free moment and letting flabby fat accumulate you feel an urge for activity that keeps moving around doing the things you've always wanted to do and need to do to keep you in good condition.

Then watch the pounds slide off.

Kruschen Salts are the up-to-date Fountain of Youth. Take one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot or cold water tomorrow morning and every morning. They're tasteless that way, and if they don't change your whole idea of reducing, go back and get the money you paid for them. Get an 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts—last 4 weeks—at any Owl and Liggett Drug Store or any progressive druggist anywhere in the world.

SCREEN NOTABLE TAKEN BY DEATH

Rudolph Schildkraut

FUNERAL OF ACTOR TO BE TOMORROW

Rudolph Schildkraut Will be Laid to Final Rest in Hollywood Cemetery

All Hollywood yesterday mourned the passing of one of its outstanding character actors—Rudolph Schildkraut. Funeral services will be held tomorrow from the Glasband & Groman mortuary, 901 West Washington street, at 2 p.m.

Scores of his friends in the cinema colony, gained over a stretch of twenty years as a stage and screen actor in this country, are expected to attend the services to be read by Rabbi Ernest R. Trattner. Interment will be at the Hollywood Cemetery.

Schildkraut passed away at 2:45 a.m. yesterday as a result of a heart attack, according to Dr. Cecil Reynolds, who attended him. Death occurred at the family residence, 1607 Courtney street. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Erma Schildkraut, and his son Joseph, who, too, has gained widespread distinction as an actor.

Last fall the elder Schildkraut suffered a heart attack but rallied sufficiently to again take his place in motion pictures. Monday he was at work at the R.-K.-O. studios when he was stricken again and rushed home. This time, however, he was not strong enough to rally.

Schildkraut was born in Constantinople in 1865 and educated in Rumania, where he first became interested in dramatics.

His early history is an interesting one. After his interest in dramatics in Rumania, he attended a Greek school and then moved to Germany and later to Austria. He traveled with repertoire companies for nine years and then was with the Viennese Comic Opera Company, with the Dramatik Theater in Hamburg and with Max Rheinhardt in Berlin.

His first appearance in pictures was in 1910 for UFA in Germany, where he made ten pictures. His outstanding American pictures include "King of Kings," "Ship Comes In," "The Main Event" and "The Country Doctor." His greatest American characterization was said to have been in "The King of Kings."

Detective Crew Changes Made

As part of a rearrangement of squad commanders due to the recent appointment of Captain of Detectives Seager as chief State narcotic enforcement officer, according to Chief of Detectives Taylor, three captains of detectives were shifted in the Central detective bureau yesterday. Captain of Detectives Cato was transferred from the auto theft detail to take charge of the business office.

Capt. I. Cullen took his place, while Acting Captain of Detectives Bartley was transferred from the robbery squad to take charge of the pawn shop detail, a position held by Cullen for many years.

LIGHTING PROTESTS DENIED

Protests against the lighting of One Hundred Sixty-fifth street from Hoover street to Vermont avenue were denied yesterday by the City Council.

HARBOR CITIES PULL TOGETHER

Long Beach and Los Angeles Assured Co-operation

Funds for Breakwater Work Will be Advanced

Government's Attitude Only Point to be Settled

Assurance that the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce will make every effort to co-operate with the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in efforts to expedite the construction of the $7,000,000 breakwater extension by advancing funds to the government for preliminary work was given yesterday at a subcommittee meeting of the Los Angeles chamber.

It was the first meeting of the subcommittee, presided over by R. H. Lacy, chairman; with Clarence Matson, secretary, and Councilman A. E. Henning, appointed by the chamber to consider ways for advancing preliminary work on the breakwater because it will be a year before the Congressional appropriation is available.

President I. M. Stevens of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce at the meeting in the Chamber of Commerce Building gave the attitude of his organization and expressed the belief that Long Beach city officials feel the same way about it and will be willing to aid in an early start on the breakwater, which will protect Long Beach Harbor.

Belief was voiced at the meeting that not more than $300,000 will be needed as an advance to the government and that this will be repaid as soon as the appropriation is available.

General Manager Edwards of the Harbor Department is ascertaining the government's attitude on the proposal to advance money for preliminary work and the Mayor and City Council are in favor of it. Until the government's attitude is ascertained, however, no effort will be made to raise the money.

AIR-DERBY ROUTE BEING DECIDED ON

Tentative Course For Woman's Race to Chicago Announced

The route, with its necessary control stops, to be followed by the twenty or more women flyers who will participate in the air derby between Long Beach and Chicago next month, will be announced within a few days, C. F. Lienesch, manager of the derby, declared yesterday following the completion of a flight over the proposed course.

In the selection of the route Mr. Lienesch said the committee in charge is being governed by airport facilities at the various control stops and the general conditions that would be encountered between these points in the event of a forced landing. He said the trip he has just completed disclosed greatly improved facilities at virtually all the airports over last year. He also declared that this year an army flight surgeon and two army ships would accompany the contestants.

The tentative route follows: First day, Long Beach to Mexicali, via San Diego; second day, Mexicali to Tucson, via Phoenix; third day; Tucson to El Paso, Tex., or Deming, N. M., via Douglas; fourth day, El Paso or Deming to Roswell, N. M.; fifth day, Roswell to Amarillo, Tex., via Lubbock; sixth day, Amarillo to Kansas City, via Wichita; seventh day, Kansas City to Madison, Wis., via St. Joseph, Mo., and Dubuque, Iowa; eighth day, Madison to Chicago, via Elgin, Ill.

Low Gas Prices on Old Stocks

Both major and independent gasoline-producing companies yesterday declared the majority of their dealers are selling their product at the accepted 19½-cent retail price.

However, the few service stations selling at below this price explained they were drawing on stocks purchased at the low costs of the recent gasoline price-war and will continue to fill their customers' tanks as long as their supplies last.

GOLFERS' HAZARDS INCREASE

Bear Chance to Make "Hole in One"

License Is Not Liberty

Pronto, at County Clerk's office, learns he needs no permit to live, love or play golf.

WHEN BEARL SPROTT, proprietor of an auto camp at 4101 Valley Boulevard, acquired a small brown bear to use as a scenic attraction on the "half-pint" golf course he is building as an adjunct to his camp it seemed to him he ought to get a bear license. So yesterday he loaded little Pronto, his yearling cinnamon cub, into the family sedan and motored to the office of the Board of Supervisors, where he applied to Ines Robinson, deputy County Clerk.

Miss Robinson had never heard of a bear license, so she asked the boss, George Smith, who has been in the County Clerk's office for forty years. Smith called Mame Beatty, clerk of the board. She called Supervisor Graves, who ruled that a man can operate a bear cub on the public highways, in auto camps and on half-pint golf courses, for that matter, without a license.

Sprott explained that one of the hazards on his golf course is a shot through Pronto's den.

"We've trained him by letting him play with golf balls smeared with honey," said Sprott. "It takes a clever golfer to shoot one past him."

PAVING REPORT ADOPTED

A report recommending that the city pay for the permanent paving of the extension of Soto street from Alhambra avenue to Huntington Drive and that the City Engineer prepare the necessary plans at once was adopted yesterday by the City Council on recommendation of the Finance, Public Works and Street Opening and Widening committees.

SOUTH GATE JUDGE HELD PREJUDICED

Mischief Conviction of Heaton Reversed Because of Bias Exhibited

Finding that Police Judge Moffatt of South Gate took sides in a trial, the Appellate Department of the Superior Court yesterday reversed judgment in the case of H. H. Heaton, who had been convicted of malicious mischief. Heaton was accused of injuring property not his, including digging up rose bushes.

"We have to prove malice and intent," Judge Moffatt is asserted to have said while conducting the trial. When defense counsel objected, the police judge offered to withdraw the word "we" but said he believed the court was "more or less associated with the prosecution."

He then denied a deputy District Attorney's motion to dismiss for lack of evidence and a jury found Heaton guilty. He was sentenced to ninety days in jail, sixty days being suspended on condition that he pay a fine equivalent to the other thirty days.

"This is why appeals are allowed," commented Superior Judge Bishop yesterday in the Appellate Department, in reversing the judgment.

INDIAN GIVER DEFEATED IN "DREAM HOUSE" SUIT

Iris Ashton Evens

Her "dream house" was awarded yesterday to Iris Ashton Evens, picture actress, when Superior Judge Cabaniss forestalled argument by her attorney and rendered decision in her favor and against Walter J. Browning, London mine owner. The "dream house" is a $17,000 property at 518 South Westmoreland avenue, which Browning says he left in trust with Mrs. Evens, and which she contended was an outright gift of love.

Radiant in a white ensemble, the pretty defendant dabbed happy tears from her eyes when she heard judgment rendered in her favor.

"Words cannot express my gratitude that justice has been rendered," she said. "I am going to keep my dream house and all my dear ones are going to live there with me."

Attorney Donald Armstrong, associated with Lewis Cruickshank as counsel for Browning, argued briefly for the return of the house to the Briton. The lawyer based his plea on Mrs. Evans's letters, which, he contended, proved that she understood she was merely custodian of a trust which Browning provided in 1922 when he furnished money with which to buy a house for her and her parents.

When he concluded Attorney M. B. Silberberg rose to argue for Mrs. Evans. Waving him to his seat, Judge Cabaniss launched into an analysis of the case, his action and words foretelling that he needed no argument of defendant's counsel to reach a decision in her favor.

"The plaintiff Browning entertained for this young woman, a strong feeling of affection," said Judge Cabaniss, after stating that he based his decision more on Browning's own letters and testimony than on anything else. "It was a paternal affection, but not wholly so—it was a sentimental affection. I want to say right here that it was a wholesome and pure affection.

JULIAN JUROR FOUND GUILTY

Groves Convicted of Taking Bribe from Berman

Only One Ballot Required to Reach Verdict

Penalty One to Ten Years in State's Prison

John B. Groves, a juror in the first Julian trial in 1928 charged with having exchanged his vote of not guilty for $5000 paid by Jacob Berman, one of the defendants connected with the Julian Petroleum Corporation, was found guilty of having accepted a bribe by a jury in Superior Judge Wilson's court late yesterday afternoon.

The conviction of the former juror was voted by a jury of nine men and three women in just one hour and twenty minutes. Only one ballot was taken and the verdict was returned at 5:30 p.m. Groves will come up for sentence at 10 o'clock next Friday morning. The sentence is from one to ten years in State's prison.

BERMAN'S TESTIMONY

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Harold Jones, who prosecuted the case alone and who argued the matter to the jury, showed by a dozen prosecution witnesses headed by Jacob Berman, who was given immunity to testify against his former go-between, Louis Krause, that Groves met Berman through Krause. Berman also told the jury of having met Groves at his home with Krause present and of the payment of $5000 in cash to the juror.

From other witnesses Jones brought out the fact that Groves attended a party given by Berman at his home following the verdict of not guilty returned by the Julian jury. A huge amount of imported liquor given to Groves by Krause and said to have been supplied the go-between by Berman also figured in the testimony.

Defense Counsel Hamilton and Hahn placed Groves on the witness stand just before the case closed and he denied that Berman had ever paid him any money. Groves's testimony, however, was brief and did not extend over most of the testimony introduced by the prosecution.

KRAUSE ALSO GUILTY

Groves's conviction last night makes the second one secured by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jones, who prosecuted Krause to a conviction just a week ago. The former go-between is now in the County Jail and will be sentenced next Monday morning.

Frank Grider, the second juror who was indicted for having accepted a bribe, is scheduled for trial early in August. In the Grider case the prosecution contends that the juror effected the sale of his house for $16,000 through Krause to Berman. Grider, however, contends that he sold his house to Krause but did not know that Berman had any interest in the matter. Berman testified before the grand jury that he never met Grider and that the deal was handled by Krause.

A motion for a new trial, which if denied will be followed by an appeal, was announced by defense counsel for Groves after the verdict.

New York-Paris Ship Near Test

With the completion of factory tests on his new Lockheed Sirius plane expected within the coming week, George R. Hutchinson, Virginia pilot, will leave the Metropolitan Airport for New York, where he will load his ship to capacity with gasoline and attempt a New York-to-Paris nonstop flight.

The pilot's wife, with their two small daughters, will meet Hutchinson in New York and plans to go to Paris at the time of the flight by steamer.

MAYOR GIVEN ANOTHER ASSISTANT SECRETARY

Mayor Porter will have another assistant secretary at the flat rate of $175 a month and will abandon a position of confidential secretary at $350 a month, the City Council decided yesterday in approving a request from the Mayor. The Mayor asked the new job to carry a sliding scale of $175-$185-$200, but the Council's Efficiency and Personnel Committee was of the opinion that the flat salary of $175 was enough.

SUN LAUGHS, BUT GRIN TO WANE TODAY

Cooler Weather Promised After Yesterday's 94 Deg.; Two Deaths in Imperial

With the mercury ranging high again yesterday with a registration of 95 deg. Los Angeles is promised cooler weather today by Weather Bureau officials. That it will be slightly cooler tomorrow also is the forecast.

At noon yesterday the mercury had reached 94 deg. Shortly before it reached the top mark of the day. By 5 o'clock it had dropped to 87 deg. This made the third day in succession with temperatures above 90. Sunday registered 93 deg., while Monday reached the highest mark of the year with 98 deg.

Humidity was lower yesterday, only 30 per cent being registered at 5 o'clock last night. It was almost as hot on July 15, 1929, a temperature of 93 deg. having been registered on that date. The lowest registration for the day was 74 deg.

Imperial Valley's first heat death for the year was reported yesterday when James Ceravonis, believed to be a resident of Sacramento, expired on the main business street of El Centro late yesterday afternoon. The man was unknown in El Centro and police there were attempting to communicate with his relatives.

The report of the death in El Centro was followed by another near Coyote Wells, twenty-five miles from El Centro, where the body of an unidentified man, thought to be a hitch hiker, was found lying near the tracks of the San Diego and Arizona Railroad. The man had no identifying papers on his body and had apparently left the highway seeking relief from the sun in the shade of the railroad culvert when he was overcome.

El Centro's temperature yesterday was reported as the highest of the year, when 111½ deg. was reached at noon at the official thermometer of the Imperial Irrigation District. Thermometers in business houses in Calexico registered variable marks from 115 to 118 deg.

San Bernardino yesterday reported thermometer readings of 107 deg. general throughout the neighboring district. No casualties were reported.

Slight earthquake tremors were reported at Ventura shortly after 1 p.m. No damage was done.

As an emergency relief to the uniformed patrol and traffic officers in Los Angeles, a special session of the Police Commission yesterday decreed that the officers might doff their heavy blue coats and wear white shirts, until sufficient material is available for them to obtain the dark-blue shirts recently adopted for summer use.

Commissioner Walkup reported that the officers were visibly uncomfortable in their heavy uniforms, topped with a Sam Browne belt, carrying gun, cartridges and handcuffs.

DRILLING PROTESTED

The Jonathan Club yesterday filed with the City Council a protest against the drilling for oil along the beach or in the tidelands off Venice. The Council referred the matter to the City Planning Committee.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THE shooting of Motley Flint is another tragedy to be chalked up against the Wall-street stock fiasco.

No one will ever know the extent of these tragedies or the bitterness thereof. I often get letters from elderly men who have come to California with comfortable savings; and now find themselves penniless and desperate.

The sad part of the story is that one of these days some other bright young man will bob up with an offer to take a rabbit out of a silk hat and pay you a fortune for nothing; and they will fall again in the same old way.

Men would shriek for the police if you suggested that they perform a surgical operation upon themselves; but they have no hesitation in plunging into financial operations which they know less about than they know about surgery.

POINT LOMA

Part of Mrs. Tingley's Theosophical Institute at Point Loma, San Diego, is to be sold; the taxes have risen to an impossible altitude.

Under Mrs. Tingley's hand this became one of the most beautiful estates in California—rolling hills going down to the water's edge.

A curious story is told of her discovery of the place. She was a woman of large fortune and became interested in theosophy. She had imagined a place where big trees and hills would look down upon summer seas. One day she was having luncheon with Gen. Charles Fremont and he told her that Point Loma had exactly what she had imagined. She came at once to California and started this place, which became world famous.

The plan of the present managers of the institute is to retain about forty acres and sell the balance of the 300-odd acres.

THE RIGHT PLACE

Mrs. Ida M. Flagler, the divorced wife of the Standard Oil magnate, who died insane yesterday, once lived at Mamaroneck, N. Y., a beautiful estate fronting on Long Island Sound.

When D. W. Griffith, the motion-picture king, went east to produce "Way Down East" and other pictures, he bought this old Flagler estate.

He found that the large front room in the second story had been used as a prison to confine Mrs. Flagler after she became insane. He insisted that the apartment, with its barred windows, be set aside for the scenario department. He said it was the first appropriate setting he had ever found for folks who write drama for the screen.

HOT COPS

At 94 deg. my heart bleeds for the corner cop.

You can't tell me that it doesn't lower the temper and the efficiency of a policeman to muffle him up in midsummer in a costume suitable for the polar regions and stick on top of his head a dinky little yachting cap which offers no protection whatever from the sun.

The traffic squad, in common humanity, ought to be in white duck with "Stanley helmets."

THE CHAMPS

The only way out of this championship impasse is to match Bobby Jones against Gallant Fox, with this little Seattle swimming girl to challenge the winner. They are just too darn lonesome as the situation stands.

GANGSTER MUST GO BACK

Foster Loses Freedom Fight and Detectives Make Secret Plans for His Return to Chicago

Secrecy surrounded the hour of departure from California of Frankie Foster, Chicago racketeer, whose attempt to obtain release from custody on a habeas corpus writ was frustrated yesterday by testimony from hotel employees when they appeared at the hearing before Superior Judge McComb.

Shortly after the court ruling Foster was shackled to Investigator King, and with Detectives Dudley and Scherping of Chicago covering the rear and front, left the Hall of Justice on his first lap of the trip to Chicago, where he is wanted as an accessory to the murder of Alfred (Jake) Lingle.

The two Chicago investigators declined to reveal their plans for the return to Illinois, but said they want to get their man back in "home" territory as soon as possible. Their secrecy, they said, was prompted by reports that Foster's friends are planning to prevent his arrival in Chicago alive.

The two witnesses, brought here from Chicago for the hearing, were Donald H. Wilson, room clerk, and Miss Mary Cackling, a member of the auditing department of the St. Clair Hotel, where Foster made his home.

Foster, in seeking to avoid extradition to Chicago for trial, contended he left Chicago before Lingle was killed and was in Los Angeles June 11, last, two days after the murder. Both Wilson and Miss Micklin testified they saw Foster in the St. Clair Hotel in Chicago June 11, last.

Upon hearing the testimony Judge McComb denied the writ and ordered the prisoner remanded to the custody of Sheriff Traeger pending

BERMAN FACES NEW CHARGE

Judge Schauer Submits Julian Stock-Forgery Data to Grand Jury and Holds Case Not Outlawed

A new Julian Petroleum Corporation sensation which may result in the indictment of Jacob Berman by the grand jury on charges of forgery and embezzlement connected with a score of Julian stock certificates came late yesterday afternoon when Superior Judge Schauer turned the entire matter over to the grand jury for investigation.

Judge Schauer's sudden action came after the trial without a jury of Berman now under way in his court had adjourned for the day, and only after the judge had sent for Foreman Morris and the criminal complaints committee of the grand jury, together with Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hammon in charge of grand jury matters.

In a brief statement to the grand jury committee and Hammon the court explained that certain matters involving Berman had come to his attention during the course of the trial and then pointed out that in view of Berman's absence from the State for a number of months some of the charges had not outlawed.

Calling Fred Packard, a former stock transfer clerk, to the witness stand, Judge Schauer next produced a huge stack of Julian Petroleum Corporation stock certificates bearing the signature of D. Barnes and began to question Packard.

"Can you tell the court who signed the name of D. Barnes to these stock certificates," questioned Judge Schauer.

"Yes, I signed the name of Barnes to these certificates," declared Packard.

"Why did you sign them," asked Judge Schauer.

"Jacob Berman instructed me to sign all of them," was the answer.

With Packard's testimony in the

FLYERS SEARCH FOR LOST YOUTH

Mt. Whitney Area Scoured for Lamel Boy

Young Angeleno Missing on Peak for Ten Days

Army Planes to Continue Hunt for Lad Today

Army planes yesterday roared over the wilderness to the east of rugged Mt. Whitney in an attempt to locate Howard Lamel, missing 18-year-old Los Angeles boy, who was lost while attempting to scale the fastness.

It is believed by searchers that the youth turned down a watercourse and that when he found he was in difficulty on the mountain he made an effort to reach the lowland. Searchers wired his mother, Mrs. E. O. Lamel, 1125 South Mansfield avenue, that every section of the mountaintop above the 12,000-foot level had been gone over carefully without finding the youth's body.

The search of the mountaintop has been abandoned entirely and it is hoped to find the youth somewhere in the wilderness below timberline. One report that he had been found in the Kern River country remained unverified yesterday.

CHILD DRINKS FLY SPRAY

Boy, 3 Years of Age, Given Treatment at Hospital and Will Recover

John Nalley, 3 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Nalley, 721 Holmes avenue, was at home yesterday recovering from the effects of fly spray which he drank at his home Monday night, according to a Sheriff's report. The mother of the child told officers that he picked up a bottle of the liquid and drank a quantity of it. He was given treatment at the General Hospital.

young woman and her family aroused Browning's sympathy, but it seemed concentrated on this defendant. Browning's thought seemed to be to provide for her so that she might be care free to pursue her career as an actress."

The judge commented on the informal manner of the gift. In 1922 Browning was a widower, 52 years of age, and the defendant, then Mrs. Iris Ashton Badger, was 23. She was seeking a divorce from Badger, so the first title of the dream house was taken in the name of the defendant's mother, Mrs. Cora Ashton, who transfefred it to her daughter after the latter was divorced.

"Browning had a very superior business intelligence," continued the judge. "He must have known the danger he placed himself in if he gave a deed."

Whimsically, Judge Cabaniss pictured Browning after he had gone back to London and had married a second time in 1925.

"One can imagine wife No. 2 when she heard of the gift of the dream house," said Judge Cabaniss. "One can picture the plaintiff being told to try and find a string attached to the dream house which could yank it back."

After rendering judgment for the defendant, Judge Cabaniss consoled Browning's attorneys by saying that some races are won by a good horse and others by a good jockey, and that their case was well prepared. Attorney Armstrong announced later that he would appeal the decision.

CHILDREN BEG PLACE AT CAMP

Street Urchins Given Taste of Beach

One of Salvation Army's Wards

HUNDREDS of letters are being received from children in the city, and in the inland towns asking the Salvation Army to permit them to attend the Redondo Fresh Air Camp. Many of these letters, according to Mrs. Brigadier James C. Bell, who is in charge of the camp, are from children who have been to the camp before and who are begging for the opportunity to enjoy it again.

"It is a joy," Mrs. Bell stated, "to see the happiness on the faces of these children. They have been playing on the pavements and in alleys and anywhere it is possible to catch a minute of outdoor play, and when they see the ocean rolling along, and in their little bathing suits rush into the surf for the first swim, one is repaid for all the trouble taken to make it possible."

However, the Redondo camp is not solely for children. Tired mothers from the hot city also are given a place with their youngsters, where they may rest.

his transportation east by Chicago officers.

A fugitive complainet against Foster was dismissed late yesterday by Municipal Judge Ballard as he was turned over to Chicago officers for transportation to that city on extradition papers signed by Gov. Young.

It is charged that the gun used by Lingle's slayer belonged to Foster and he therefore is accused of being an accomplice. He was arrested in an exclusive Los Angeles apartment-house three weeks ago with several companions when information was received that he was in this city planning organization of a beer combine.

HEARING POSTPONED IN KIRSCHENBAUM CASE

Hearing for Harry Kirschenbaum, otherwise known as George Davis, wanted in Chicago for questioning in connection with the murder of "Jake" Lingle, newspaper reporter, was continued yesterday by United States Commissioner Head. No date was set for the hearing, which is on removal to Detroit on a charge of violating the Harrison Narcotic Act. Bail in the case was set at $25,000 and the prisoner was held in jail for the government.

SUSPECTED CHICAGO GANGSTER ARRESTED

The arrest of a suspect who is being investigated on the theory that he may be a Chicago gangster was announced yesterday by police. The suspect, taken into custody at Seventh street and Broadway, described himself as Arthur E. McNeil, 28 years of age, dealer in real estate.

Policeman Anderson and Detective Lieutenant Huston of the fugitive detail, the arresting officers, declared the man repeatedly expressed greaf trepidation over being returned to Chicago, where he is wanted on charges of bail forfeiture and forgery.

A description of the man had been sent to Los Angeles by John A. Swanson, State's Attorney, of Cook county, Illinois. Immediate steps for the return of McNeil to the Chicago authorities are to be taken, it was announced last night.

Lad Faces Quiz on Knife Fray

Outgrowth of what at first was a fist fight with a youthful companion and subsequently a knife affray, Pasquel Angelo, 15 years of age, 4255 Capistrano street, yesterday was held at Juvenile Hall on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Deputy sheriffs reported that Angelo fought with Mike Kaleel, 15, 4305 Eugene street, Monday afternoon on the grounds of the Hammel-street school. The two are asserted to have resumed the fight later at Hammel street and Eastern avenue, Angelo striking at Kaleel with a knife which inflicted a deep wound in the arm of Nick Milovich, 16, 5128 Fisher street, who was attempting to part the pair.

BERMAN FACES NEW CHARGES

record, Judge Schauer next explained to Foreman Morris and the other members of the grand jury that, in the opinion of the court, all of the matters mentioned by him were not outlawed.

"This matter together with these stock certificates and other information which came before this court in the past few days was of such a nature that the court felt it should be placed before the grand jury for investigation or for whatever use your body sees fit to make of it," the court said. "More information on the matter can be obtained from Dep. Dist.-Atty. McCartney, who has been prosecuting the case against Berman now on trial in this court." And with these remarks Judge Schauer adjourned court.

At the conclusion of the hearing Foreman Morris, the other members of the grand jury and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hammon all declined to make any statement regarding the future actions of the grand jury in regard to Berman, but did say that the entire matter would be taken up before the grand jury as a whole some time today.

Persons attached to the District Attorney's office pointed out last night, however, that the present grand jury in an official hearing has already granted Berman immunity from indictment in return for his testimony against a number of jurors charged with having accepted bribes and others implicated in the Julian crash in 1927.

COURT DAY SPENT EXAMINING SIGNATURES

The identification of signatures on Julian Petroleum Corporation stock certificates yesterday occupied the entire day in the trial of Jacob Berman, former head of the stock transfer department of the Julian Corporation now on trial in Superior Judge Schauer's court on charges of embezzlement and forgery.

T. P. Conroy, former secretary of the Julian Corporation; Clark Webster, a postal inspector; Ted Harris, a transfer clerk, and Daniel Barnes, the prosecuting witness, were all called to the witness stand during the day.

Conroy, Harris and Webster identified certain stock certificates said by the prosecution to have been forged while Barnes, on the stand for the second time since the trial got under way several days ago, told of having given Berman $10,000 for stock which he declared he never received. He also charged that his money was never returned.

The trial is expected to end some time next week.

WEST POINT ADMITS LOS ANGELES YOUTH

Adna R. Chaffee, Jr., son of Adna R. Chaffee of 160 South Rampart Boulevard, Los Angeles, and Donald L. Durfee, son of Luciens L. Durfee of 7914 Magnolia avenue, Riverside, have been admitted to the United States Military Academy at West Point, it was yesterday announced. Military drills, lectures, callisthenics, athletics, guard duty, rifle marksmanship and bayonet training will occupy the two plebes, as well as their fellows, during the first month of instruction.

HOLD-UP TRIAL ORDERED

His arm still bandaged as a result of a wound inflicted by police bullets, George Schmidt, 50 years of age, yesterday heard witnesses in Municipal Judge Carrell's court relate the details of a taxicab holdup which they declared he committed in front of 1040 Richmond street on May 20, last.

At the conclusion of his preliminary hearing Judge Carrell ordered him held under $5000 bail to await trial by Superior Court on charges of robbery and grand theft.

George H. Hess, driver of the taxicab, declared he answered a telephone call for a cab to the Richmond-street address about midnight. Schmidt thrust a revolver into his face, he said, took his purse, containing $6, and drove away with the cab. Officers Chitwood and Woolman came by in a police car within a few minutes, he said, and he told them of the hold-up. The officers pursued the cab, which still was in sight, and when Schmidt refused to halt and tried to use his own gun, which missed fire, shot him through the wrist and hand, Woolman testified. Schmidt then was placed under arrest.

COLLIER UPHELD BY HIGH COURT

Contempt Ruling Sustained in Blodgett Case

Decision Reverses Finding of Appeals Tribunal

Lawyer Had Charged Judge Was Prejudiced

Superior Judge Collier's contention that courts have an inherent right to punish for contempt, and that this right cannot be abridged by a charge of bias seeking to transfer the contempt proceedings to another court, was yesterday unanimously upheld by the State Supreme Court. A telegram so informing Judge Collier was received by him last night from the clerk of the high tribunal sitting in San Francisco.

The decision was returned in the case of D. T. Blodgett of Santa Barbara who had been sentenced by Judge Collier to serve ten days in jail, and pay $700 for contempt of court.

Blodgett, attacking this sentence on the charge of bias and prejudice, had been upheld by the Appellate Court, whereupon Judge Collier had taken the case before the State Supreme Court which yesterday found in his favor, overturning the ruling of the District Court of Appeal.

BIAS CHARGED

Judge Collier recently repeated his contention that a charge of bias cannot be brought against a judge in contempt proceedings when the case of the Los Angeles Record came before him, and argument on this position was heard last week by the State Supreme Court, which took the case under submission.

Conviction of Blodgett on the charge of contempt grew out of a suit that had been brought by him, acting as his own attorney, against the Olympic Refining Company.

Blodgett, answering a demurrer filed by the company, had inferred that Judge Collier, presiding in the case, had been influenced in favor of the Olympic Refining Company. Judge Collier cited him for contempt and when he failed to appear caused his arrest. He then adjudged him in contempt, whereupon Blodgett filed an affidavit of prejudice against the judge, and questioned his jurisdiction in holding Blodgett in contempt.

In further aggravation of the asserted contempt, Blodgett was declared by Judge Collier to have sent him (Collier) a letter which the court declared was "not only disrespectful, but scandalous, insulting, libellous and contemptuous."

SECOND CONTEMPT

Judge Collier thereupon held Blodgett in contempt a second time, and imposed the ten-day-in-jail sentence and the $700 fine.

It was at this point that Blodgett appealed to the District Court of Appeal, and Judge Collier in reply advanced the contention concerning the right of courts to punish for contempt without abridgment by the charge of the person so punished, or sought to be punished that the court is prejudiced.

Judge Collier took the position that if this "inherent power of the courts" were not upheld defendants in contempt proceedings could cause an endless round of litigation and confusion by seeking to transfer cases from one judge to another, but the Apellate Court in finding against him, declared:

COURT'S OPINION

"We are of the opinion that the provisions of law concerning the right of a party to have the trial of an action or proceeding transferred from a disqualified judge to another judge not so disqualified are applicable to contempt proceedings."

The Appellate Court therefore annulled the contempt order, and on April 28, 1929, Judge Collier took the case to the Supreme Court. He declared the ruling of the Appellate Court would, if upheld, "seriously hamper all courts in the State of California in the maintenance of their dignity and integrity, and place an unwarranted and undesirable limitation on the inherent power to punish for contempt."

He added, further, the contention that change of venue and disqualification statutes do not apply in contempt proceedings; that the Legislature has not provided and cannot provide for changes of venue or disqualification of judges in contempt proceedings, and that, among other things, the contempts charged to Blodgett were direct contempts and not "constructive contempts."

VENUE CHANGE

The question as to whether changes of venue can be asked in instances of "constructive contempt" was not brought out in yesterday's decision of the State Supreme Court, which held that in the Blodgett case the offense was "direct" contempt.

Proceeding on this basis the Supreme Court found that Blodgett had no right to urge disqualification of Judge Collier in his affidavit of prejudice, and it also scored as "utterly without foundation" a letter it had received last month from Blodgett asserting the seven judges of the high tribunal were prejudiced against him.

Judge Collier was represented in his appeal to the Supreme Court by Attorneys Schauer, Ryon & Goux. Heaney, Price & Postel.

DATE FIXED FOR CHEST'S NEW DRIVE

October 27, Next, Chosen to Initiate Appeal for Funds to Aid Charities

Members of the board of directors of the Los Angeles Community Chest at a meeting yesterday set Monday, October 27, as the opening date of the seventh annual campaign for funds, according to President Lacy.

Mrs. Albert Crutcher, president of the Children's Hospital and a member of the board, reported as chairman of the fourteen residential districts that 3500 Los Angeles women will volunteer their services in connection with the campaign. She predicted that this year's organization will be the most complete and thoroughly systematized in the history of the local Chest. A total of 17,000 men and women workers will constitute the personnel of the different divisions.

President Lacy also announced that Herman R. Erkes, vice-president and chairman of the board of management of the Bank of Italy, has been elected a member of the board of directors of the Community Chest to succeed L. M. McDonald, who recently resigned.

Dodds's Widow Back from Reno

Mrs. Jane Knapp Dodds, who recently went to Reno, according to her attorney, to establish a legal residence, yesterday returned to Los Angeles and appeared in Probate Court asking to be appointed administratrix of her husband's estate.

The decedent, Maurice Richards Dodds, was killed in an airplane crash near Laguna Beach. He left no will disposing of his $200,000 estate.

GLENN ROGERS CASE GOES TO JURY TODAY

With the presentation of closing arguments today, the fate of Glenn A. Rogers, accused of shooting James Costello, Los Angeles police officer, to death, will be placed in the hands of a jury in Superior Judge Fricke's court. Officers charge that Rogers killed Costello in cold blood, when he was stopped for questioning. Rogers, however, asserts that he shot in self-defense after the officers opened fire on him.

Los Angeles Attorney Irked by Pasadena Counsel

Questioning of Witness for City Causes Dispute

Apartment-house Heating Requirements Argued

Discussion between counsel opposed to the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation at a rate hearing before Commissioner Carr of the State Railroad Commission in the Associated Realty Building, broke out yesterday in the midst of testimony by Ward H. Rupp, engineer of the Board of Public Utilities of the city of Los Angeles.

Frederick Von Schrader of the Los Angeles City Attorney's office rose to defend the witness, who had been summoned by the city, while Leonard Diether of the Pasadena City Attorney's office was rigorously questioning the engineer as to the reasons for certain conclusions.

CAUSE OF DISPUTE

"An attempt is being made to confuse the witness," said Von Schrader, commenting that Diether, present in the capacity of an investigator, was supposed to be on the city's side. "If Diether is on the company's side, I wish he would declare himself," said Von Schrader.

Rupp had testified that from his observations apartment - houses caused increased consumption of gas because of an increased number of heating units in a given area, greater water heating requirements and the like. Company witnesses had testified that apartment-house owners use less gas than dwellers in residences. Diether was questioning the witness as to the extent of the latter's observations and investigations when the fireworks came.

PLANTS HELD NEEDLESS

Butler, Rupp testified that the gas manufacturing plants of the Pacific corporation are unnecessary because of the great supplies of natural gas available to public utilities serving the Los Angeles district. Consequently, the witness concluded, properties valued at between $10,912,727 and $11,627,911, according to the rate-base under consideration, could be removed in establishing a gas charge.

Elimination of the gas manufacturing plants from the rate-basis valuation, he declared, would result in a saving of between $701,944 and $1,00,343 in operations.

TRIAL OF CITY'S SUIT FOR INJUNCTION RESUMED

Hearings on the city of Los Angeles' suit for a permanent injunction restraining the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation from using certain streets for its equipment to furnish power other than light to consumers was resumed yesterday in Superior Judge Collier's court after more than four months' continuance. The case was adjourned February 25, last, to permit the arranging of a vast mass of testimony.

The case was delayed yesterday when the entire forenoon because Judge Collier and his court attaches were testifying before the Coroner's inquest into the slaying of Motley E. Flint.

EXHIBITS IDENTIFIED

Yesterday's session was devoted almost entirely to setting up and identifying the enormous array of exhibits, files and records, and going over the code of exhibits prepared by the city's legal battery during the long recess.

Toward the conclusion of the afternoon session, J. W. Rose, power engineer for the Bureau of Power and Light, was called by the corporation in cross-examination of his testimony given on February 20. His testimony dealt with the relations between the corporation and the Bureau of Light and Power, and had scarcely begun when court adjourned for the day.

All of the principals at yesterday's session, from Judge Collier down, were in shirt sleeves with one exception. Garrett McEnerney of San Francisco, head of the gas company's defense counsel, not only kept on his coat, but also wore a vest.

CITY'S CHARGES

Associated with McEnerney for the gas company are Alfred Sutro of San Francisco, Paul Overton and Samuel Freeman, Jr. Representing the city are R. R. Robinson, special counsel, and Deputy City Attorneys Charles C. Cooper, Jr., and W. Turney Fox.

According to the city's complaint, the company's franchise permitting it to furnish power other than for lighting purposes expired in 1916 and never was regranted. The city contends that the company now is using the streets unlawfully for its operations.

The company contends that the city is estopped from taking any action for the reason that it has stood by since 1916 and silently acquiesced in affirmative acts of the light corporation. It contends that since the expiration of the franchise, the same company has been compelled to furnish power to city governmental departments and to various of its consumers, also that it was forced to participate in a pole agreement with the city.

Records of these asserted transactions are included in the mass of documents being presented.

Special Counsel Robinson said yesterday that he estimated another week will be required to complete his case.

Striking of Witness for City Causes Dispute

Court-House Heating Requirements Argued

Attorneys for counsel opposed to the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation at a rate hearing before Commissioner Carr of the Railroad Commission in the Pacific Realty Building, broke out anew in the midst of testimony by Ward H. Deputy City Attorney Von Schrader of the Los Angeles City Attorney's office objected to the witness, who had been summoned by the city, while Assistant Dunlap of the Pasadena City Attorney's office was rigorously cross-examining the engineer as to his reasons for certain conclusions.

GAS REDUCTION RESUMED

Hearings on the city of Los Angeles' suit for a permanent injunction restraining the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation from using certain streets for its equipment to furnish power other than gas to consumers was resumed yesterday by Superior Judge Collier after more than four months' continuance. The case was started February 25, last, to permit the smuggling of a vast mass of data.

MOTORS OF ACTOR HELD FOR EX-WIFE

Conway Tearle Property Attached for Alimony in Suit at Bay City

Asserted failure of Conway Tearle, motion-picture actor, to pay $9032.50 in back alimony to his first wife, Mrs. Josephine Park Tearle, has resulted in the actor's property in Los Angeles county being placed under attachment by the Sheriff.

CONWAY TEARLE

A bank account and two automobiles owned by Tearle and thirty-five parcels of real estate in which he is asserted to be interested have been attached by Capt. Jewell, head of the Sheriff's civil department, as a means of satisfying a judgment obtained by Mrs. Tearle on the 3rd inst. in a San Francisco court.

Tearle at present is in England on a trip, according to Morris J. Herbert, his attorney.

Declaring that the two automobiles attached were hers, Adele Rowland, the actor's present wife, made a third-party claim for the cars. In turn, a bond was filed by the first Mrs. Tearle contesting the claim. The automobiles, along with $91.05 deposited in the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank at Hollywood Boulevard and McCadden Place, to the credit of Tearle are now held by the Sheriff.

'BASE TITLE' INJUNCTION SUIT ARGUED

Receiver Will be Named Unless Companies Reach Compromise, Says Judge

Argument by attorneys in the suit to enjoin the Security Title Company from using "base titles" including complicated court records advisable only after costly search was heard by Superior Judge Hanby yesterday. The court announced that unless a compromise is reached he will appoint a receiver tomorrow to hold the disputed "base titles" until the case can be heard on its merits.

The titles in question involve court decisions on numerous boundary disputes between owners of land defined in the old Spanish and Mexican land grants. Because, it is asserted, of the fact that early owners paid little attention to land registration laws, and because of the slight value of the property involved, "vast litigation" resulted, and the plaintiff, the Title Insurance and Trust Company, established in 1893, has checked on 1,100,000 separate court orders.

The plaintiff asserted that one of its employees sold a copy of the base titles to the defendant, and from this copy numerous others were printed.

Attorney Frank P. Doherty represented the plaintiff and Harold E. Kiggens, the defendant. A demurrer to the complaint by one of the defendants, the American Title and Trust Company, was sustained, but all other demurrers were overruled.

GORE GIVEN JAIL TERM IN ROBBERY

Adler Gets State Prison Sentence of from Seven to Fifteen Years

Charles Gore, son of a wealthy theater man, whose high-powered speedster was used in the robbery of the Vermont-Wilshire branch of the Seaboard National Bank, yesterday was sentenced to serve eighteen months in the County Jail when he appeared in Superior Judge Schmidt's court for sentence.

Harry S. Adler, actual perpetrator of the crime, who escaped in the automobile driven by Gore, was sentenced to seven to fifteen years in San Quentin.

Adler was out on probation after robbing a vault in the Sheriff's office more than a year ago. He tried to take the blame for the crime, testifying that Gore knew nothing of Adler's intentions when he went into the bank.

Wife Divorces Film Director

John B. Stumar, motion-picture director, struck her, his wife, Mrs. Louis Stumar, testified yesterday in obtaining a divorce granted by Superior Judge Gans. Mrs. Stumar asserted that her husband threatened to take away her child, and when she cried about it he accused her of crying just for sympathy.

A property settlement effected out of court gives the wife $5000 in cash and $100 a month for the support of her child. The Stumars were married in New York, November 24, 1919, and separated October 15, 1929. Attorney Porter C. Blackburn appeared for the wife.

MONTANAN FLYING TO FAMILY REUNION

Six thousand miles of air travel to attend a family reunion in the Dutch East Indies is only an "anticipated delight" to F. P. Smethlage, prominent resident of Montana, who arrived yesterday on the noon Western Air Express plane from San Francisco. His father, mother and a sister reside at Curacao, Dutch West Indies, and a brother is flying from New York to meet him at Fort Worth, Tex., which he will reach tonight via W.A.E. From there they will fly to Mexico City and transfer to another airline for Curacao.

Today's Bible Text

Do all things without murmurings and disputings; that ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world.—Phil. ii, 14-15.

VERY RESERVED

If all the reservations Senators have been trying to incorporate in the naval treaty should be adopted the document would strongly resemble a cross-word puzzle.

PERSIAN PATTERN

The Shah of Persia is said to have the most gorgeous motor car of any of earth's rulers. His wagon is in shiny white enamel trimmed in solid gold and the headlights are studded with emeralds. A bus like that would even create a sensation on Hollywood Boulevard.

GOING UP

During the last year more than 25,000 paying passengers have taken the air at the Grand Central terminal in Glendale. This is thought to be a record for American airports. Yet this is but one of some sixty terminals in Los Angeles county. More folks are taking the air every day.

WHAT'S THE MATTER?

Prof. Einstein says that space is the most important dimension in the universe and that ultimately it will devour matter. Newspaper boys who have to find matter to fill space will appreciate this condition. Personally we should like to see a demonstration of space lunching on matter.

COLLECTING TAXES

The Board of Public Works approves a plan for having street-light assessments collected with the regular taxes. At present there are more than 600 accounts spread all over the city and the year. It is figured that it would be a great convenience to the citizen as well as the city. But legislative action would be necessary and this takes time.

THE BIG MONEY

Uncle Sam isn't broke yet. The collection of income taxes during the fiscal year just ended brought in $2,410,000,000. This is a lot of dough if anybody should ask. It is nearly $130,000,000 more than the round-up of the previous year. All this in spite of the fact that folks are talking about the depression of the times. Somebody's income has been going on.

LONDON TRAFFIC

London has been seeking to introduce the stop-and-go signal for the regulation of motor traffic, but the citizens did not take kindly to it at the outset. The system found them puzzled and curious and the first day produced a regular blockade at every barrier. The drivers all wanted to see the other fellow do it. They will get around to it ultimately, but they are going to take their time.

ILLNESS OF MUSSOLINI

Although official Rome has been making an attempt to conceal the fact of Mussolini's illness, the details accompanying the news report would seem to establish it as a fact. The latest cable on the subject not only informed the world that Il Duce had undergone a serious stomach operation, but gave the name of the surgeon who performed it as well as those of his two assistants.

It has been known for more than a year that Italy's dictator was suffering from chronic indigestion. Of course, wise dietitians were not surprised considering the fact that he rarely took more than six minutes for a meal and that he was known to rush back to his office from luncheon and begin work of an exacting and sometimes exciting nature.

In this respect as in others Mussolini has been keeping to the character of Julius Caesar, whose portrait hangs in his office and whose dominating style he proudly and confessedly imitates. Caesar's "falling sickness" is now believed by some modern physicians to have been autointoxication, which is likely to floor its victim without notice. Caesar lived to be 56, at which age he was assassinated. Mussolini is now 47 and should be in his "prime." Italy hopes for his quick recovery, but if he is to get well and stay well he would better discontinue the health-impairing habit of six-minute meals.

THE FLINT TRAGEDY

Inquiry into all the factors contributing to Monday's shocking tragedy, when Motley H. Flint, Los Angeles financier, was shot and killed as he stepped from the stand in a local courtroom, cannot be made too thorough.

Keaton, the killer, appears to be a man of low-grade intelligence, but the evidence so far at hand tends to support the police theory of deliberate and carefully planned murder rather than that the unprovoked act was one of sudden insanity. That he had been brooding over financial losses for which he regarded his victim in some way responsible and that he armed himself and went to lie in wait for the banker in the courtroom where he knew Flint was to be a witness is established by his own statement.

However, Keaton did not know Flint by sight. He had to have his victim pointed out to him so that he would know whom to shoot. From the superficial facts, therefore, it would appear that his distorted impression of the banker and of the latter's supposed responsibility for Keaton's losses proceeded from some other source than the slayer's own personal knowledge and acquaintance with him.

Held as evidence by the District Attorney with the personal effects of Keaton taken from his pockets after his arrest is a copy of "Julian Thieves," by Rev. R. P. Shuler, a pamphlet recently sold broadcast by that minister and containing savage attacks upon a group of Los Angeles bankers whose names have appeared in connection with the Julian debacle. In this Mr. Flint was the object of a particularly bitter attack by name. The local banking fraternity in general is assailed in the booklet in such statements as "there isn't a crooked real estate promotion in Southern California that hasn't a bank as an ally" and that "there isn't a big bootlegger . . . that isn't in league with one of our banking institutions."

What connection, if any, this pamphlet had with the tragedy has yet to come to light. Its significance, if it is significant, lies in the fact that it was the only thing connected with the affair which bore in any way upon the victim. Keaton now denies carrying the pamphlet seized by the police, though it does not appear from what other source it could have come.

Keaton's losses, he says, were not in Julian stock, but in securities of a bank with which Mr. Flint was formerly associated. Keaton says he "heard" that Flint was responsible for the decline in the value of this stock three years ago, which was roughly coincident with the collapse of the Julian corporation. Aside from the general charges mentioned, the Shuler pamphlet deals almost entirely with the Julian case. Keaton says that he has listened occasionally to Shuler's radio broadcasts, but that he was not influenced by what he heard. However, in the transcript of his statement to the police appears reference to the "radio" in connection with his feeling that Mr. Flint was responsible for his loss.

Should it appear from more complete investigation that Keaton's act was influenced in any way by the reading or hearing of loose and reckless allegations, here or elsewhere, it will supply merely one more tragic example of the peril to any community of intemperate and irresponsible charges launched indiscriminately and upon no more stable basis than gossip and hearsay. There have been enough of them already.

The tragedy which ended the life of Mr. Flint is a profound shock to the community with which he had been so long associated and it is due to the community as well as to all directly concerned in the terrible affair that all the facts bearing on it, directly or indirectly, shall come to light. Nothing should be permitted to stand in the way of a complete and impartial investigation.

Apart from his work as a banker, Mr. Flint during his long life here made many substantial contributions to community progress as a public official, as a leader in charitable endeavors and as a citizen vitally interested in the growth and welfare of Los Angeles and Southern California. Of his connection with the Julian affair, it is no more than fair to say that the usury charges directed against him and some twenty others as an indirect outgrowth of the Julian investigation were all dismissed; that, at the time of his death, but one of five charges remained to be disposed of and that Mr. Flint voluntarily returned from Europe to face them.

RUDOLPH SCHILDKRAUT

By the sudden death of Rudolph Schildkraut at the age of 65 filmland loses one of its most highly valued characters, an actor who was as well at home on the dramatic stage as he was in a studio setting and who always brought to the part he played such strong individuality as distinguishes Emil Jannings and other choice spirits of the screen.

Mr. Schildkraut had an odd and quite varied career. Born in Constantinople, educated in Rumania and making an early appearance as an actor, he was given leading parts in classic drama and also in opera bouffe. After appearing in German films for a few years he came to America with his son Joseph, who has achieved a unique reputation on the screen. He is said to have learned English in three weeks in order to take up stage work in New York, where he was very successful.

Coming to Los Angeles after achieving a high reputation in the East, Mr. Schildkraut appeared in several films, among them "His People," "King of Kings," "The Main Event" and "The Country Doctor." One of his greatest film characterizations was the role of Caiaphas in "King of Kings." In "Christina," with Janet Gaynor, he touched the hearts of theatergoers with his skillful delineation of the old blind toy maker.

There was so much rugged vitality and strength of character in this "old darling of the screen," as he was affectionately known in Hollywood, that he will be long remembered.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

THE new $1,900,000 headquarters building of the Southern California Telephone Company at No. 740 South Olive will not be completed before October, but the part of it which will mean most to the public will be open today or tomorrow and will be a remarkable example of the new idea in business management. It will be more like a reception room than a place of forbidding counters and gratings. There will be an unostentatious counter half-mooning around the northwest corner of the spacious and pleasant room, to which people in a hurry may step and pay their bills and get away quickly. But if they have any other business to transact they will be met by a courteous host who will inquire what he can do for them, then led to the desk of some one who can attend to their wishes, introduced and offered a chair. In other words, there will be no standing up at counters, except for the minute or two which will be required for the paying of bills. All other matters will be handled in conferences over a desk between persons comfortably seated. And down the center of the room will be long, comfortable davenports, or padded seats, for anyone who is just waiting.

This will be the first business office of such magnitude in the West in which this atmosphere of sociability, rather than of snappy business, will be established. A similar plan has been adopted in a new telephone building in Detroit, but nowhere else in the country has a great public service organization, dealing with all classes of people, attempted to establish such contact with its customers.

Microphone on Every Desk

On every one of those numerous conference desks will be a handsome little calendar which really is a microphone. All that the clerk says to a customer will be carried by that microphone to a councilor in another part of the building—all the mechanics of the business operations will be carried on in other parts of the building—and if any clerk should fail to show any customer courtesy and pleasant treatment the councilor undoubtedly will have some suggestions to make. This is not a spying system, but a co-operating system, the desire of the company being to assist its employees in every possible way in the agreeable handling of its clients.

About half the conference desks will be occupied by women, so that any woman who prefers to deal with a woman—or vice versa—may be accommodated.

The pleasing and convenience of women has been especially considered. The furnishings and decorations have been designed for their appreciation. And in front of every cashier's window is a little ledge on which women customers may lay their pocketbooks — experience having taught that if they lay the pocketbooks anywhere out of their direct line of vision they are likely to forget them.

A Noiseless Cafeteria!!!

The ceiling of that big telephone office is sound-absorbing, so that if anyone should raise a holler—but, of course, that's out of the question. What may be fraught with greater possibilities for the public welfare is that the cafeteria also has sound-absorbing qualities and instead of a grand Wagnerian crash and clatter of dishes, one may "caf" there in a calm like that of the California Club! It is hoped that this idea will be widely copied.

A Library of Directories

A library of the telephone directories of other cities will be another feature of this new building. Even now so many people daily call on the telephone company for the telephone numbers and street addresses of people in other cities that one employee is kept busy handing out and getting back directories. There will be thousands of volumes in this unique library.

And for the benefit of transients there will even be a lot of little private offices which you may borrow for an hour or two, or all day, if need be, while you are making a lot of long-distance calls.

Swindling by Telephone

Most of us whose monthly telephone bills amount to only $5 or $7.50 have little idea of how some people and concerns use the telephone. Recently we mentioned an actress who called up a friend in Paris and had a $2000 chat with him. There are thousands of people here who use the telephone as a matter of habit, rarely writing letters when they can make the telephone serve their need. There are business concerns which think nothing of spending several hundred or even several thousand dollars a day for telephone calls. And a few of these, to the telephone company's sorrow, are fly-by-night brokers.

When nearly everybody was either taking a flyer in the stock market or was like the farmer who said he'd never bought a gold brick yet, but was saving up his money, a plague of imitation brokers fell upon us. Their game was to call up men in the smaller cities of Southern California and offer them thoroughly good shares of stock at very attractive prices. Often they offered the best and most reliable stocks at several points below that day's market. The victim, thinking he was dealing with an old reliable house, mailed in his check at once—but the mails from the suburban towns often are slow. Next day the brokers would phone him again, saying that unfortunately his check had just arrived, an hour after the time limit fixed, so the stock involved was all gone. But they were applying his check on a still better buy—one sure to pay big money much sooner—namely, Sinkum Oil and Gas, preferred. They were writing him fully about this wonderful opportunity. Of course, if he wanted his money back they would refund it cheerfully. But they advised him to wait till he got their letter. So days were dragged by, days in which hundreds of dollars' worth of telephone calls were made to thousands of "prospects"—and then the brokers faded from view just in time to escape the sheriff and the collector.

AMERICAN CHAMPIONS!

All the youngsters of America were given opportunity to compete in the Junior Olympic Games and the winner of the highest number of points is the champion athlete of America. He turns out to be a Mexican lad—little Joe Andrade of Calexico. The runner-up is a Japanese youth from Hawaii. In the senior division the champion is another Jap boy from Hawaii. Of the ten first places on the program eight went to California and Hawaii. The East was hardly in the running.

TRAVEL

By James J. Montague

I've seen ten thousand battleships
Maneuver on the main,
A million motors making trips
Across the western plains
And Jimmie Walker shake the hands—
Appareled in a smile—
Of swarms of men from foreign lands,
But mostly Erin's Isle.

Vast herds of buffaloes I've seen
Upon Montana's hills;
But though they beautify the scene
They bring me few fresh thrills.
Mt. Everest, which skyward climbs,
Is much to be admired;
But yet, when viewed five hundred times
It makes one rather tired.

Though fond of seeing daring men,
My gaze grows fixed and stony
Each time that I regard again
The map of Al Capone.
And though that Vassar daisy chain
Is quite a pretty notion,
I find it leaves my weary brain
Without the least emotion.

I've seen a hundred kings and queens,
And presidents with gavels.
I've visited a thousand scenes,
In movie news reel travels.
And now no longer I shall roam;
Of every thrill divested,
I mean henceforth to stay at home
Until completely rested.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

SEVENTY TONS OF PAPER ON BYRD

(Philadelphia Inquirer)

The statisticians have been at work. It is estimated that seventy tons of paper were showered upon Admiral Byrd and the members of his party on the occasion of his triumphal entry into New York City. This torn paper is "Broadway's characteristic salute to returning celebrities." The amount is known because it had to be collected afterward by an army of scavengers. All kinds of waste were used to make this mimic snowstorm, and, when everything else failed, the tenants and employees of the skyscrapers on Broadway tore up the new telephone books and hurled them to the winds. The cost of cleaning up this mess was exactly $21,915.

No one grudges Admiral Byrd and other famous men the homage they receive on their homecoming, but it might be suggested that there are other and better ways of showing it than by littering the streets with waste paper.

AN EARL'S SEVEN WORDS

(Boston Transcript)

Edward George Villers Stanley, seventeenth Earl of Derby, Knight of the Garter, Knight of the Grand Cross of the Bath, Knight of the Grand Cross of the Royal Victorian Order, etc., etc., etc., came to this country to see a horse race and went home to make an observation on America that reflects with meticulous accuracy the state of mind of a large section of the American populace. It was not an observation directly related to the Blue Grass country, region of beautiful horses and the home of the Kentucky Derby. It touched upon a matter of more general interest than even the greatest of events of the track. Speaking before the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, Lord Derby said that he had been under the impression that money was the chief topic of conversation in America. "It was not," he added. "It was prohibition and how best to avoid it."

INDIA'S RESPONSE

(New York World)

It was inevitable that the first Indian response to the full Simon report would be hostile. Yet even on the second day the Bombay dispatches offer some encouraging passages. While various Nationalist leaders call the Simon plan outrageous and reactionary, in the same breath some of them express hope in the coming Anglo-Indian conferences. One leader declares that India "must fight at the London conference;" another hopes that the MacDonald government may after all "mean business at the round-table conference;" and a Moslem leader calls for suspension of civil disobedience to prepare the Indian case at the round table. As long as the Indians are ready to think of negotiation, a sensible compromise is possible.

An Aviation Museum

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Now that Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith has presented the Southern Cross to Capt. Allan Hancock why not start a movement to establish an aviation museum at one of the airports in Los Angeles county and bring that airplane here where thousands can view it every day?

Los Angeles is bound to become the aviation center of the United States, if not the world. In a few years aviation will play a very important part in our foreign commerce. With an aviation museum located here we would attract foreign buyers as well as provide an additional entertainment for our native tourists.

If Capt. Allan Hancock really desires to erect a lasting monument for his father he should endow such a museum.

Ventura School

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Apropos of an article which appeared in a recent issue of The Times concerning two inmates of the Ventura School for Girls who made their escape through a window and of their story of a "bath in sheep dip," I feel that such a report should not go by unchallenged.

It was my privilege to hold the position of officer in Monte Vista, the receiving cottage for all new offenders, and I know definitely the entire procedure. Upon their arrival, each girl is given a hair bob by a competent barber, a bath in a spotlessly clean bathtub and a nice new blue and white dress with all other accessories, besides a Sunday uniform, navy blue serge and red tie.

I have been in the girl business for a good many years, having been dean of women in college and university halls and private boarding schools for girls, and I have never seen more justice, charity or mercy shown than in our own Ventura School for Girls.

Starting a Library

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Harry Carr has suggested an interesting game—the selection of books with which to start a library. I hope other literary authorities will prepare advisory lists. You will get an idea of my choice when I say that eight years ago I "ditched" all but 150 of my 1200 books and that not one of those recommended by Mr. Carr remained on my shelves, while on his list I see none of these literary treasured: The Bible, Shakespeare's plays, Plutarch's Lives, Browning, Tennyson, Keats, Shelley, Whitman and Omar Khayyam, collections of poetry, Epictetus' "Enchiridion," Montaigne's, Carlyle's and Emerson's essays, Thoreau's "Walden," John Muir's "Mountains of California," Stevenson's "Inland Voyage" and "Travels With a Donkey," George Eliot's "Middlemarch," Thomas Hardy's "Return of the Native" and Taine's "English Literature."

I include the Bible not because I am a Fundamentalist, for I am nothing of the sort, but on account of its literary and historical value. B. M.

Calls Sinners to Repentance

LAGUNA BEACH, July 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] If it is true, as stated by the Institute of Social and Religious Research, that "fifty-five out of every 100 persons of more than 13 years of age in the United States are members of some church" and the assumption that "these throw the country definitely on the side of spiritual forces" is based upon fact, then it would seem that all the criminals and felons in all our penitentiaries are furnished from the 45 per cent who are not "church members" and consequently not "definitely on the side of spirituality."

These statements and conclusions, if true, would seem to reduce the drive on crime and criminals to those of our population which claim no church membership.

Yet recently a Superior Court judge in Los Angeles, in a public statement, told us that of over 20,000 cases, most of them double felonies, that came through his court, they were all either Jews, Protestants or Roman Catholics. The test of the churches as a moral force failed in the above 20,000 cases.

ZANE GREY

Writers who battle with the discouragement of the politely worded rejection slip may take courage from the experience of Zane Grey, who wrote for five years without finding acceptance and printed his first book at his own expense. Now his publishers tell us that 11,228,399 copies of his books have been sold in the United States and his novels have been translated into twenty languages. F. H. H.

Monkeys Fashionable Pets

Monkeys are becoming fashionable as pets in London. Women are still clinging to their poodles, but are adding the chatterers to be sure of being up-to-date. Animal shops in Mayfair are hard put to supply the demand and the price for monkeys has risen from $6 to $125 each.

ANOTHER SKIN GAME

BY EUGENE BROWN

"I see the California orange grower is getting another break," remarked the Old Resident as he deftly speared another pickle with his toothpick.

"Meaning what?" queried I.

"Don't you read the papers?" returned the pioneer.

"Some of them," answered I, "but what of it? What have I missed now?"

"Didn't you read the dispatches from Alaska telling how the silver fox farmers of that country are clamoring for gobs and gobs of our orange juice?"

"Well, why not?" retorted I.

"Everybody's doing it."

"Yes, but the funny thing is that these bozos want it for their animals," explained the old man. "It seems that the foxes come up to the barrier every morning and yelp piteously for their ration."

"Sounds like a good story," urged I.

"Well, anyhow, the fox farmers are buying the concentrated juice in carload lots and they are demanding a guarantee of a continued and adequate supply. They give it to their Reynards."

"Maybe the foxes are on the Hollywood diet," interrupted I.

"No such thing," returned the veteran. "But it seems that the orange adds something to the luster and body of the fur and makes the pelts marketable earlier than would be the case if the animals had been merely brought up on ham and eggs or other more substantial fodder."

"The fox can't be so awful cunning," argued I, "if he clamors daily for orange juice in order to get skinned a month earlier than if he had stuck to his sirloin and mushrooms."

"Yes, but think of the fun he is having," retorted the old man.

"Somehow or other I can't imagine the fox fanciers of the Arctic Zone rearing their flocks on orange juice," argued I.

"Why not?" roared the veteran. "Didn't I see it in the paper and didn't I see a girl on Hollywood Boulevard with one of the pelts around her neck? Our oranges have girdled the globe. They have taken possession of the Orient and conquered Europe, why shouldn't the suffering foxes of the polar circle have their share? Admiral Byrd had oranges with him at the South Pole, why not the north?"

"It's all right with me," said I. "But the next thing we will hear will be about the Ringling Brothers trying to corner our orange output to feed their tigers. I should think a tiger brought up on orange juice might be a lovely pet."

"Or a boon companion," chirped the pioneer.

"Suits me," added I. "I might even start a tiger lair in my chicken run and sell my surplus to the Old Ladies' Home."

THE SONG OF THE PAGAN

I would know the long ways, the cool ways, the green ways.
The ways that lead to happiness across a sunny sea,
For there are voices in the wind
so mirthful and so tender
That never let me idly rest while they are calling me;
I would follow gleaming paths that lead across the water
And every little beaten trail that fancy's will has fashioned.
My ears would listen eagerly to words of love and laughter,
To old songs and sweet songs of life and hearts impassioned.

My feet would tread the blossomed lanes that gipsy feet have measured
And rest beneath the green boughs when southward winds are blowing.
My eager lips would shape anew the tales that men have vaunted
Where mighty streams and angry streams their wilful ways are flowing;
I would fare on, and on, and on, unmindful of the hour,
Starlight is potent as dawn-light to set the pulse athrill,
I would know the long ways, the coo' ways, the green ways,
Until I reach the world's end where silence tops the hill.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Millinery?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Free instruction in designing, creating and remodeling hats of all types is given at the Polytechnic Evening High School, 400 West Washington Boulevard, on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, 7 to 9, in room 287 on the second floor of the cafeteria building. This is situated on Flower street between Washington Boulevard and Twentieth street.

Work of the class will consist in designing and cutting new material and in making over hats of another season. Steaming and reblocking hats may be done at no cost to the student using the school equipment. The new style silk and linen hats will be made with just the little touches that make them so charmingly different. The suitability of certain styles and materials for various occasions will be stressed, so that the wearer may always be correctly attired.

Where Divorce is Easy

The problem of divorce could easily be solved, according to Dr. Au-Young, if our men and women had the same appreciation of marriage as the Chinese have. Although there is in China today some divorce, it is not a thing taken to courts. A notice in the paper that such and such a couple are no longer husband and wife is sufficient.

The Chinese are a proud race, and no Chinese woman would humble herself to the degree of accepting alimony. She returns to her father's roof, where she is always welcome.

PEN POINTS

Oke: A slang expression meaning unqualified approval. Antonym: Borah.

But how does a politician explain it when he isn't sick? They have no teeth.

A second term is the one thing which an official does things he refrained from in order to get it.

There is an advantage in simplicity. Think how thoroughly Mrs. O'Leary's cow cleaned up Chicago one time.

They give away razors to make you buy blades. Why doesn't the fellow with the chain concession give you a belt?

Superior races are those that give much publicity to a man who can knock a little ball in a hole.

Of course it's unlucky to be married on Friday. Why not Friday be an exception?

Even the Orient is becoming Americanized. Many Chinese restaurants near the coast now serve chop suey.

Americanism: Thinking of ourselves keen business men because we make money when everybody is on a spending spree, helplessly howling when the money stops coming.

A great financier is one who can "explain" a decline of values and use enough big words to conceal his ignorance.

HOW OLD ARE WE?

By the Foothill Philosopher

You bring me the family Bible and call my attention to the leaf on which a fond hand wrote the date of my birth. You say I was born in a cabin in the mountains of the old State. You remind me of my childhood spent among the hills and meadows and of my many human playmates, as well as my natural friends, the trees and singing streams, verdant fields and woodlands.

You recall to me my boyhood home and tell me how, in my youth's prime, I left the humble house that sheltered me to go out into a world that knew me not and that I little knew stood. You unwind the film of the picture reel of the past and point me to myself as I was on the highway of time, past the mile-posts of the years working, playing, eating, sleeping, dreaming until I reached the peak of the present, which is the epitome of the past and the promise of the future.

Well, in one sense you are right, but from another point of view you are mistaken. I at once thought of myself as I think of me now, but I am no longer deceived by appearances. I know myself for more than I seem and that which I am, my appearance only a shadow. I am more than you imagine, I am older than you think me and never was I born and never shall I die. I am unbegotten by time and circumstance, unaffected by sorrow and pain, unaffected by experience. I am the essence of the drama of life, of which I am the author. I am the spirit of the sun and stars, the very essence of beauty and the soul of music. I am the singer of the lark and the plaintive song of mate. I am the fragrance of the flower and wildwood and the nectar and rain that they drink. I am the delight of all who think and feel nobly, the inspiration of all genius. I am the strength of truth, that is true, the strength of the strong, the virtue of the pure, the peace of the saintly and the love of all lovers.

Blessed am I beyond the power of mind to comprehend, for that is true of me is true of you.

TRAFFIC PATROL INCREASE URGED

Conference Asks for Fifty More Motorcycles

Machines Would be Given to Present Beat Men

Militant Campaign to Cut Auto Toll Begun

Reiterating the demand made at a similar meeting two months ago the traffic conference at the Automobile Club of Southern California, called by President Harry J. Bauer, yesterday declared that it was the sense of the meeting that fifty foot patrolmen of Los Angeles be equipped with motorcycles at once. The motion was made by Robert Breyer, president of the Los Angeles Traffic Commission, and was passed unanimously.

The action in effect was to strengthen the report of a committee appointed at the last meeting to urge the City Council to provide motorcycles for fifty men on representation of the Police Commission that men would be found to man them. Mr. Breyer in discussing the motion declared he has been assured by Deputy Chief Davis in charge of traffic that an officer equipped with a motorcycle not only would aid materially in reducing traffic accidents but would also improve his record in apprehending felons. Chief Davis in corroborating this indicated that several times the efficiency of a trained foot-patrolman could be expected were the same man assigned to duty with a motorcycle.

CAMPAIGN URGED

The conference was attended by not only representative public officials but also by officers and leaders in many civic organizations. It was decided that in view of the traffic situation in Los Angeles, now ranking as fifth city in population in the United States, the organization become militant in its efforts to make Los Angeles outstanding in its low traffic accident rate instead of allowing it to remain in third place among the cities of the United States.

A detailed report was submitted by Ivan Kelso, chief counsel of the Automobile Club of Southern California, on the records of the traffic division of the Municipal Court. These figures indicated that for the past six months some 90 per cent of all motorists cited into these courts either forfeited their bail or pleaded guilty; that 5 per cent were found guilty after trial and of the remainder only about 4 per cent were dis-

TRAFFIC PATROL INCREASE URGED

Silent Campaign to Cut Auto Toll Begun

Supporting the demand made at a public meeting two months ago in traffic conference at the Automobile Club of Southern California, stated by President Harry J. Bauer, yesterday declared that it was the opinion of the meeting that fifty foot patrolmen of Los Angeles be replaced with motorcycles at once. The motion was made by Robert [illegible] President of the Los Angeles Traffic Commission, and was carried unanimously.

The action in effect was to confirm the report of a committee appointed at the last meeting to urge the City Council to provide motorcycles for fifty men on recommendation of the Police Commission that men would be found to assign them. Mr. Breyer in discussing the matter declared he has been assured by Deputy Chief Davis in charge of traffic that an officer equipped with a motorcycle not only could aid materially in reducing traffic accidents but would also improve his record in apprehending violators. Chief Davis in corroborating this declared that several times the efficiency of a trained foot-patrolman could be expected were the same man assigned to duty with a motorcycle.

CAMPAIGN URGED

The conference was attended by not only representative public officials but also by officers and leaders in many civic organizations. It was decided that in view of the traffic situation in Los Angeles, now ranking as fifth city in population in the United States, the organization become militant in its efforts to make Los Angeles outstanding in its low traffic accident rate instead of allowing it to remain in third place among the cities of the United States.

A detailed report was submitted by Neal Dotan, chief counsel of the Automobile Club of Southern California, on the records of the traffic division of the Municipal Court. These records indicated that for the past [illegible] nearly 90 per cent of all motorists cited into these courts have forfeited their bail or pleaded guilty; that 5 per cent were found guilty after trial and of the remaining only about 4 per cent were dismissed either before or after a hearing.

LAW SUGGESTIONS

Mr. Bauer urged the conference to consider suggestions for future legislation regulating motor vehicles. This brought several suggestions for proposed amendments to the existing State laws. Among the matters offered for consideration was that the statute relating to drunken drivers be amended to allow certain of these cases to be handled in city traffic courts.

When information was asked concerning the laws on uniform color for vehicles of traffic officers, Capt. W. P. Cantion of the Los Angeles county motor patrol explained that the motorcycles in Los Angeles county do not have to be painted white to be legal, although the automobiles do. R. T. Dorsey, chief of the traffic signal department of the city, suggested that nonshatterable glass for motor vehicles be investigated among the matters to be considered for future legislative suggestion.

It was announced before adjournment that the committee will hold its next meeting at a date to be determined in September.

"HAMLET" COMEDY OF ERRORS

Dane Becomes More Melancholy Still as Police Suspect Something Rotten in Denmark and Dim Producer's Light in Jail House Cell

Locked in a cell at the City Jail, Alexander Light, self-styled producer of Shakespearean plays, yesterday deplored the unkind fate that disrupted his presentation of "Hamlet" at the Biltmore Monday night and landed him in the toils of the law.

Chief Deputy City Prosecutor McGann already has issued complaints charging him with three counts of petty theft and with conducting a trade school without a license and Detective Lieutenants Ryan and Mogue of the bunko squad today will request additional complaints from the District Attorney's office, charging bunko and issuance of spurious checks.

"Hamlet," the officers say, became an unprogrammed production of a comedy of errors. In the midst of the first act Polonius vanished from the wings, forcing the King to play his part and Light to step into the role of the King. Then, suddenly two other members of the cast refused to go on with the makeshift paper crowns and improvised beards Light had provided, so the producer was compelled to fill in for them as well. Whereupon Mayor Porter and his party, who were in the audience, departed. Light went to request police help and on his return found the place deserted save for five detectives.

The detectives say members of the erstwhile amateur troupe paid Light various sums for Shakespearean instruction. One of the complainants, according to the warrants issued yesterday, is Clara M. Fogelesong, 151 Commonwealth avenue, who paid out $87.50, $55 and $20 for the course.

Girl Loses Suit Over Treatment to Remove Wart

Wart-removing brought on a suit for $10,000 asserted damages, tried yesterday in Superior Judge Westover's court, with a decision adverse to the pretty plaintiff, Evelyn Isbell, 18 years of age. She complained that Brooks Montgomery, a druggist, dropped liquid, asserted to have been nitric acid, on the wart to remove it. The wart was on top of her head. Miss Isbell said that the liquid removed a patch of hair as well as the wart and that her eyes were affected.

The druggist called witnesses to testify that the wart medicine could not have caused the harm asserted.

Milton Young to Open Club's Meeting Series

For the purpose of enabling citizens to meet and hear candidates for State and county offices prior to the August primaries, the Hollywood City Club will conduct a series of mass meetings in the Hollywood High School auditorium, it was announced yesterday by Alvin W. Wendt, president.

The first of the meetings will be tonight, with Milton K. Young, unopposed Democratic candidate for Governor, as the chief speaker. Other gubernatorial candidates will appear at a later date.

Invitations have been issued to 10,000 voters, Wendt said. Sheriff Traeger, who is seeking re-election, will be another speaker on the program. The City Club is nonpolitical.

Young's scheduled address is expected to contain a review of the economic weaknesses of the present administration, and a warning against the establishment of a new Republican machine with Rolph at the helm.

Mining Concern Seeks Damages

In a suit filed yesterday in the United States District Court, the Golden Wonder Mines, Inc., seeks $235,000 damages from Harley Sill, mining engineer and former manager of the mine, George F. Pelton and several others not named.

The concern complains of Sill's management of the company's properties, including the Tip Top, Foy, Golden Wonder and Columbia groups.

JOBLESS MAN KILLS SELF

Manuel Quevedo, 56 years of age, yesterday committed suicide, police report, by hanging himself with a belt slung over a closet door in his home at 4245 Hamel street, Belvedere Gardens. The body was found by his wife, who stated Quevedo had been despondent over unemployment. Besides his wife he leaves six children.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Moreland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Moreland of 1763 Buckingham Road, to Norman D. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Wright of Los Robles avenue, Pasadena, will be solemnized this evening, the ceremony taking place at 8 o'clock in the First Methodist Church of Hollywood with Dr. Philipps officiating.

Ferns and hydrangea blooms will predominate in the decorations of the church, which will be massed with summer flowers and ivy. Three hundred and fifty invitations have been issued.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, will wear a lace and tulle gown over satin, the Princess lace and tulle veil being held in place by orange blossoms. She will carry white orchids and lillies of the valley.

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

THE TOMATO IS A HEALTH BUILDER

The tomato is an annual herb of the family, solanaceae, which also includes such widely used plants as the potato, tobacco and eggplant. When the climate is warm, or when raised in hot houses, the tomato plant may not die at the end of a year, as it does in colder climates. Sometimes, under a properly regulated temperature the plant becomes a perennial, living to be several years old. This is not practicable commercially, however, as the fruit becomes smaller after the first year.

The plants are usually propagated from seed, but may be raised in green houses from cuttings. The plant is a native of western South America. It was introduced into Europe during the sixteenth century, and although the fruits were used to a limited extent in pickles, relishes and preserves, they did not become popular for many years because of an unfounded supposition that the fruit was poisonous. The fruits have been very much improved in appearance and flavor by careful selection and cultivation, and this no doubt has contributed to an increased popularity.

At present, there are several hundreds of varieties varying in shape and color from the red currant and small yellow pear varieties to large red, white and pink types. The large red or pink fruits of from two to four inches in diameter are most marketable.

Tomatoes are raised in so many climates, and shipping and storage conditions have been perfected to such an extent that they may be obtained in a fresh state throughout the year. However, it is during the summer that the crop is most plentiful and the fruit is least expensive, so that everyone should make use of this valuable health-building fruit while it is most abundant. During other seasons you may use the canned tomatoes which practically are as healthful as the raw, fresh vegetable.

There are more tomatoes used for canning than of any other vegetable, and for this reason the price always is within the reach of every family. It is estimated that more than 250,000,000 cans are packed annually on the North American continent. This amount could be increased from five to ten times and still be beneficial to the general health.

The tomato has a distinctly beneficial effect in increasing the functioning of the liver. A tomato fast produces marvelous results in the treatment of liver disorders.

The tomato stands near the top of the list of healthful foods as it contains so many vitamins and organic minerals and valuable fruit acids. The tomato is rich in fat soluble, vitamin A, which is the antiricket vitamin. Vitamins B and D, which are antineurotic vitamins, also are found in the tomato, so that tomatoes should be good in nervous disorders.

The vitamin C, or the vitamin which prevents scurvy and various skin disorders, also is contained in this valuable fruit. Because of the presence of citric and malic acid the tomato is not alkaline when being eaten, but after being oxidized in the body leaves valuable alkaline salts of potassium, lime, magnesium and iron.

Money spent for tomatoes always is well invested.

WHY DO WE USE LACTIC ACID MILK?

Usually there is some misunderstanding about lactic acid milk and the reason why it is fed small children. The mother is fearful of the quantity to be fed her child and often asks, "How shall I increase it?"

An advantage of this type of feeding is its easy digestion, because of which we treat it as we would whole milk, and give the baby what is needed to satisfy him—within sane limits, of course.

Lactic acid is an aid to the digestion. Cow's milk, because of its tough curd and its own peculiar ability to take more acid in the child's stomach, than does the ideal type of mother's milk, is helped to a speedier digestion by the addition of acid to the milk.

All mothers notice that when milk comes up after only a short time, it is still sweet, but when baby spits it up after a longer period, the milk is already well curdled. This is the first step of digestion and is necessary before food of any kind can leave the stomach.

ADDING ACIDS

So we add acids to the milk, sometimes lactic acid or lemon juice, and give the baby's stomach enough additional acid to lighten the burden of wrestling with the curd of cows' milk. As the baby grows older there is less need for this, so we take out the acid drop by drop, or begin substituting one sweet milk feeding for one sour milk one.

"My baby is 6 weeks old and has gained four pounds and three ounces since birth. He is fed four times daily on lactic acid and takes four and one-half ounces at a feeding. How shall I increase the milk?" asks Mrs. F. I. B.

"He sleeps all night without the 2 o'clock feeding, but is started at 5 and wants more than the prescribed amount. Should I give him more at this feeding? When do you advise sunbaths?"

CONSIDER BABY'S APPETITE

The nursing mother does not measure the quantity of milk the child gets at a feeding and if she is curious enough, weighing baby before and after each nursing, she discovers that he does take varying amounts through the day. In feeding lactic acid milk we use it pretty much as we would use whole milk of any kind, giving the child what he wants of it. If he takes five ounces at 5 o'clock there is no harm done, and if he takes only three and one-half at some other feeding all is well, too.

The baby has gained enormously, and as he is well and happy he can be allowed to regulate his own feedings to a limited extent and eat what he wants at any given feeding period, instead of being given a stated amount. With only five feedings daily, at this age he won't overdo it. Sunbaths are started at 6 weeks, and we have a leaflet which covers the details of the ceremony. Please send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for it.

Both the pastor and his wife will appear before church audiences in Southern California and tell of their experiences in Africa. In Los Angeles they will speak in the Angelica and Bethel Lutheran churches and in Pasadena in the Trinity Church.

WALNUT GROWERS GET HUSK FLY WARNING

Owners of walnut orchards in the Pomona district were warned yesterday by County Agricultural Commissioner Ryan to begin precautionary measures against the husk fly. With the receipt of word that the insects are manifesting themselves earlier this year than last year, Ryan yesterday dispatched Deputy Commissioner Wilcomb and Inspector Becker to contact the various growers in the section. The walnut husk fly made its appearance several years ago. The fly lays eggs inside the walnut husk, the larvae feeding within causing a blackened area and the shell beneath to become stained. The stain results in a material decrease in the market value of the nut although the meat of the nut is not damaged, Ryan said.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

COLD FISH WITH LEMON SAUCE

Wash thoroughly and cut up two pounds of halibut, place it in a saucepan with two cupfuls of boiling water. Slice three onions and saute them until light brown in oil. Sprinkle over them a teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of ginger, a few grains of cheyenne pepper and add them to the fish. When the fish is tender, remove the skin and bone and flake it. Beat two eggs, add to them two tablespoonfuls of corn starch and one-fourth of a cupful of lemon juice. One cupful of the stock the fish was cooked in, and one teaspoonful of chopped parsley. Add the fish to this mixture, and stir until smooth. Place in a saucepan, and set over a slow fire for five minutes, stirring constantly. Allow the mixture to cool, pour into a mold, and place in the ice box until thoroughly chilled. Turn out on a platter, garnish with sliced cucumbers and serve cold.

HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

Beat to a cream one-half of a cupful of butter and beat into it one at a time the yolks of four eggs, and beat until smooth, add one and one-half tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, one-half teaspoonful of salt and one-fourth teaspoonful of cheyenne pepper, place the mixture in a double boiler and beat over hot water with a rotary egg beater, until thick as custard, being careful not to let the water in the bottom part of the double boiler get too hot.

GRAPEFRUIT PIE

Line a pie dish with pastry and bake in a hot oven until a delicate brown. Place in a saucepan one cupful of water, one cupful of sugar, three tablespoonfuls of corn starch, that has been moistened with a little cold water, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt and one cupful of strained grapefruit juice. Allow this to boil for five minutes, stirring constantly. Beat slightly the yolks of three eggs, blend the egg yolks with a little of the hot mixture, then add it slowly to the mixture in the double boiler and cook for two minutes longer. Remove from the fire and set aside to cool. Pour into the pastry shell, cover with a meringue and brown in a very slow oven. Flavor the meringue with a tablespoonful of grapefruit juice.

HAM ROLL MARTHA

For the crust sift two cupfuls of sifted flour, with five level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one teaspoonful of salt, chop into this four tablespoonfuls of butter or shortening and mix to a smooth dough with a scant cupful of milk. Roll out half an inch thick, on a floured board and spread with the following mixture: Mix together one and one-half cupfuls of finely ground cold boiled ham, one-fourth of a cupful of chopped ripe olives, one chopped pimiento, one chopped green peper, one-fourth of a cupful of chopped celery, two tablespoonfuls of chopped paraley. Roll up like a jelly roll, wet the sides and ends with a little cold water and press tightly together. Place in a baking pan, brush with melted butter and bake twenty-five minutes, basting occasionally with melted butter. Remove from the oven, place on a hot platter and serve with a white sauce in which either chopped pickles or chopped capers have been mixed.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department. PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

PETER GETS THINGS STRAIGHT AT LAST

Only knowledge that's exact,
Is acceptable as fact.
—Old Mother Nature.

"How can a White Heron be a Little Blue Heron?" demanded Peter indignantly.

"He can, because he is in this case," replied Egret the Great White Heron. "These three young cousins of mine that you are looking at are white, aren't they?"

Peter agreed that they were white, very white indeed. That was just the trouble. If they were white, they couldn't be blue. He was willing to admit that they were little Herons—at least, they were smaller than Egret. If Egret had called them Little White Herons, it would have been all right; but to call them Little Blue Herons, when they really were white, was pure nonsense. At least, that is what Peter thought.

Meanwhile, Jerry Muskrat had been thinking the matter over. "Do you remember, Peter," said he, "that Winsome Bluebird once had a white son. He was white, but he was a Bluebird just the same. Perhaps it is that way in this case."

Egret shook his head. "It isn't just that way," said he. "That white Bluebird probably was white all his life. Probably his brothers and sisters were not white at all."

"That's true," spoke up Peter. "He was the only white member of the family."

"I thought as much," declared Egret. "Now, these young Herons are not always going to have white coats. In fact, if you look sharply, you can see that they are beginning to change already. By next year they will not be white at all. Now, both the father and mother of these youngsters there wore slate blue, and by the time they are 3 years old that will be the color of the coats of these youngsters. That is why this kind of Heron is called the Little Blue Heron. Of course, the children of Little Blue Herons must be Little Blue Herons, too, no matter what the color of their coats."

Peter scratched a long ear with a long hindfoot. Then he turned his head and scratched the other long ear with the other long hindfoot. "I begin to see," said he.

"I'm glad you do," said Egret.

"Little Blue Heron is just a name, the same as Peter Rabbit," said Peter.

"That's it," replied Egret. "If you should see these young Herons with their parents, you would never guess from their looks that they were closely related."

"Did the feather hunters kill the Little Blue Herons, too?" asked Jerry Muskrat.

"Yes," replied Egret. "I got so that no White Heron had much of a chance to live. As I told you once before, there was a time when many members of my family used to come up here to the North, particularly in summer. Now that we've been so pleasantly received up here, I hope we may come again and that others of the family may venture up here. There seems to be excellent feeding here. Do those two-legged creatures with horns ever come here?"

"No," said Peter. "Farmer Brown's Boy will not allow them here."

"And who," asked Egret, "is Farmer Brown's Boy?"

"The friend of all the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows, the Laughing Brook and the Singing Pool," replied Peter. "Here he comes."

Sure enough, Farmer Brown's Boy was headed across the Green Meadows straight for the Laughing Pool. Egret spread his great wings and headed for the Big Woods. The others did the same.

HOW TO GAIN WEIGHT EASILY

Youth Adds Two and a Half Pounds in Four Hours to Get Into Army Camp

Weight, 9 a.m., 99 pounds.
Weight, 1 p.m., 101.5 pounds.

These two items in an official announcement yesterday explain why LeRoy Hoffman, 18 years of age, of Los Angeles, is now in the citizens' military training camp at Del Monte.

When he first applied with 1200 other applicants he lacked a pound of the necessary 100.

An unofficial report yesterday was that he made the necessary weight by drinking two quarts of water and eating a dozen bananas and two cantaloupes.

be paid, as a trail blazer otherwise obtains but little thanks and many aches and sprains. Radio has its shortcomings—and the guaranteed wasting of flesh seems one.

The Times Forum at 1:30 p.m. features a 'local boy who gets a break'—Ray Winters, lyric baritone, and staff announcer at KHJ. Ray is no novice, having appeared over WTAR, Norfolk; KLRA, Little Rock; KTHS, Hot Springs, and KRLD, Dallas. But we're going to dial in—and radio editors seldom do.

KHJ features three programs this evening, the first at 7:30 when California Melodies, KHJ's contribution to the Columbia nation-wide broadcasting chain offers the cream of music and song together with a brief talk by Carl Laemmle, president of Universal Pictures Corporation. Tonight the country will hear a new song by Leigh Harline, one of KHJ's master musicians and composer — "'Neath California Skies." Prehearings include Paramount's "Lazy Rhapsody," "I'm a Slave to Love," "Good Intentions" and "Sing" from "Forward March." These are all high-spot songs from current talkie hits in the process of recording at M.-G.-M., Fox and other studios. At 8 o'clock tonight KFRC sends another chapter from the days of '49 dramatizing a race from San Francisco to New York more than seventy years ago when the only starter stepped on was a stirrup. At 8:30 p.m. MJB's Demi-tasse Revue with George Olsen and his orchestra will fill the Don Lee chain, playing features by popular demand. Cliff Edwards (Ukulele Ike) will give songs from his recent film roles besides some of the old favorites.

KFI features at 8:30 p.m. Tom Terriss, Vagabond Movie Director, knocking about the world with his music and patter. Both at 9 and 10 o'clock tonight the Packard Concert Orchestra bids for your dial. At 9 o'clock with Eva Olivotti and James Burroughs and at 10 with Gretchen Garrett as guest soloists. At 11 o'clock you go to San Francisco to dance with the St. Francis Hotel Orchestra.

AUTHOR TO TALK

KECA at 6:30 o'clock tonight brings Irvin S. Cobb who promises to become a modern Isaak Walton and tell what he thinks of trout fishing. The author will talk to Grantland Rice in a sports interview. At 8:30 p.m., Will Rounds String Ensemble will accompany Winnie Fields Moore, the Nomad novelist, into far countries, while at 9:30 Camel's Pleasure Hour brings Betty Kelly singing "If I'm Dreaming." The Camel Trio and the Glee Club will also participate.

KNX at 8:38 p.m. brings the second hearing of Horsefly and his wranglers, six singing and playing cowboys with songs and chatter of the range, while 9 p.m. offers the Sherman Oaks Sextette in a thirty-minute classic and semiclassic repertoire. Then Gus Arnheim and his Cocoanut Grove Orchestra bring your feet into play at 10 to 12 o'clock—then Mme. Zucca's Cafe orchestra from 12 to 1.

KFWB at 8 o'clock tonight finds Carmelita, Spanish soprano, singing with Saldina's Castilians in thirty minutes of Latin music and song, including "La Giralda" the tango "Lukoumi" and Quevedo's "Boy Bohemio." Together with KHJ, KFWB brings MJB's Demi-tasse Revue on the air at 8:30 o'clock while "Campus Memories" respond to your dial at 9:30 p.m. with triple threat harmony and the Boswell Sisters.

KTM at 8:30 p.m. discovers a play, "Little Trouper," with John B. Litel in the leading role. It is described as "an amusing light-comedy drama of back-stage life."

PING PONG TABLE ROW GOES TO CITY ATTORNEY

After a hearing on the appeal of George Leigh Rodgers that his resignation as building manager of the City Hall was obtained by the Board of Public Works by "fraud and device," the Los Angeles Civil Service Commission yesterday referred the case to City Attorney Werner for an opinion.

During the hearing it developed that one reason for the board asking Rodgers for his resignation was that he had used the services of city employees and materials in the manufacture for himself of a ping pong table.

Commissioner Elkins of the board testified regarding the ping-pong table and also said the former building manager had wasted much of his time talking on inconsequential matters in connection with his work to the point that he had become a bore. He said that when the ping-pong table was discovered it had been decided to do one of three things: To laugh it off, refer it to the grand jury or ask for his resignation.

Rodgers produced testimony to show that he had purchased all the material except some bolts and some paint for the table, and that most of the work was done on the city employees' own time.

Rodgers, who conducts classes for the University of Southern California in building management, charges his resignation was asked on the ground that the building manager job was to be done away with. When he learned otherwise he sought to withdraw his resignation, he said, but it was accepted.

NEW PUBLIC WORKS AID DISCUSSED

Chamber President Will Name Committee to Try to Stimulate Construction

Ways and means to increase prosperity by fostering the construction of public works were considered at a meeting called by John C. Austin, president of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday, in the board room of that organization.

Mr. Austin pointed out that construction is regarded as the balance wheel of prosperity and that public works can be built to the greatest advantage at times when material prices are lowest. Representatives of the building materials industry indicated there is little possibility that prices, now ranging down to 40 per cent under prices of five years ago, will show further reductions.

It was shown that taxpayers would incur additional obligations in providing for necessary public improvements if the start of such work were to be delayed until a time when costs are greater than at present. Costs of street paving, it was said, are at least one-third under the costs of several years ago and are at the lowest level in the history of the city.

Mr. Austin was empowered to appoint a committee to consider means of stimulating public and private construction.

TASTE TEST
that helped thousands find their favorite ginger ale...

There are three types of ginger ale flavor . . . Golden, Pale Dry and Sec (extra dry). To know which one exactly suits you, we urge that you make the "Taste Test" described below

THERE are three types of ginger ale flavor sold today. And Clicquot Club makes all three. All are different, all are delightful.

But one of these ginger ales is sure to suit your taste better than either of the other two. And because it is not generally known that ginger ale comes in three different flavors, we are urging people everywhere to test their tastes and find which flavor suits them best.

As a result of making this simple test, thousands of people now get greater pleasure than ever before from drinking ginger ale. They have found the flavor that suits them perfectly.

The Test—To make this test you go to your dealer and get a bottle of Clicquot Club Golden, a bottle of Clicquot Club Pale Dry and a bottle of Clicquot Sec. Sample them all, one by one. Note the mellowness that is characteristic of them all. And note the difference in their flavor.

Clicquot Club Golden has long been known as a delightful health beverage . . . Clicquot Club Pale Dry is famous for its flavor either in recipe drinks or alone . . . and Clicquot Sec for that luscious "drier" flavor. You are sure to find, in one of these ginger ales, exactly the flavor you have always been looking for.

Same Quality Ingredients—Pure table sugar, fine Jamaica ginger root, real fruit flavors and pure water from deep rock springs . . . these are the ingredients that go into all three Clicquot Club Ginger Ales. The difference in flavor comes from the difference in blend, for each of these three has its own exclusive formula.

As a further evidence of their goodness and purity, all Clicquot Club Ginger Ales are put up in clean, new bottles. That means Clicquot Club uses only bottles which have never been used before. It is a safeguard of purity.

Aged Six Months in the Making—The rare, distinctive mellowness for which Clicquot Club Ginger Ales have long been famous comes from ageing six months in the making. This process is a secret with the Clicquot Club Company—a carefully guarded secret known to the makers of no other ginger ale. That is why you can never expect to duplicate Clicquot Club flavor, never find it in any ordinary ginger ale.

Therefore we urge you to go to your dealer and make the "Taste Test" today. It will show you beyond all question which ginger ale best suits your taste.

RESENTENCING OF TRIO FOUGHT

Federal Judge Sends Three to Prison Again

Original Penalties Not in Authorized Form

Counsel for Bank-Fraud Defendants Overruled

After having once reached the gates of McNeil Island Federal prison three men, one a former Culver City banker, who were brought back from the prison to be given new sentences, stood before United States District Judge Cosgrave for a second time yesterday to hear a sentence passed upon them. All three were resentenced for misapplication of bank funds. The amount involved was $138,000.

Frank J. Pritchett, formerly cashier of the First National Bank of Culver City, was resentenced to twenty-three months in prison for each of five counts, the terms to run concurrently. He previously had been sentenced to five months in prison for each of five counts, making twenty-five months, but it was held that he should have been sentenced to at least a year and a day in order to enter a Federal prison. E. H. Gross, a jeweler, and R. R. Westfall, a broker, had each been sentenced to three months in prison on each of five counts, making fifteen months. Yesterday they were each resentenced to thirteen months in prison for each of five counts, the terms to run concurrently.

Defense counsel opposed the resentencing, asserting the court did not have jurisdiction, but they were overruled and the sentences were imposed.

Charge Against Raw Dismissed By Prosecution

Trial of Ban Tappa Raw, accused of grand theft and violations of the morals code, yesterday failed to develop when the District Attorney dismissed the case in Superior Judge McComb's court for lack of evidence.

The grand-theft charge was based on the asserted theft of $4600 from Mrs. Herbert Allerhand. The woman also filed morals charges against the defendant.

In asking for the dismissal, Charles V Kearney, deputy District Attorney, pointed out that Raw is scheduled to be deported from the United States as an undesirable alien.

TAX SLASH DESERVED, SAYS FITTS

Candidate for Governor in Radio Address Stresses Need for Economy

Californians are entitled to a reduction in State taxes, Buron Fitts, Republican candidate for Governor, declared in a radio broadcast made from Los Angeles last night over the Don Lee chain.

Speaking on the S. and W. Forum, the Republican candidate for Governor emphatically declared that taxes can be reduced in California if public officials will quit spending public moneys unwisely. He charged that State government today is not operating within its income and cannot be made to do so if expenditures for the next four years are made at the same rate as prevails at present and for the past four years.

Fitts advised his auditors he will be on the air several times between now and election day, August 26, and that his talks will cover every issue in the campaign.

Tonight between 8 and 8:10 o'clock George Breslin, attorney and Past Exalted Ruler of Elks Lodge, No. 99, will deliver a radio indorsement of Fitts. He will speak over KFWB.

The North Hollywood unit of the W.C.T.U. placed itself on record as supporting Fitts yesterday. The executive committee of the San Gabriel Taxpayers' Association has also gone on record as favoring Fitt's candidacy.

Today will be a busy day for Fitts. At 11 a.m. he will speak for the State meeting of the W.C.T.U. at Pacific Palisades. At noon he will be in Santa Monica before the Optimists' Club, and in the evening he will speak before the Business Women's Club of Santa Paula.

Fatigue Routed by Hitch-Hiker

At least one of the many thousands of hitch-hikers who have made the transcontinental trek from New York to Los Angeles has made the gruelling journey without ever becoming tired or noticing heat, cold or hunger. He is Dr. Jacob W. Rose, vegetarian advocate and president of a New York health publishing firm, who arrived here yesterday with the statement that his routine of living has banished fatigue.

Dr. Rose has adopted the hitch-hike method of travel in an effort to obtain subscribers and material for a magazine he proposes to publish in the near future. He carries with him a pack containing not only what clothing he needs for the journey, but also a stock of pamphlets of his health doctrine.

After a tour of Los Angeles, Dr. Rose will leave for points in Northern California and continue his return trip to New York.

Burglars Load Booty on Truck

Cartons of cigarettes valued at $5100 and $130 in cash were obtained by burglars who broke into the M. A. Newmark Company wholesale warehouse at 1248 Wholesale street early yesterday morning. The marauders entered the establishment through a supply chute through which they passed the stolen property to confederates who, in turn, loaded it on a truck.

Another outstanding burglary in a list of more than a score reported to police yesterday was that at the McFarland Meat Company store at 4227 Central avenue. Here burglars jimmied open an office safe with pinch bars and sledge hammers and obtained $2500 in cash.

PAY ROLL ROBBERY RELATED

Two Given Preliminary Hearing on Charge of Holding Up Money Car

Details of the robbery of $2130 from a pay roll car of the Citizens' Truck Company, 700 Turner street, at the intersection of Vignes and Banning streets on June 25, last, were related in Municipal Judge Frederickson's court yesterday where Pierre Saleno and Percy H. Eberley, both 22 years of age, of 418 East Twelfth street, are undergoing preliminary hearing on robbery charges.

George Nichols, guard, and Charles Goodin, driver of the pay roll car, said they were forced to stop at the intersection when a small sedan driven by two youths halted in front of them. One of the youths clambered into the pay roll car, they said, and forced them to follow the other machine for a few blocks, when they were halted and instructed to get out and start walking. The sedan used in the robbery, according to evidence introduced by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Coleman, figured in a crash a few minutes later on Mission Road, and Saleno was arrested in the crowd which gathered. Eberley, the prosecutor declared, fled in another car which he seized near the point of the collision.

Under cross-examination by Martin Ryan, defense attorney, none of the witnesses was able to identify Saleno and Eberly positively as the youths who engaged in the hold-up. The hearing will be resumed today.

Film Notables Attend Funeral for Mrs. Janis

In the presence of about seventy-five friends, last rites were conducted yesterday in the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, for Mrs. Josephine C. Janis, mother of Elsie Janis, actress, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Ruth Chatterton and her husband, Ralph Forbes, and many other personages of the stage and screen attended the services.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. James Lash and was marked by its simplicity. Following the services, Mrs. Janis's body was laid to rest in a temporary vault at Forest Lawn.

Mrs. Janis died Sunday at the Good Samaritan Hospital from pneumonia. She was 60 years of age and the devotion between Mrs. Janis and her daughter for many years had attracted widespread attention. Miss Janis is heartbroken over her mother's death and was reported on the verge of collapse yesterday. Mrs. Janis's husband, John E. Bierbower, died last year.

Wedding Plan Hitch Causes $110,000 Suit

After society editors in beach papers had "written up" the engagement of Miss Marie Therese Aurelie Boivin and Joseph A. Theiren, according to Miss Boivin's $110,000 heart balm petition, Theiren told the plaintiff he didn't love her, and there was a hitch in the wedding plans, and the ceremony never took place.

It was further asserted that Theiren announced he loved another. On June 25, notice was given at the County Clerk's office of an intention to wed. Plans for an elaborate church wedding had been made, and Miss Boivin had sold her interests in a girl's school. Miss Boivin's age on the application was given as 44 years, and that of Theiren as 54. Theiren lived at 601 Twenty-sixth street, Brentwood Heights, and Miss Boivin at 938 Seventh street, Santa Monica.

Two Injured in Accidents

Phillips Holmes, 25 years of age, a motion-picture actor, was painfully injured yesterday in a collision between his automobile and another car at Prospect avenue and Hillhurst Drive. He was treated at the Dickey & Cass Emergency Hospital for a severely wrenched back and numerous bruises.

The other car, according to police, was driven by E. W. Crane of 1924 Rosalea Road. Crane was not hurt. Holmes's car overturned, police said. Holmes gave his address as 1933 Orchid avenue.

Probable fatal injuries were received yesterday by Lee Helton, 50, truck driver for the Gilmore Oil Company, when a truck loaded with bricks turned over down a grade on Beverly Glen Boulevard. He was taken to the North Hollywood Emergency Hospital suffering from a fractured skull and broken arm. Police stated a front tire blew out and caused the truck to turn over. Helton lived at 6201 West Third street.

BATTLE PRACTICE FIRED

West Virginia Sixteen-Inch Gun Drill Completed Several Months Ahead of Schedule

Short-range battle practice was fired with complete success on the San Clemente drill grounds yesterday by the battleship West Virginia, her eight sixteen-inch guns each getting out its requisite seven rounds of 2000-pound projectiles without casualty. The West Virginia, flagship of the dreadnaught squadron, got the elementary practice off her gunnery slate several months in advance because of her early overhaul period, which begins at the Puget Sound navy yard on August 4.

She will depart the local base for Puget Sound on the 21st inst., rejoining the battle fleet at Port Angeles on the 25th inst. for a week's tactics before beginning the six-weeks' overhaul grind. She will be followed north on the 29th inst. by the battleships Oklahoma and Tennessee, which are conducting summer gunnery schools for fire-control officers.

Short-range battle practice will also be fired off the Coast this week by the aircraft carriers Lexington and Saratoga, which will then undergo machinery overhaul and refresher operations before going to San Francisco on August 12 for a fortnight's visit. Both carriers will return to San Pedro on August 27 with the battle fleet.

The British light cruiser Despatch, flagship of Vice-Admiral Vernon H. S. Haggard, C.B., C.M.G., commanding the British North American and West Indies Squadron, departed the base early yesterday for Monterey after a five-day visit at the port. En route to the Canadian naval base at Esquimalt, B. C., the Despatch will sail from Monterey on the 19th inst.

Daylight Time Petition Filed at Sacramento

Initiative petitions bearing 101,381 certified signatures of legal voters for placing a Statewide daylight-saving proposition upon the ballot for the general election in November were filed yesterday with Secretary of State Frank Jordan in Sacramento by the California Daylight Saving League. Of this total 81,471 are those of Los Angeles voters, it is stated by league officials, and 19,910 were certified by the Registrar of Voters in San Francisco. The aggregate number is approximately 10,000 in excess of the legal requirement for the petition. The change project will come to a vote this fall.

Under the proposed law all California clocks would be set ahead one hour on the last Sunday in April of each year and turned back on the last Sunday of September, as is the annual custom in various Eastern States and the larger centers of population and industry, including New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and their several metropolitan areas.

Girl and Man Will Be Tried as Bandit Pair

Identified by Jack Ackerman, attendant at a cat and dog hospital, as the persons who chloroformed him and then plundered the office safe of $71, Betty Silver, 24 years of age, and Jack S. Lattergan, 25, of 624 South Bixel street, were held for Superior Court trial on burglary charges following their preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Ballard yesterday. Bail was fixed at $2000 for Lattergan and $1000 for Miss Silver.

Dr. Alexander Moxley, owner of the hospital at 1400 East Washington street, said that Lattergan was a former employee and that he knew the combination of the safe which was plundered. Positive identification of the pair was made through fingerprints on the bottle of chloroform used on Ackerman. Lattergan admitted the theft after his arrest, police officers called as witnesses by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman said.

Espee to Cut Running Time of Chicago Trip

Improving its train service over the Golden State route between Los Angeles and Chicago for the second time in six weeks, the Southern Pacific Company yesterday announced plans to cut the running time of two important trains beginning the 27th inst.

The westbound schedule of the Apache from Chicago to this city is to be reduced four hours and thirty-one minutes, according to C. L. McFaul, passenger traffic manager in this district.

At the same time, McFaul announced the eastbound time of the Californian on the Chicago-Los Angeles run will be cut six hours and thirty minutes.

On the revised schedules the Apache will operate westbound through Phoenix instead of Maricopa, while the Californian will be routed both ways through the Imperial Valley.

SQUATTERS LOSE BATTLE

Interior Department Holds Quadalasca Rancho Beach Plots Not Government Lands

According to a decision just handed down by the Interior Department, squatters who have tried to seize beaches on the Quadalasca Rancho and elsewhere along the coast will not be granted title to the lands. It is denied that the plots in question are government lands, and it is further stated that even if this were true the owners of lands adjacent would have first chance of settlement and claim.

The decision of the Secretary of the Interior was received yesterday by George L. Wickham, appearing, together with other attorneys, for the Rancho Quadalasca, the Long Bay Corporation and the Broome estate. The matter was argued before the Secretary October 28, 1929. A suit, filed in Ventura county to oust certain squatters from the land in question, has been lying dormant awaiting the decision of the government. Now that it has been received, Attorney Wickham, who was former assistant commissioner in the Land Office, states that the squatters will be ejected.

The decision, in brief, holds that the meander line is not a definite boundary, but is an approximate one. Parts of the coast line which were not included in the general survey as to boundaries because they were not included in the map are not government lands, the decision says. It also says that Ysabel Yorba and those claiming lands under her have been in undisturbed possession of the lands ever since the grant was confirmed and that if the lands were not included in the patent it would be necessary to reject all applications there by other parties to allow those claiming under Mrs. Yorba to protect their rights by making entry on the land under the public land laws.

Officer's Case in New Phase

A new angle in the case of Officer A. V. Kanatcher, ordered restored to duty several weeks ago after being dismissed October 10, 1928, for nonpayment of a garage bill, was revealed yesterday when the Police Commission was informed by the Civil Service Commission that it could not approve Kanatcher's off-duty period as a leave of absence.

Kanatcher's removal had been held to be illegal and six months' pay was allowed for the period from January 1 to June 30 this year. To complete the record of his time off it has been proposed to make it a leave of absence.

Chief Steckel suggested that the record might be cleared by fining him his pay from October 10, 1928, to January 1, 1930, but the commission turned the matter over to the City Attorney for an opinion.

Match Play Starts Today in Annual Championship

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Humid, oppressive heat that squeezed both moisture and ambition from the breasts of scores of Southern California's leading amateurs failed to faze Charley Seaver's easy, powerful swing, or stout heart, as the 19-year-old Los Angeles Country Club golfer cruised to a new course record of 33-35—68 over the Wilson memorial course at Griffith Park yesterday to annex medal honors for the Los Angeles city golf championship.

CHARLES SEAVER

Ably assisted by lightning-fast greens that befuddled the keenest putting touch, the vigorous rays of the sun enabled par to successfully resist all attempts to shatter it until young Beaver came in with the evening shadows to turn the trick.

The sturdy Los Angeles golfer, raised as one of the leading prep athletes in the East during the past year as a four-letter man at the Hun Prep School of Princeton, N. J., looms as a possible successor to Fay Coleman of the California Country Club,

WALLIS LOSES BOUT LICENSE

Referee Who Booted Legion Fight Dropped

The license of Bert Wallis, San Francisco referee, was revoked yesterday by the Boxing Commission, which held a meeting to consider queer circumstances surrounding last Friday night's main event at Hollywood.

WILLIAM HANLON

Wallis awarded a verdict to Cheto Laredo over Speedy Dado in a fight that the latter won in a walk.

Wallis did not show up at the meeting to explain his queer decision, and Commissioners Charley Traung of San Francisco and William Hanlon of Sacramento wasted no time in putting him on the blacklist.

The question of Wallis's introduction was cleared up by State Inspector Frank Moran, who produced a letter from John Clute, State inspector in the San Francisco district.

It was a formal letter, but Commissioner Traung says Moran mistook it as an order to give Wallis a main event although the latter was nothing but a preliminary official in San Francisco.

James Woods was the only member of the commission not in attendance at the meeting. He is still in New York.

In the future the commission ruled, that local clubs will be permitted to appoint their own referees. The system will be on trial for a month, Traung said, and if it works out favorably will be continued.

The commission also recognized Young Corbett III, by virtue of his victories over two welterweight champions—Jackie Fields when he held the title, and Young Jack Thompson—as the leading contender for the title.

It resolved that Thompson should be required to defend his title against Corbett six months from the date he won the crown, May 9, 1930.

Alexander Suspended

DALLAS (Tex.) July 15. (AP)—Grover Cleveland Alexander, whose pitching record was unequaled in the National League over a span of nineteen years, tonight was suspended by the Dallas baseball club for breaking training.

Alexander had been shunted from the big league and recently was signed by the Dallas club at a considerable salary, as a gate attraction—and also in the hope he would do a comeback.

Waivers were asked for him and any club in the league has the privilege of claiming him within twenty-four hours upon the payment of $1500 to the Dallas club.

Alexander was absent from the park yesterday and failed to show up again today, when he was assigned to pitch.

Brooklyn Southpaw Hurls Great Game Against Hard Hitting Pirates

BROOKLYN (N. Y.) July 15. (AP)—Pitching after only two days of rest, Watson Clark, Brooklyn southpaw, hurled the nearest thing to a perfect game the National League has seen this season to give the Robins a 5-to-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Clark gave only one hit and walked out one batsman in the nine innings and neither of the men who reached first got past second.

Glenn Wright led the Robins in hitting with a single, a double and a home run in four times up. He scored three times. The Robins bunched four solid hits off Ervine Brame for three runs in the sec-

ANGELS TAMED BY ACORNS

Bill Henderson, New Oakland Pitcher, Lets Seraphs Down With Three Hits as Oaks Win, 5-1

OAKLAND, July 15. (Exclusive) — William Henderson, new Oak pitcher, who arrived last Saturday from the Jersey City ball club, hurled the Oaks to a winning start in the second-half race of the Pacific Coast League by holding the Angels, first-half champions, to three hits to score a 5-to-1 victory.

Ed Baecht, who won twelve games for the Angels in the first half, was hammered for twelve hits by the Oaks.

ED BAECHT

Outside of a wild streak in the ninth inning, Henderson had everything his own way. His wildness robbed him of a shutout. With one away he hit Ray Jacobs in the ribs, walked Haney and then fanned Arnold Statz for the second out and his eighth strike-out of the game. Then he walked Parker and Harper, both pinch hitters, to force Jacobs over the plate. He brought the game to an end by fanning Sigafoos, who had collected two of the three hits.

The Oaks cinched the ball game in the third inning after one was out. Uhalt doubled to right and scored on Martin's double to center. A single by Verges put Martin on third and Arlett scored Martin by hoisting a long sacrifice fly to Schulmerich. Devivieros doubled to right and a single down the third-base line by Henderson scored another in the third.

The Oaks picked up their last two runs in the eighth on Arlett's double to left, a single by Fenton, sacrifices by Dean and Read and Devivieros's single. Score:

CALIFORNIA DELEGATION ROUTED AT BROOKLINE

BROOKLINE (Mass.) July 15. (AP) The California tennis delegation to the thirty-eighth Longwood Bowl tournament was routed here today during the first two rounds of play on the Longwood turf courts.

ELLSWORTH VINES

Eight of the ten in the "native son" group were eliminated and another far - westerner, Worth Oswald of Spokane, Wash., also was overwhelmed.

The seeded list also was seriously dented, three of the select eight going down to crushing defeat. Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, recent winner of the California singles title, who was seeded sixth, met defeat in the second-round match with Richard Murphy, the young Harvard freshman from Utica, N. Y., by scores of 6-4, 1-6, 7-3.

The two below Vines on the list also were ousted in the opening round. Barry Wood, Harvard's great all-around athlete, drew first blood from the seeded players by trouncing Donald Cram of Nashville, Tenn., in straight sets, 6-3, 7-5.

He also disposed of H. S. Moore, New York, 6-0, 6-2.

Teddy Berwell of Charlotte, N. C., outplayed Phil Neer of San Francisco, seeded seventh, to win his first match by 5-7, 6-1, 6-1, and then gained the third bracket by upsetting H. L. Johnson of Boston, 6-4, 8-6.

VITTMEN POUND PORTLAND HURLERS FOR EASY WIN

Walters, Cascarella Both Wild and Ineffective; Turner is Chased But Johns Checks Beavers

BY BOB RAY

Still on the winning rampage they started four weeks ago, Grand Vizier Vitt's Hollywood Stars began the second half of the Coast League race more or less auspiciously yesterday by thumping the Lame Ducks from Portland, 13 to 7, at Wrigley Field.

The Lame Ducks made the Sheiks' task a lot easier than it figured to be by playing ragged ball while their two twirlers, Junk Walters and Joe Cascarella, were ineffective and unable to locate the plate in the critical moments. In fact, Junk and Joe were touched for eleven hits and yielded a dozen walks, which conclusively puts their performance out of the category of good pitching.

OTIS BRANNON

On the other hand, Jim Turner, starting Hollywood hurler, wasn't any too hot himself being chased in the third inning, but Augustus Johns, the Sheiks' Swedish southpaw, arrived on the scene in the nick of time, just like the troopers used to show up when the Indians were about to wipe out the valiant pioneers, and the day was saved, as far as the Stars were concerned. The cash customers, however, weren't saved one bit for it wasn't the kind of a ball game that you'd take home and introduce to your mother.

The Ducks outhit the Sheiks by a 12-to-11 margin but they didn't get as much assistance from the Hollywood hurlers as their own twirlers helped the Stars.

PAIR OF HOME RUNS

The contest was punctuated by two home runs, Otie Brannan driving one clear over the right-field wall with one on in the fourth and Ossie Orwoll lifting one over the temporary fence in left field in the eighth.

Skipper Vitt's Sheiks took considerable pleasure out of the struggle because it enabled them to humiliate Walters, who gave them two games of embarrassment on the final day of last year's second half. Walters, it will be remembered, pitched and

BATTALINO KNOCKS OUT FERNANDEZ

Featherweight Champion Stops Filipino in Fifth Round of Fight

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

EAST HARTFORD (Ct.) July 15. (AP)—Bat Battalino, a home-town boy, who made good right here, successfully defended his featherweight championship before the home folks tonight and knocked out Ignacio Fernandez in five rounds of indecorous action that stirred a multitude of emotions in the breasts of the scant observers.

IGNACIO FERNANDEZ

The little brown man from the Philippines, never counted out before in a career that has taken in bitter battles with the roughest and toughest punchers in the featherweight and lightweight divisions, put up an exhibition that had even Battalino's rooters laughing in derision while most of the crowd hooted "fake" and playfully demanded the local pride signal them before the finishing punch.

It was Battalino's first title defense since winning the 126-pound crown from Andre Routis in this same arena last September.

As early as the first round it became obvious to those down front that Fernandez, one of the stiffest punchers in his division and hither-

The homer, "Gabby's" twentieth of the current season, came in the sixth with Grimm on base and was made off Frankhouse.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By Paul Lowry

JUST A WARM DAY

THE Boxing Commission met yesterday, said it was a warm day, and then proceeded to question principals in the decision fiasco at Hollywood last week-end.

But it seems that the principal offender, Mr. Bert Wallis, who rendered such a woozy verdict that the odor still lingers, decided not to be among those present.

In such a situation it seems that the Boxing Commission might have done something about Mr. Wallis's runout on the boys, but it merely raised its collective eyebrows and asked what could be done about it.

It did rescind Mr. Wallis's license as a referee, but the answers everybody would like to know are still locked in the depths of Mr. Wallis's heart.

The commission reduced the fever of the patient by separating Mr. Wallis from further official connection with the fight game, but it did not get to first base in diagnosing the symptoms that brought on the fever.

It was just a warm day, and nobody seemed able to shed any light on a decision the sure-thing boys seemed to know all about in advance, a situation that the State Boxing Commission representative did not remedy by switching referees at the last minute.

HAIL TO CORBETT

YOUNG CORBETT III of San Francisco defeated Jackie Fields when he was welter king and did the same thing to Jack Thompson after the latter acquired the title from Fields.

The Boxing Commission of California therefore feels that Corbett is entitled to recognition, and this was given the southpaw demon of the north yesterday.

It is fitting because Corbett has done all that he could do but lick the same guys in a championship match, and the main reason for this deficiency is that he has never been given a chance.

The commission's resolution is to the point:

"Therefore, be it resolved that the State Athletic Commission of California feels that Young Corbett III is the leading contender by his past performances and, therefore, is entitled to a title bout with Young Jack Thompson, the present welterweight champion, and to that end

"Be it further resolved that Thompson should be required to defend his title against Young Corbett III within six months from May 9, 1930, the date he became champion.

"Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to all boxing commissions in the United States and to the National Boxing Association asking their co-operation to this end.

"STATE ATHLETIC COMMISSION OF CALIFORNIA."

GUNNING FOR TROY

EVEN the warm weather won't down reports of the coming football season.

Nor the 10 that Bunker Bill Spaulding, U.C.L.A. gridiron coach, took in negotiating a particularly offensive hole on the Griffith Park course yesterday.

The latest news concerns the diligence displayed by old Pop Warner at Stanford this spring.

It is said that in his skull talks old Pop dwelt on nothing but victory over University of Southern California next fall.

I am told on confidential authority that old Pop will consider his heart broken if he does not lick the sons of Troy this year.

His boys haven't won a game from S.C. since 1926, and Pop wants something done about it. The '27 game was a 13-13 tie, S.C. won 10 to 0 in 1928 and 7 to 0 last fall.

SEEDED STARS ADVANCE IN CLAY COURT TOURNEY

BY J. H. ANDERSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY, July 15. (AP)—Sixteen tennis players from all sections of the nation, except the West—the same sixteen seeded Sunday as best in the 1930 national clay courts tournament—tonight had advanced to the third round.

Despite the array of talent gathered from coast to coast, and from Texas to Chicago, no unknown has arisen to confound a ranking star and inject the dramatic into a tournament, which thus far has progressed prosaically.

But one match today thrilled the gallery, the only match in which a seeded star seemed on the verge of abrupt elimination, but one in which that seeded racket wielder came back with a magnificent display of tennis strategy.

Bryan Grant, Jr., midget Atlanta (Ga.) entry, fresh from conquests in the south and seeded No. 13, met lanky Stanley Almquist, Berkeley (Cal.) player, on his way home from the intercollegiates.

The Californian swept through the first set at love. Grant took the second set at love and completed the contest, 6-1, stroking softly to the eager Pacific Coast boy, who almost invariably slammed the ball ouside.

Frederic Mercur and J. Gilbert Hall, defending their doubles title, won last year at Indianapolis, easily disposed of Carl Black and L. K. Scott, Louisville, Ky., 6-0, 6-1, in a first-round match.

The only doubles match that might be classed as an upset was the defeat of Julius Seligson and A. Frankenstein by Halpine and Davis of Omaha, 9-7, 6-3.

Seligson is a high ranking singles player from New York and with Frankenstein of Chicago, was given an edge over the Nebraska pair. Other seeded teams advanced.

Tomorrow Grant meets the defending champion, Emmett Pare of Dayton, O., who today advanced easily by defeating Karl Kamrath, Dallas, 6-2, 6-2.

Julius Seligson, New York City, who has advanced two rounds without playing because of defaults, is paired tomorrow with Harris Coggeshall, Des Moines, who today eliminated "Doc" Barr, Dallas, 6-3, 6-2.

The foreign threat remained in the tournament when Sadazuka Onda, former Japanese Davis Cup player, defeated A. Frankenstein, Chicago, 6-1, 6-1.

Other singles results:

W. F. Coen, Kansas City, defeated Herbert Meile, Omaha, 6-0, 6-0.
George J. Jennings, Chicago, defeated Fred Royer, Chicago, 6-4, 6-3.
J. Gilbert Hall, Orange, N. J., defeated Sterling Cutlip, Kansas City, 6-3, 6-1.
Gustave Boehmer, St. Louis, defeated Roderick Bosworth, Denver, 1-6, 6-2, 6-3.
Herbert L. Bowman, New York City, defeated E. N. Serrano, St. Louis, 6-3, 6-1.
William Suzins, Memphis, defeated P. (Lefty) Bryan, Signal Mountain, Tenn., 3-6, 6-1, 6-4.
Frank A. Shields, New York City, defeated William Martin, Jr., St. Louis, 6-0, 6-3.
Wray Brown, St. Louis, defeated William Jacobs, Baltimore, 6-0, 6-0.
Bruce Barnes, Austin, Tex., defeated J. Wendlendorf, Kansas City, 6-0, 6-1.
James Quick, Dallas, defeated W. R. Bascom, St. Louis, 6-0, 6-0.
Frederic Mercur, Harrisburg, Pa., defeated Lauren Barnes, Tulsa, 6-0, 6-3.

Beginning with the third round tomorrow all matches will be three out of five sets.

SHARK CAUGHT OFF OCEAN PARK BARGE

The largest thrasher shark to be brought into the Lick Pier by visitors to the Star of Scotland was taken yesterday by L. V. Vincent of Alhambra, who hooked the monster while fishing for yellowtail. These particular species of the shark family are only caught at this time of the year, when they follow the other game fish from the Gulf of California and are savage fighters when hooked up.

Barracuda, bass and halibut with a flurry of mackerel are the principal catches reported.

ST. LOUIS, July 15. (AP)—Holding the Browns hitless until one was out in the ninth, the Philadelphia Athletics won their fourth straight victory from St. Louis today, 11 to 6.

The Browns made three runs in the third off four straight bases on balls by Walberg, another by Rommel, who succeeded him, and a force out which permitted a score. Four hits after one was out in the ninth gave St. Louis three more counters.

The champions by the victory held their ground in the fight to hold first place in the American League against Washington. Mickey Cochrane hit a home run. Score:

YANKEES BEST

CHICAGO, July 15. (AP)—The New York Yankees won the series final from the White Sox, 9 to 5, today by unleashing their heaviest hitting attack of the current trip at the expense of Pat Caraway and Ed Walsh. The Yanks made eighteen hits.

Herb Pennock was touched for a dozen blows but sent his floaters past the Sox bats in times of danger. He fanned six while nine Yankees were struck out by the two Chicago pitchers.

Rosy Ryan made his debut as a batter for Chicago and hit a home run and a single in four times at bat. He fielded well. Sam Byrd hit a homer for New York. Score:

DUCKS SUNK BY VITTMEN

Walters, Cascarella Both Ineffective and Wild as Stars Down Portland, 13-7

beat the Stars a double-header last fall and the only reason Hollywood won the second half was because the Seattle Indians twice beat the Missions. Walters still thinks he has the sign on the Sheiks, but maybe he's changed his opinion by now.

Portland scored a run in the first when Summa walked, Brannan booted Robertson's grounder and Ken Williams singled, scoring Brannan. Barbee threw out Robertson trying to take third on the hit and Rhiel fanned for the third out.

The Stars got five runs in their half on three walks, Robertson's error and singles by Bassler, Gazella and Turner. Walters stayed on the mound through the bombardment.

Turner was chased in the third when two walks, Robertson's double and Rhiel's single gave the Ducks two runs and left two men on the paths with none away. Johns retired Orwoll, Hillis and Woodall to leave the two runners stranded on the bases.

STARS TALLY TWICE

Hill was hit by a pitched ball in the fourth and Brannan later hit one over the right-field wall to make the score 7 to 3.

Singles by Williams, Rhiel and Orwoll gave the Ducks another run in the fifth, Barbee's catch of Hillis's fly and perfect throw to double Rhiel at the plate stopping the rally.

Walters retired in the fifth after singles by Bassler, Gazella and Johns, a walk and an infield out had produced two more markers.

Cascarella was batted for four more Sheik scores in the sixth, three walks, singles by Heath and Johns, Hill's double and Orwoll's error combining to bring about the quartet of runs.

Johns held the Ducks in check until the eighth and ninth. In the eighth Orwoll got his freak homer, while three hits after two were out produced the final two Portland runs in the ninth. Score:

Southern California Olympians Stage Exhibition Meet

SEAVER CAPTURES MEDAL

who will be unable to defend the title he won in 1928 and 1929.

Johnny Joseph Mescall, Fox Hills Country Club champion, was second low for the day, equaling par with a card of 37-34—71. W. L. (Bill) Jelliffe of Girard turned in a card of 72, and Jack Gaines of Girard, 1927 city champion, shot a 73 to tie Phil Carter of Rancho.

ENTRY SETS RECORD

The two days of qualifying play, which closed yesterday, attracted a record flight of 340. Match play starts this morning with a championship flight of thirty-two and nine flights of sixteen. All flights play at scratch. Championship flight finals will be thirty-six holes on Sunday, all other flights playing their final matches on Saturday.

In setting the new record Seaver became the first amateur or professional to break 70 over the Wilson course. The Griffith Park lay-out is ideally suited to Charley's tremendously long game, with nine of the eighteen holes under 400 yards in length. As Seaver's drives are frequently close to the 300-yard mark, he has many opportunities for birdies.

SEAVER BAGS EAGLE

Seaver had four birdies yesterday and an eagle 2 on the 295-yard eighth hole. He was three under perfect figures going out and even with par coming in.

The card:

Par (out)	543	444	444	—36
Seaver	533	454	423	—33
Par (in)	344	453	444	—35—71
Seaver	334	363	544	—35—68

Mescall's 71 broke his "jinx" over the Wilson course. Johnny claims he has never been able to play well over the tricky Griffith Park links and cited scores of 82 and 83 in practice rounds as his usual performance. Johnny was hitting the ball well yesterday, however, having four birdies on his card, among them two 2's on the short holes coming in.

Jelliffe shot his usually consistent game to get his 72, while Gaines is playing better golf than his 73 would indicate. Jack looks like one of the best bets in the tournament. He has just returned from the East, where he assisted in winning the national Elks' championship for Glendale and is feeling fit. Carter had one of the best rounds of the day after being three over par on the first three holes. He started out with a 7.

The cards:

Mescall (out)	453	345	445	—37
Jelliffe	543	345	453	—36
Carter	744	444	434	—38
Gaines	533	435	443	—36
Mescall (in)	344	552	444	—34—71
Jelliffe	445	452	444	—36—72
Carter	344	483	444	—35—73
Gaines	434	463	544	—37—73

After looking minutely, but vainly, through the pairings for today's matches in hopes of discovering young Seaver's first-round opponent, we found that Charley's name was not even mentioned. This looks suspiciously like another of the only too numerous "blank moments" enjoyed by Tournament Director A. H. Painter, sometimes known as "Bad News," who failed to mention whether or not Seaver intends to play through. This not only leaves the writer up in the air, but also those most interested in the tournament.

Play starts this morning at 8 o'clock, and the championship flight tees off between 1:15 and 2:15 in the afternoon.

Enchantress Expected at Honolulu

HONOLULU, July 15. (AP)—The Enchantress, Skipper Morgan Adams, low handicap boat in the San Pedro-to-Honolulu yacht race which started last July 4 was expected to cross the finish line off Diamond Head tomorrow afternoon. Reports yesterday afternoon placed the yacht 24 north and 150 west, about 480 miles from Honolulu. The position of the yawl, Contender, Skipper Walter Horne, was given at 540 miles from Honolulu. No reports had been received from the other two racers, the Talayha and the Mollilou.

vantage of the many programs that have been arranged by William Young, Jr., general traffic and passenger agent of the Panama Mail Steamship Company.

In the rooms the bags are all pasted with steamer stickers and every time a visit is made to the steamship offices a supply of new folders must be brought to the gang and another half hour spent reviewing the marvelous sights that will greet the party as it sails on the steamer Venezuela Saturday noon for a tour of seven Latin and South American countries with all expenses paid by the Los Angeles Times.

While the boys are having a great time taking in the sights of Broadway, Grant's Tomb and the many other unusual places in New York, they got a peep early this morning into another side of this great metropolis when they were driven through the East Side Ghetto district.

Louis Haley summed up the feeling of the boys when he watched a youngster trying to turn a handspring in a space about a foot and a half square with push carts at his heels, rumbling trucks grazing him and crying children pressing about. "We boys of Southern California are mighty fortunate," said Haley. "I just saw a little lad shake off a drenching of swill water that was tossed out of a window. He just laughed and went on playing. Those youngsters don't know what a playground is and six months out of the year they sit cramped in tiny, stuffy tenements. I never realized just what it meant to a boy to be raised in Southern California until I looked into the Ghetto today."

The party decided tonight that the box in which the five silver cups are packed is too heavy to lug around Central America, so the trophies will be sent back to The Times office, where they can be seen until the Southern California champions return home in August.

MARILYN MILLER

From her grandmother's cellar . . . to Ziegfeld's Roof . . . in just the twinkle of a toe. She really was the "Sally"... of the alley called Broadway.

How explain the miracle of Marilyn's success? . . . Nature simply blessed her with a charm all her own.

And that's the only answer to another young star's rise. OLD GOLD made its bow just 4 years ago. In a month it was popular. In a year a headliner. Today it's America's fastest growing cigarette.

Nature again! Sun-drenched heart-leaves from better tobaccos. A new taste-thrill for jaded palates. A new throat-ease and freedom from coughs.

You can "manufacture" an ordinary cigarette . . . or an ordinary actress. But only Nature produces the stars.

GRANDMOTHER'S OLD FURNACEMAN WAS FIRST TO EDUCATE MARILYN MILLER'S FEET. AT THOSE SAME FEET, A FEW YEARS LATER, OLD NEW YORK LAID ITS HEART.

ON MAY 11, 1926, AT NEWPORT, R.I., OLD GOLD BROKE INTO SOCIETY, AND IN LESS THAN A MONTH WAS ONE OF THE FOUR MOST POPULAR BRANDS.

Hector Dyer, Crack Stanford Sprinter, to Run for Mercuries in National Me

CARD SPRINTER TO WEAR BLUE

Will Team With Wykoff in Pittsburgh Events

National Collegiate King to Work Out Today

May Join Simpson, Tolan in International Race

Hector Dyer, intercollegiate 220-yard dash champion, will run in the 1930 national A.A.U. track and field championships at Pittsburgh next month as a member of the Los Angeles Athletic Club team. Dyer came to this conclusion last night after discussing the matter with his father, B. T. Dyer, L.A.A.C. member, and Leslie A. Henry and Boyd Comstock, Mercury club officials.

"HEC" DYER.

Dyer, who starred in track at Stanford University last season, will work out today on Bovard field with the L.A.A.C. track men who are preparing for the Pittsburgh championships, which have been scheduled for August 22, 23 and 25.

Dyer will run in only the 220-yard dash in the national meet, leaving the 100-yard event up to Frank Wykoff, who this time will be on the same team with Dyer. It will be remembered that these two sterling sprinters had many a bitter duel last season. Dyer holds the only 1930 victory over Wykoff, having defeated him in the 100-yard dash in the U.S.C.-Stanford dual meet in 9 2-5s.

The Stanford sprinter reached his own decision in regard to running this summer. His father has been a member of the L.A.A.C. for many years and Hec started his athletic career as a junior member of the club before entering Stanford. He has been fencing this summer at the club with his old instructor, Harry Uyttenbove.

The addition of Dyer will give the L.A.A.C. a fast sprint relay team at Pittsburgh for the 440 and 880-yard events. Vic Williams, who will be entered in the 440-yard dash, will be the third runner in addition to Dyer and Wykoff, while the fourth will probably be Bob Maxwell, veteran hurdler, who is now going through a period of rejuvenation.

Dyer's decision to run this summer will also give the United States a strong 400-meter relay team in Dyer, Wykoff, Tolan and Simpson, to throw against the British empire sprinters in the international meet at Chicago August 27.

GALLANT FOX MAY BE SCRATCHED

CHICAGO, July 15. (AP)—Gallant Fox engaged in such a discouraging workout today that he may be withdrawn from the $25,000 Arlington Gold Cup race Saturday.

The super horse of American turf acted stubborn an refused to take his workout seriously, his trainer said, and it was feared he was drawn too fine and might make a miserable showing Saturday.

Another workout will be held tomorrow, and if the fleet three-year-old champion doesn't show a change of heart, he will be withdrawn from the big stake race, his trainer said after a conference with his owner.

SCHULMERICH WINS HONORS

Angel Outfielder Tops Loop Slugging Race

First-Half Honors Go to ex-Grid Player

Hank Severeid of Hollywood in Second Place

Wes Schulmerich, the husky Angel outfielder, who had a hard time at the beginning of the season convincing Manager Jack Lelivelt that his proper place was in the outer gardens and not on the left end of the bench, annexed the Pacific Coast League first half batting championship, according to more or less official figures announced yesterday by Leo Moriarty, demon statistician.

Big Wes, who used to cavort on the gridiron for Oregon State, is the only slugger in the league hitting over .400. He has the grand average of .406, while Hank Severeid, veteran Hollywood catcher, is in second place with .398.

Earl Sheely, San Francisco first sacker, is close behind Severeid with .397. In fourth position is Jake Bassler, the other Hollywood catcher. Fuzzy Hufft of the Missions is fifth, while Harry Green of the Stars is sixth.

Merle Hoag of the Sacramento Senators and Jesse Hill of the Stars are tied for seventh, both having the same percentage of .359.

Home run honors go to Johnny Vergez of Oakland, who had a tough time nosing out Dave Barbee of Hollywood and Earl Sheely of the Seals. Vergez has a total of twenty-two, while Barbee has twenty-one and Sheely twenty.

Fred Haney is way out in front in the stolen base procession, having a total of twenty-eight. His closest competitor is Fritz Knothe of Seattle. Knothe has nineteen.

The Seals led in team hitting, having a grand average of .318. The Missions were next, with the Stars and Angels close behind.

BATTALINO IN KNOCKOUT WIN

to impregnable to the stiffest of punching, was not long for the challenging role.

He punched with extreme care and was unable to hit Battalino anywhere but the elbows and shoulders. The champion boxed carefully through the opening session and most of the work was slow and at close quarters.

The struggle went into its climax with an amazing suddenness in the second round when Fernandez, slugged on the elbow with ruinous effect by the opening punch, went to the canvas six times before the closing bell rang. He was down for counts of five, six, three, three, one and four and before the gong called a temporary halt.

The Filipino gave an amazing exhibition each time he tumbled to the floor, rolling and struggling around the ring, flexing his body and bridging on his toes and hands, but always rising.

WELTERS CLASH AT ONTARIO

Tommy Elks, the tough troubadour from Old Arizona, will meet Al Herrera, the Ontario Walloper, in the feature event of eight rounds at Ontario tonight. The bout should prove to be one of the most exciting action bouts held at Ontario in recent weeks. Herrera never fails to put up a great fight at the local arena.

San Francisco finished fourth in the Coast League standing for the first half season, although leading the circuit in club batting, in runs scored, in safe hits and in home runs. The Seals presented a rather weak defense, with only a fair pitching staff.

HESS FAVORED OVER SAILOR

Ritchie King Underdog in Hollywood Battle

Goldie Hess should beat Richie King, the blond sailor, at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night. Hess, having just beaten Johnny Lamar, figures to beat a rugged fighter like King because Hess is a faster thinker and throws faster and more accurate punches.

Commissioners Hanlon and Traung have granted permission for Tom Gallery to pick the referees who will work at the stadium for the Hess-King shot and every fight for a month. This will be more of an experiment, and if it works out all right may be continued. Commissioner James Woods is in New York and what his attitude is on this situation will not be know until he returns.

Tommy McGough may have a hard time winning from Claude Varner in the semi-wind-up, but Tommy should rule a favorite. He has been having more than ordinary success at the smaller clubs. McGough is liable to get a main event should he beat Varner.

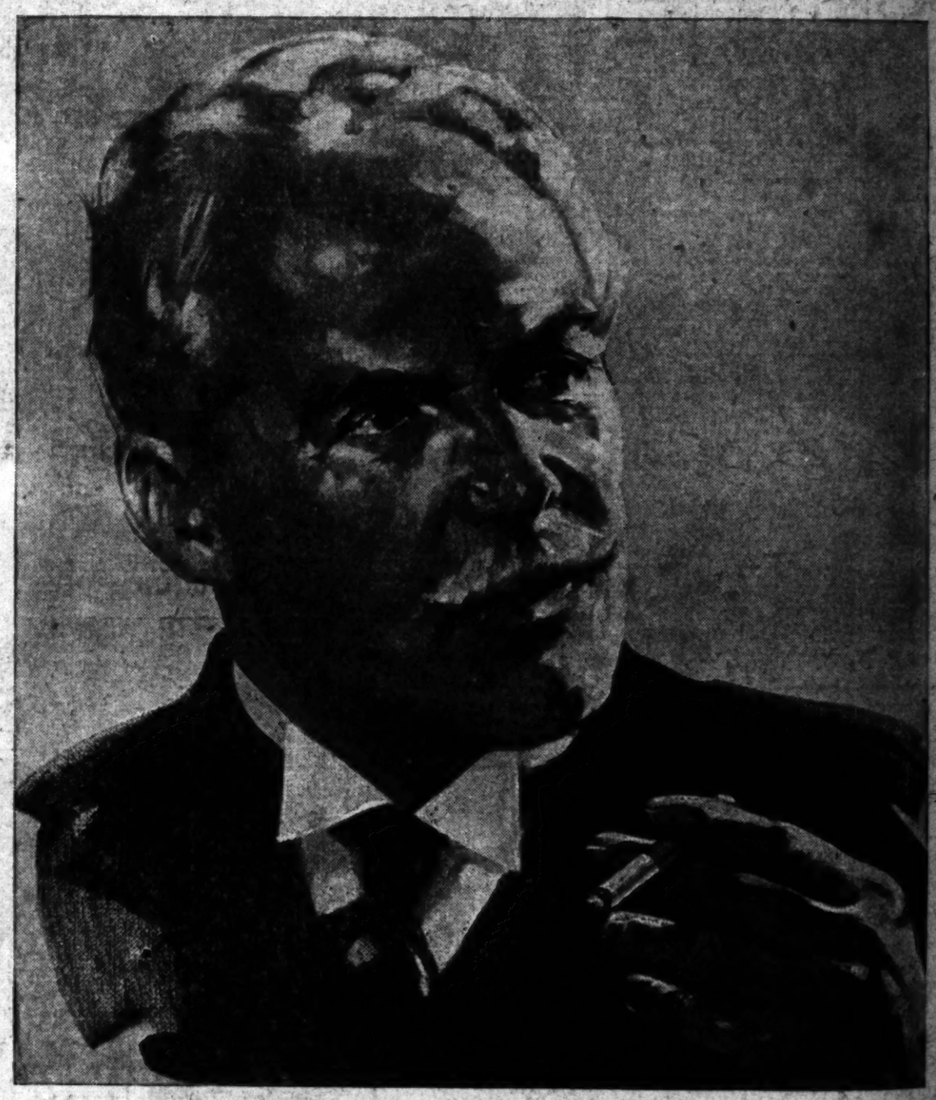
In a scientist it's Accuracy



in a cigarette it's Taste

EVERYTHING THAT SCIENCE and the most modern of research facilities can provide, contributes to and safeguards the uniform good taste and purity of Chesterfield cigarettes.

TO THIS END we maintain a thoroughly modern industrial laboratory with a staff of chemical experts, intent first and last, upon wholesome goodness.

YOU HAVE ONLY TO SMOKE a Chesterfield to recognize at once that here is a cigarette—fine, pure, mild and genuinely good—with every quality a cigarette must have to satisfy . . . "TASTE above everything".

We quote it as our household that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price.

Several days out on the trail, as Tarzan swung swiftly and quietly through the trees, he saw below him some score of natives straggling along through the jungle. And, swinging into the lower branches of the trees, Tarzan disappeared from the sight of the unhappy blacks in the direction of the Wiramwazi.

FIGURES ON DAM TO BE CHECKED

Appointment of Committee Ratified by Grand Jury

Engineers Will be Named to Investigate Charges

Politics in San Gabriel Quiz Denied by Foreman

Continuing its inquiry into charges that Los Angeles county paid for 273,000 yards of earth which was never excavated for the proposed San Gabriel dam, the grand jury yesterday ratified the appointment of a special committee of grand jury members to direct the investigation.

One of the first duties of the committee will be to select a group of competent engineers to survey the abandoned dam site to determine the truth or falsity of the charge. After the engineers have been selected tentatively, their names will be submitted to the grand jury as a whole for approval.

The committee is headed by Thomas O'Neill and other members are A. W. Townsend, C. S. Thompson, H. J. Carr and Frederic I. Morris, grand jury foreman.

In announcing appointment of the committee Foreman Morris made it plain that the grand jury is not entering into politics in its inquiry. He stated that the investigation will be conducted on the assumption that no crime has been committed. The engineers simply will be asked to check the figures and estimates of county engineers to determine whether or not they are accurate. If it is found that a crime has been committed, immediate action will be taken, Morris said.

Following a brief session today concerning an asserted bucket-shop fraud, the grand jury is expected to adjourn for its summer vacation until September 4, next. Special sessions may be held in the interim, however, according to the foreman.

Death Valley Test May Expose Venetian Glass Mystery

Science Checks Sun's Effect on Glass

THE secret of Venetian glass is being sought by Prof. A. L. Tompkins, chemical engineer, in the blazing rays of Death Valley sun. Glass exposed to the ultra-violet of this district turns deep purple or deep amber. A collection of glassware, each carefully labeled as to its composition, is now being given a sun bath at Stove Pipe Wells and the results are being observed carefully.

PILOT WITH BYRD PARTY CITY GUEST

Lieut. Dean Smith, Hero of Antarctic Expedition, on Way to See Mother

Lieut. Dean Cull Smith, one of the airplane pilots on Rear-Admiral Byrd's Antarctic expedition, which recently returned, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday on a Western Air Express plane en route to Portland to see his mother for the first time in more than two years. Lieut. Smith has been acclaimed by Admiral Byrd as "the greatest all-around pilot in the world."

Lieut. Smith has been presented with the Distinguished Flying Cross by Secretary of War Hurley for his services on the expedition.

He was the first air-mail pilot to make the east-west run from New York to Reno, when the western air-mail service was inaugurated in 1920. He later piloted mail planes on the Pacific Coast until selected by Admiral Byrd to accompany him to the South Pole. He asserts that Admiral Byrd is planning another expedition into unexplored regions.

Lieut. Smith was met at the airport by Robert Breyer, who is a personal friend of Admiral Byrd and who received a wire from the explorer in New York to meet Smith.

Lieut. Smith will remain in Los Angeles several days before going to Portland. After a week with his mother he will return to negotiate for a plane with which to enter the race from Los Angeles to Chicago in connection with the National Air Races the week of August 3.

Picture Prize for Finder of Artist's Wife

Unable to give a financial reward for the one who restores his wife to him, Alver Regli, Los Angeles artist, has offered a painting, either portrait or landscape, to the one who supplies information which will help him locate his Hindu mate, missing since June 20.

The offer and request for aid were filed at the Sheriff's office. Regli believes that possibly she may be in San Francisco. The husband declares that she is fond of beautiful silk things and that she may be working in some establishment of this nature in the Bay City. No probable reason for her disappearance was given the Sheriff's office.

Drink Servers to Face Court

Complaints against twenty-two employees in soft-drink places in Los Angeles were obtained in the City Prosecutor's office yesterday by the Health Department, which charges that the employees violated sanitation laws by failing to sterilize glasses, but simply made a motion under the counter or rinsed them with cold water in order to attend more quickly to the wants of customers.

The defendants are to appear this morning in Municipal Judge Northrup's court and health inspectors will testify against them.

TOO MUCH REMEDY MAY PROVE FATAL

Miss Blanche Berry, 31 years of age, 3118 Maple avenue, a maid, was reported near death last night in General Hospital after drinking an entire bottle of medicine which her physician had prescribed to be taken in doses at hourly intervals. Police Surgeon Kirkpatrick said the woman's illness for which the medicine had been prescribed was a result of drinking wine tonic.

Judge Decides Oil Man Must Pay Alimony

Superior Judge Guerin yesterday ruled that Luther T. Mayo, wealthy oil man and contractor, must continue paying $400 a month to his wife, Marguerite Maloney Mayo, for at least two months more, pending trial of their contested suit for divorce. The alimony provision for the support of the wife and three children was made several weeks ago. Mayo sought to have the provision declared void because Mrs. Mayo failed to follow the court's suggestion that she permit the sale of a $60,000 home she occupies at 330 South Irving Boulevard, and to live in more modest quarters.

The judge continued the case until September 15. Trial of the divorce action has not been set.

Mahl of Berkeley and Mrs. Mahl and Dr. Pelham Edtar of the University of Toronto.

REPORTED CLOSING OF RESTAURANT NOT TRUE

Printed reports to the effect that the Victor Hugo restaurant had closed its doors were denied yesterday by Hugo Aleidis, owner and manager.

"An action is pending in the Supreme Court dissolving the corporation of the Victor Hugo, Inc., and undoubtedly the story originated from this fact," said Mr. Aleidis. "Many friends have made inquiry concerning our status and we therefore desire to let the public know that the Victor Hugo is still operating under the same management which has conducted the restaurant since its opening many years ago."

FUNERAL FOR HAINES WILL BE AT CHURCH

Funeral rites will be conducted at 4 p.m. today in the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, for Harry T. Haines, retired railroad man, who was in charge of the Transportation Building and exhibits at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904.

Mr. Haines came to Los Angeles in 1905 from Springfield, Mo. He died Sunday at his home, 5163 Ellenwood Drive, at the age of 76 years. Besides his widow he leaves a son, M. G. Haines of San Francisco, and two daughters, Mrs. F. F. Stauffer and Mrs. Roy G. Stuart, both of Los Angeles.

JUNIOR CHAMBER NEW MEMBERS WILL MEET

Seventy-five new members of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce will assemble tonight at the Beverly Hills Club. A dinner and meeting will be held under the chairmanship of Director Robert White. These new member meetings are held throughout the year as part of the membership policy. Figures released through Secretary-Manager Rawson show a total membership of 1082. The figures indicate that Los Angeles surpasses any other junior chamber in the United States in numbers.

The speakers will be Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, Ed W. Hopkins, candidate for re-election as County Assessor; J. Walter Hanby, candidate for re-election as Superior Judge; Hugh L. Dickson, running for the Superior bench, and Senator J. W. McKinley, candidate for State Senator.

Woman Values Canary's Life Above Own

The despondent determination of Mrs. Marie Green, 38-year-old housewife, to end her life yesterday did not prevent her from taking unusual precautions to save the life of her pet canary, for, according to a police report of Mrs. Green's suicide attempt, she first placed the canary's cage in an adjoining room, carefully sealed the cracks of the door and then inserted an open gas tube in her mouth.

She was found lying on the floor of her bedroom in her home at 700 West Seventy-third street late yesterday by her husband when he returned from work. Officers Hopkins and Anderson of the Seventy-seventh-street police station, who were summoned by the husband, removed the woman to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where police surgeons declared her condition is serious.

Although the husband admitted he and his wife had quarreled two days ago, a note written by Mrs. Green asserted that he was not to blame.

Airport Given Police Guards

On motion of Commissioner Walkup the Police Commission yesterday voted to provide extra police protection at the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport from the 27th to the 29th inst., during the arrival of participants in the all-American air derby, which has selected the valley airport as one of its control stops during the flight around the United States.

The action was taken at the request of the directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and Waldo D. Waterman, general manager of the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport, Ltd., who stated that a crowd of between 20,000 and 30,000 will be at the field, and police regulation will be necessary to avert traffic jams and accidents.

Burkhart Trial Resumes Today

Trial of William Burkhart, charged with murdering his wife on the night of March 24, last, will be resumed in Superior Judge McComb's court today. The case was delayed yesterday by other routine matters.

When court opens, evidence is expected to be introduced by Defense Attorneys C. J. Orbison and Ralph Paonessa to show that Burkhart is not the slayer of his wife.

Investigators assert that the crime was discovered when Burkhart asked neighbors to aid him in placing his wife's body in his automobile, stating that she had become unconscious after drinking wine tonic. It was discovered that the woman was dead, however, and police were called.

MAYNE JOINS STAFF OF BRISACHER AGENCY

Charles H. Mayne, well known in food merchandising and advertising circles, has been appointed head of the food merchandising department of Emil Brisocher and staff, advertising engineers.

Mr. Mayne has been active in the Advertising Club of Los Angeles, having directed the club's speakers' bureau for a year, being a past editor of "The Blue Pencil," the weekly publication of the club, and serving on a number of committees.

MIDNIGHT MISSION SERVES GIGANTIC PIE

A pie five feet in diameter and a foot in thickness, was served to more than 400 persons at the Midnight Mission at 9:30 o'clock last night. This super-pie was the gift of Swift & Co. Following a sermon by Dr. E. C. Finkle of Omaha the huge apple tart was carried in and a line of hungry men formed on both sides of it. Many came back for the second helping. "Brother Tom" Liddecoat, in charge of the mission, served the portions to his guests.

GIRLS WITH FILM HOPES TAKE STAND

Potential Actresses Say They Failed to Get Jobs After Taking Instruction

Potential motion-picture actresses yesterday thronged Superior Judge Hardy's courtroom where Ulysses M. Dailey and Vincent M. Barnett are on trial charged with filking numerous students out of money guaranteeing to obtain for them lucrative positions in motion pictures at the end of their instruction.

The two defendants are being tried on only five counts of grand theft, although the original complaint charged them with eleven.

Among the important witnesses are Mrs. Frances Redd of 1859 West Seventy-eighth Place who asserts that she lost $260 as a tuition fee without obtaining employment; Miss Irma Cambrussi, 1060 Rosalind avenue; Marion Johnson and Lucille Maag. All the witnesses assert they failed to obtain employment after taking the instruction course.

The first three witnesses called were Miss Veda Klingman of 375 North Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena; Mrs. L. H. Simpson of 705 South Esse street, Compton, and Mrs. Minnie Whitman of 501 South Rampart Boulevard, Los Angeles.

Numerous motion - picture notables, including Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Betty Bronson, Mary Carr, Colleen Moore and John Gilbert are scheduled to be called to testify later.

In deserting one's wife, Superior Judge Archbald pointed out yesterday in the divorce case of Mrs. Adele Sugarman against her husband, Arthur J. Sugarman, one should at least leave her bedding to sleep under. Mrs. Sugarman, through her attorney, Ben Cohen, complained that when Sugarman, a druggist, moved out, he took everything except a bare bedstead and Mrs. Sugarman had to sleep on the floor. Judge Archbald ordered the husband to return the furniture and pay his wife $35 a month.

Old Ironsides Relaunching on Theater Screen

The recent relaunching of Old Ironsides, the gallant sailing frigate Constitution, is among the interesting current events covered in the latest issue of the Universal Newsreel, now being shown in leading Southern California theaters. Equipped with three motors, the historic vessel is shown leaving dock in Boston Harbor and undertaking to the waves. Gustave Namee, talking reporter, gives a description of the proceedings.

Other scenes show a jubilee celebration at Vatican City, an induction ceremony at Fiesta Park, Los Angeles, a review of the Rhineland occupation of French troops, skiing at Mt. Rainier, Wash., and a view of the flight of a blimp around the Chrysler Building, New York.

The schedule may be obtained by phoning Newsreel Desk at Main 3171 and inquiring about Newsreel No. 59.

FIGURES ON DAM TO BE CHECKED

Appointment of Committee Ratified by Grand Jury

Engineers Will be Named to Investigate Charges

Politics in San Gabriel Quiz Denied by Foreman

Continuing its inquiry into charges that Los Angeles county paid for 273,000 yards of earth which was never excavated for the proposed San Gabriel dam, the grand jury yesterday ratified the appointment of a special committee of grand jury members to direct the investigation.

One of the first duties of the committee will be to select a group of competent engineers to survey the abandoned dam site to determine the truth or falsity of the charge. After the engineers have been selected tentatively, their names will be submitted to the grand jury as a whole for approval.

The committee is headed by Thomas O'Neill and other members are A. W. Townsend, C. S. Thompson, H. J. Carr and Frederic I. Morris, grand jury foreman.

In announcing appointment of the committee Foreman Morris made it plain that the grand jury is not entering into politics in its inquiry. He stated that the investigation will be conducted on the assumption that no crime has been committed. The engineers simply will be asked to check the figures and estimates of county engineers to determine whether or not they are accurate. If it is found that a crime has been committed, immediate action will be taken, Morris said.

Following a brief session today concerning an asserted bucket-shop fraud, the grand jury is expected to adjourn for its summer vacation until September 4, next. Special sessions may be held in the interim, however, according to the foreman.

Death Valley Test May Expose Venetian Glass Mystery

Science Checks Sun's Effect on Glass

THE secret of Venetian glass is being sought by Prof. A. L. Tompkins, chemical engineer, in the blazing rays of Death Valley sun. Glass exposed to the ultra-violet of this district turns deep purple or deep amber. A collection of glassware, each carefully labeled as to its composition, is now being given a sun bath at Stove Pipe Wells and the results are being observed carefully.

PILOT WITH BYRD PARTY CITY GUEST

Lieut. Dean Cull Smith, one of the airplane pilots on Rear-Admiral Byrd's Antarctic expedition, which recently returned, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday on a Western Air Express plane en route to Portland to see his mother for the first time in more than two years. Lieut. Smith has been acclaimed by Admiral Byrd as "the greatest all-around pilot in the world."

Lieut. Smith has been presented with the Distinguished Flying Cross by Secretary of War Hurley for his services on the expedition.

He was the first air-mail pilot to make the east-west run from New York to Reno, when the western air-mail service was inaugurated in 1920. He later piloted mail planes on the Pacific Coast until selected by Admiral Byrd to accompany him to the South Pole. He asserts that Admiral Byrd is planning another expedition into unexplored regions.

Lieut. Smith was met at the airport by Robert Breyer, who is a personal friend of Admiral Byrd and who received a wire from the explorer in New York to meet Smith.

Lieut. Smith will remain in Los Angeles several days before going to Portland. After a week with his mother he will return to negotiate for a plane with which to enter the race from Los Angeles to Chicago in connection with the National Air Races the week of August 3.

Picture Prize for Finder of Artist's Wife

Unable to give a financial reward for the one who restores his wife to him, Alver Regli, Los Angeles artist, has offered a painting, either portrait or landscape, to the one who supplies information which will help him locate his Hindu mate, missing since June 20.

The offer and request for aid were filed at the Sheriff's office. Regli believes that possibly she may be in San Francisco. The husband declares that she is fond of beautiful silk things and that she may be working in some establishment of this nature in the Bay City. No probable reason for her disappearance was given the Sheriff's office.

Drink Servers to Face Court

Complaints against twenty-two employees in soft-drink places in Los Angeles were obtained in the City Prosecutor's office yesterday by the Health Department, which charges that the employees violated sanitation laws by failing to sterilize glasses, but simply made a motion under the counter or rinsed them with cold water in order to attend more quickly to the wants of customers.

The defendants are to appear this morning in Municipal Judge Northrup's court and health inspectors will testify against them.

TOO MUCH REMEDY MAY PROVE FATAL

Miss Blanche Berry, 31 years of age, 3118 Maple avenue, a maid, was reported near death last night in General Hospital after drinking an entire bottle of medicine which her physician had prescribed to be taken in doses at hourly intervals. Police Surgeon Kirkpatrick said the woman's illness for which the medicine had been prescribed was a result of drinking wine tonic.

Judge Decides Oil Man Must Pay Alimony

Superior Judge Guerin yesterday ruled that Luther T. Mayo, wealthy oil man and contractor, must continue paying $400 a month to his wife, Marguerite Maloney Mayo, for at least two months more, pending trial of their contested suit for divorce. The alimony provision for the support of the wife and three children was made several weeks ago. Mayo sought to have the provision declared void because Mrs. Mayo failed to follow the court's suggestion that she permit the sale of a $60,000 home she occupies at 330 South Irving Boulevard, and to live in more modest quarters.

The judge continued the case until September 15. Trial of the divorce action has not been set.

Mahl of Berkeley and Mrs. Mahl and Dr. Pelham Edtar of the University of Toronto.

REPORTED CLOSING OF RESTAURANT NOT TRUE

Printed reports to the effect that the Victor Hugo restaurant had closed its doors were denied yesterday by Hugo Aleidis, owner and manager.

"An action is pending in the Supreme Court dissolving the corporation of the Victor Hugo, Inc., and undoubtedly the story originated from this fact," said Mr. Aleidis. "Many friends have made inquiry concerning our status and we therefore desire to let the public know that the Victor Hugo is still operating under the same management which has conducted the restaurant since its opening many years ago."

FUNERAL FOR HAINES WILL BE AT CHURCH

Funeral rites will be conducted at 4 p.m. today in the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, for Harry T. Haines, retired railroad man, who was in charge of the Transportation Building and exhibits at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904.

Mr. Haines came to Los Angeles in 1905 from Springfield, Mo. He died Sunday at his home, 5163 Ellenwood Drive, at the age of 76 years. Besides his widow he leaves a son, M. G. Haines of San Francisco, and two daughters, Mrs. F. F. Stauffer and Mrs. Roy G. Stuart, both of Los Angeles.

JUNIOR CHAMBER NEW MEMBERS WILL MEET

Seventy-five new members of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce will assemble tonight at the Beverly Hills Club. A dinner and meeting will be held under the chairmanship of Director Robert White. These new member meetings are held throughout the year as part of the membership policy. Figures released through Secretary-Manager Rawson show a total membership of 1062. The figures indicate that Los Angeles surpasses any other junior chamber in the United States in numbers.

Dickson, running for the Superior bench, and Senator J. W. McKinley, candidate for State Senator.

Woman Values Canary's Life Above Own

The despondent determination of Mrs. Marie Green, 38-year-old housewife, to end her life yesterday did not prevent her from taking unusual precautions to save the life of her pet canary, for, according to a police report of Mrs. Green's suicide attempt, she first placed the canary's cage in an adjoining room, carefully sealed the cracks of the door and then inserted an open gas tube in her mouth.

She was found lying on the floor of her bedroom in her home at 700 West Seventy-third street late yesterday by her husband when he returned from work. Officers Hopkins and Anderson of the Seventy-seventh-street police station, who were summoned by the husband, removed the woman to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where police surgeons declared her condition is serious.

Although the husband admitted he and his wife had quarreled two days ago, a note written by Mrs. Green asserted that he was not to blame.

Airport Given Police Guards

On motion of Commissioner Walkup the Police Commission yesterday voted to provide extra police protection at the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport from the 27th to the 29th inst., during the arrival of participants in the all-American air derby, which has selected the valley airport as one of its control stops during the flight around the United States.

The action was taken at the request of the directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and Waldo D. Waterman, general manager of the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport, Ltd., who stated that a crowd of between 20,000 and 30,000 will be at the field, and police regulation will be necessary to avert traffic jams and accidents.

Burkhart Trial Resumes Today

Trial of William Burkhart, charged with murdering his wife on the night of March 24, last, will be resumed in Superior Judge McComb's court today. The case was delayed yesterday by other routine matters.

When court opens, evidence is expected to be introduced by Defense Attorneys C. J. Orbison and Ralph Paonessa to show that Burkhart is not the slayer of his wife.

Investigators assert that the crime was discovered when Burkhart asked neighbors to aid him in placing his wife's body in his automobile, stating that she had become unconscious after drinking wine tonic. It was discovered that the woman was dead, however, and police were called.

MIDNIGHT MISSION SERVES GIGANTIC PIE

A pie five feet in diameter and a foot in thickness, was served to more than 400 persons at the Midnight Mission at 9:30 o'clock last night. This super-pie was the gift of Swift & Co. Following a sermon by Dr. E. C. Finkle of Omaha the huge apple tart was carried in and a line of hungry men formed on both sides of it. Many came back for the second helping. "Brother Tom" Liddecoat, in charge of the mission, served the portions to his guests.

GIRLS WITH FILM HOPES TAKE STAND

Potential Actresses Say They Failed to Get Jobs After Taking Instruction

Potential motion-picture actresses yesterday thronged Superior Judge Hardy's courtroom where Ulysses M. Dailey and Vincent M. Barnett are on trial charged with bilking numerous students out of money guaranteeing to obtain for them lucrative positions in motion pictures at the end of their instruction.

The two defendants are being tried on only five counts of grand theft, although the original complaint charged them with eleven.

Among the important witnesses are Mrs. Frances Redd of 1859 West Seventy-eighth Place who asserts that she lost $360 as a tuition fee without obtaining employment; Miss Irma Cambruzzi, 1060 Rosalind avenue; Marion Johnson and Lucille Maag. All the witnesses assert they failed to obtain employment after taking the instruction course.

The first three witnesses called were Miss Veda Klingman of 375 North Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena; Mrs. L. H. Simpson of 705 South Ease street, Compton, and Mrs. Minnie Whitman of 501 South Rampart Boulevard, Los Angeles.

Numerous motion - picture notables, including Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Betty Bronson, Mary Carr, Colleen Moore and John Gilbert are scheduled to be called to testify later.

In deserting one's wife, Superior Judge Archbald pointed out yesterday in the divorce case of Mrs. Adele Sugarman against her husband, Arthur J. Sugarman, one should at least leave her bedding to sleep under. Mrs. Sugarman, through her attorney, Ben Cohen, complained that when Sugarman, a druggist, moved out, he took everything except a bare bedstead and Mrs. Sugarman had to sleep on the floor. Judge Archbald ordered the husband to return the furniture and pay his wife $35 a month.

Old Ironsides Relaunching on Theater Screen

The recent relaunching of the Ironsides, the famous fighting frigate Constitution, is among the interesting current events depicted in the latest issue of the Universal Newsreel, now being shown in leading Southern California theaters. Equipped with the same type of historic vessel is shown being put in dock in Boston Harbor and then taking to the waves. Gunfire by the Namee, talking reporter, gives a description of the ceremonies.

Other scenes show a Sunday celebration at Vatican City, an aviation ceremony at Flagstaff, Ariz., the evacuation of the Rhineland by the troops of French troops, Governor Young dining at St. Mary's Chester, Colo., and the flight of a bi-plane around the Chrysler Building, New York.

The schedule may be obtained by phoning Newsreel Desk at phone 3171 and inquiring about picture No. 56.
